Series: Suldal Norwegian-American Settlement, Juneau County, Wisconsin

Tradition claims that the Lemonweir River was named for a dream. Prior to the War of 1812, an Indian runner was dispatched with a war belt of wampum with a request for the Dakotas and Chippewas to meet at the big bend of the Wisconsin River (Portage). While camped on the banks of the Lemonweir, the runner dreamed that he had lost his belt of wampum at his last sleeping place. On waking in the morning, he found his dream to be a reality and he hastened back to retrieve the belt. During the 1820's, the French-Canadian fur traders called the river, La memoire - the memory.

The Lemonweir rises in the extensive swamps and marshes in Monroe County. The river divides Juneau County into two topographic areas. The region north of the Lemonweir River Valley, which comprises two-thirds of the county, is a nearly level sand plain covered with marshes and swamps. The southern one-third of the county is a rugged, highland plateau, dissected in every direction by valleys and ravines.

The river has given its name to Lemonweir Township, the East Lemonweir Lutheran Church, the Lemonweir Valley Press, etc.

Introduction

The Johannes Larson family is part of the Norwegian-American settlement in southern Juneau County which became known as Suldal. Einer Haugen described it in 1952 as " a small settlement mostly comprised with the triangle formed by the villages of Elroy, Mauston, and New Lisbon, in the townships of [Fountain], Lisbon, Lindina, and especially Plymouth. Plymouth church [located in Lindina], 5 miles west of Mauston, is known in everyday speech as 'Suldal,' because the overwhelming majority of the members came from that place in Norway. Other dialects seem to have been displaced by this one. The youngest generation does not speak Norwegian, but in the middle and oldest generation there are many who can and do. There are 8 Lutheran congregations in the area, divided among 3 pastors; very few Norwegian services are now held. There has been much intermarriage with neighboring Germans. Grain and tobacco are chief crops." (Haugen, Einer, The Norwegian Language in America, vol. 2, pp. 611-12).

Suldal to Suldal:

Suldal is a rural district in Rogaland County in western Norway. Originally, Suldal was the name of the Lutheran church parish in that area; then a government designated area (commune) roughly equivalent to a township in the United States. The Old Norse form of the name was Suladair. Sula means "pillar" or "column" and refers to the mountain pass, Suldalsporten in Suldalsvatnet (Lake Suldal). Dair means "valley." Before 1891, the name was written "Suledal."

Suldalsvatnet (Lake Suldal) is the 6th deepest lake in Norway. The 17-mile long lake is the headwaters of the river, Suldalslaagen. Suldalslaagen or locally, Laagen, is the river that runs through Suldal. The 14-mile long river runs from Lake Suldal southwest to the village of Sand, where it empties into the Sandfjorden. Laagen is one of Norway's most famous Atlantic salmon rivers, with a fishing history dating back hundreds of years.

Suldalsporten in Suldalsvatnet (Lake Suldal) (Wikipedia)

Suldalsosen is a village in Suldal located on the northern shore of the southwestern end of the lake, Suldalsvatnet. Suldalsosen historically was a starting point for boat traffic on the lake. Suldal Church is located here. The present church was built in 1852 and seats about 600 people. The first church on this site was probably built in the 11th century. The original church was rebuilt over the years. In 1640 (17th century), a church was built that served the valley until 1852, when it was deemed too small and was replaced.

Norwegian Settlement in Juneau County, Wisconsin

Hjalmer Holand wrote in 1908, "All the blue-tinted hills which a person sees to the south of Camp Douglas, New Lisbon and Mauston are crawling with Norwegians. The settlement includes some 500 people from Upper Telemark and 1200 from around Suldal in Rogaland." The settlement spilled over into Clifton Township in Monroe County. The settlement in Greenwood Township in Vernon County had close ties because they shared pastors with the various Norwegian Lutheran churches in Juneau County.

The connection with Suldal, Norway began in 1850 with the coming of Johannes Larson's great uncle, Knut Ormson, to settle in Lindina Township. A few more families from Suldal came to Lindina during the 1850's: 1852 - Gunder Johnson Bratveit and family; 1855 - Gabriel Oddson Tornes, Lars Olson Austara and family; 1857 - Askild Jacobson Mokliev and family; and 1858 - Gabriel Johnson Lunde and family.

During the Civil War era, a significant number of families from Suldal came to Juneau County. Some of those who have been identified with their dates of emigration include: 1860/1 - John Johnson Lunde and family; 1861 - Gabriel Haavorson Veka and family, Nels Nelson Steinbru and family, and Jon Tormodson Quammen; 1862 - Even Evenson Austara and family, Halvor Halvorson Veka, Ole Nelson Kleiva and family, Bjedne Eivindson Austara and family; 1863 - Ole Halvorson Kolbeinstveit and family, and Marta Nelson.

Larson Family

In 1864, Johannes Larson's grandfather, Lars Osmundson, a renter on the Bakken subfarm under Guggedal and a former school teacher, led a party of 50 people from Suldal. He is described as an all-around man with an out-going disposition, good at composing verse. Snatches of songs he wrote could still be heard in Suldal in 1908. The group included - Lars Osmundson Guggedal and family, Halvor Halvorson Steinbru, Tormod Albertson Oystad Hauen and family, Albert Johnson Kjetilstad, Ole Halvorson Kalhagen, Lars Thorsen Mogleiv and family, widow Kari Nelson and family, Nels Olson, widow Ingeborg Ormson, Odd Oddson Stuv, Osmund Vintrhus, and Bjedne Vintrhus and family. They came on two sailing ships, Hebe and Iris, called barks because of the way their sails were rigged. Captain Olsen of the Hebe and Captain Larsen of the Iris, left Stavanger on May 4, 1864 and arrived in Quebec on June 2, 1864. Traveling from there to Chicago, they were settled in Juneau County by June of 1864.

Organization of this genealogy

This family history is organized by generation. The Larson family can be traced back to Oluf paa Sukka in Suldal, Norway. He is number 1. His son, Aslak, second generation, is number 2. I have put the name of the farm that a man was born on or came from in parentheses and the name of the farm where he lived or worked after that. For example, Daniel Larsson (Sukka) Herabakka. The numbers that are assigned to each descendant that is traced do not correspond to the generation. These numbers depend on the number of children in each generation. Only those descendants traced receive a number. Unused numbers allow for additional family members to be traced if more information is found at a later date without having to renumber the entire genealogy. I have replicated the descendant chart with each direct ancestor of Johannes Larson. This helps the user to see where that ancestor fits in the family story. The ancestors of the wives are included to give a fuller picture of the Larson family and to show the many cousin marriages which occurred in the isolated Suldal valley.

The Name Problem

The last name in America is a family name handed down from one generation to another. But the Norwegian immigrants did not have a stabilized system of family names. The usual means of identification were: the given or first name; the given name of the father with -son or -datter added; and the name of the farm on which the person lived. However, it must be remembered that the farm name was permanently attached to the farm, not to the owner or renter. When my ancestor John Anderson moved from the Kamerud farm to the Onsager farm his name changed from John Anderson Kamerud to John Anderson Onsager.

Norwegians had the custom of handing down first names in a certain fixed order. Usually the oldest son of the family was named after the father's father and the oldest daughter after the father's mother. The next oldest son and daughter were named after the mother's father and mother. Subsequent children were named after other family members. Many times when a man's first wife died, the first daughter by his second wife was named for his first wife.

Farm names in Norway either describe the physical features of the land or tell about the human labor or religious practices on it. Since Norway is mountainous, many of the farm names reflect the rugged land. For example, Bakka – hill, berg – rock, botn – bottom of a fjord or valley end, bru – bridge, eid – isthmus, elv – river, fjell – mountain, fjord – long, narrow inlet, foss – waterfall, haug – mound, -heim – home, hus – house, -land – land, li – a wooded or grassy hillside (became Lee), lunde – grove, mo/moe – moor/meadow, mork/mark – field, myr – swamp, nes – promontory, os – mouth of a river, sand – sand, sjo – sea, skeid – flat place, stein – stone, stoa – riverbank, teigan – parcel of land, tun- farmyard, ur – scree, vaag –bay/harbor, vik – bay/inlet, vin – grassy plain, oy – island, aa – river.

Some were taken from the Old Norse religion names, examples are Hov, a place of worship or a pagan temple or Onsager. Oen is derived from Odin and ager or aker means field, "Odin or Woden's grainfield." Odin was the one-eyed god of war, wisdom, death, and magic in Norse mythology.

In the eighth and ninth generations, the direct paternal ancestors of Johannes Larson were renting husmann places (subfarms or cottages) on the Guggedal main farm (they were descendants of younger sons, the oldest son inherited the farm). Husmann places were with and without land. For these Larson ancestors, the subfarm is included in their name: Osmund Larsson Boen (subfarm), Guggedal (main farm) and Lars Osmundson Bakken (subfarm), Guggedal (main farm). Sometimes the immigrants used the main farm for a last name and sometimes they used the subfarm name, or they might decide to use Larson or Osmundson, etc.

In America, it was not uncommon for a Norwegian immigrant to be known by three names. First he would have his church name. This would be purely Norwegian and often would include the farm name (Lars Osmundson Guggedal). Then there would be his American name such as Larson, Nelson, Anderson, Johnson, or Olson. Lastly among his intimate friends and acquaintances generally he might have a more familiar name such as "Black Ole" or "Little Hans." Some decided there were too many Olsons or Larsons and took the farm name. Ole J. Onsager used the name Ole Johnson in the 1870 census but soon settled on Ole J. Onsager (Johnson became his middle name).

Because the Norwegians in Norway didn't have set last names until about 1900, many of the early immigrants struggled to choose a name. Church records listed them sometimes with the first name of their father with son added and sometimes with the farm name. In some cases, members of the same family took different last names. Many times, the early records would list a woman's maiden name as Olsdatter. In later years, her maiden name would be listed as Olson. Gerhard Naeseth, the founder of the Vesterheim Genealogy Library in Madison, Wisconsin, indexed his research to identify every Norwegian who came to America before 1850 by first name because of the difficulty in locating a person in the records by the variations of last names. For example, Bjedne Osmundson Vetrhus, an early settler in Juneau County and a Larson relative, used several names. They included variations of his first name, Bjarne, Bjorne, and Barney and variant spellings of the farm name, Vinorhus and Winterhus. He also appears in the records as Osmundson. His headstone has Bjarne Winterhus on it. Several of his children took the last name of Benson (Bjarneson).

Sources for this Genealogy

When I first became interested in my Norwegian ancestry, I interviewed my Grandma Onsager and began meeting or corresponding with my grandfather's first and second cousins. The Anason family was a rich source of information. When my interest expanded to all of the Norwegians who settled in Juneau County and Greenwood Township in Vernon County, Wisconsin, I developed a network of people who corresponded with me via letter or email.

Gamle Suldal; Gards- og Aettesoge, by Hallvard M. Hoftun (Suldal Kommune, 1972) and Sukka - Aetta; Olav i Sukka i Suldal og Hans Etterslekt by Rudolf Dreyer (Rogaland Historie og Aettesogelag) are detailed family histories of Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway. Gamle Suldal is organized by farm and those who worked the farms. Sukka - Aetta starts with Olav of Sukka and traces ten generations of his descendents. Gamle Suldal is easier to use but does not contain information about those who moved to neighboring townships or counties. Sukka - Aetta contains much information about those who lived in Sand Township, Rogaland County and Roldal Township, Hordaland County. Roldal was a subparish of the Suldal Parish from some time before the Reformation in 1536 until May 22, 1885 and there were many marriages back and forth. The Roldal Bygdebok is useful in finding information about the settlers from Roldal. Bygdasoga for Sand i Ryfylke by Amund Salvesson is a history of the farms in Sand Township, Rogaland County. It is of limited use in tracing families.

The Norwegian censuses of 1801 and 1865 are very useful for completing the story of the settlers in Norway. They can be used to verify information in the bygdeboks or locate families missed in the bygdeboks. Digitalarkivet (Digital Archives) from the National Archives of Norway is a free online resource that provides the 1660 censuses, the 1701 census, the 1801, 1865, and 1875 censuses and now includes the digitized parish records.

FamilySearch.org is a free, online service that provides Norwegian birth, marriage and death records. This service supplements other records sometimes with original records and other times verification of poorly transcribed records.

The United States censuses have been indexed for Norwegians in 1850, 1860 and 1880 and are included in the National Archives of Norway site (Digitalarkivet). All of the US censuses have been indexed by Ancestry.com and FamilySearch.org. The addition of the 1870 census and 1900 to 1930 fills in information about the various Norwegian American settlements.

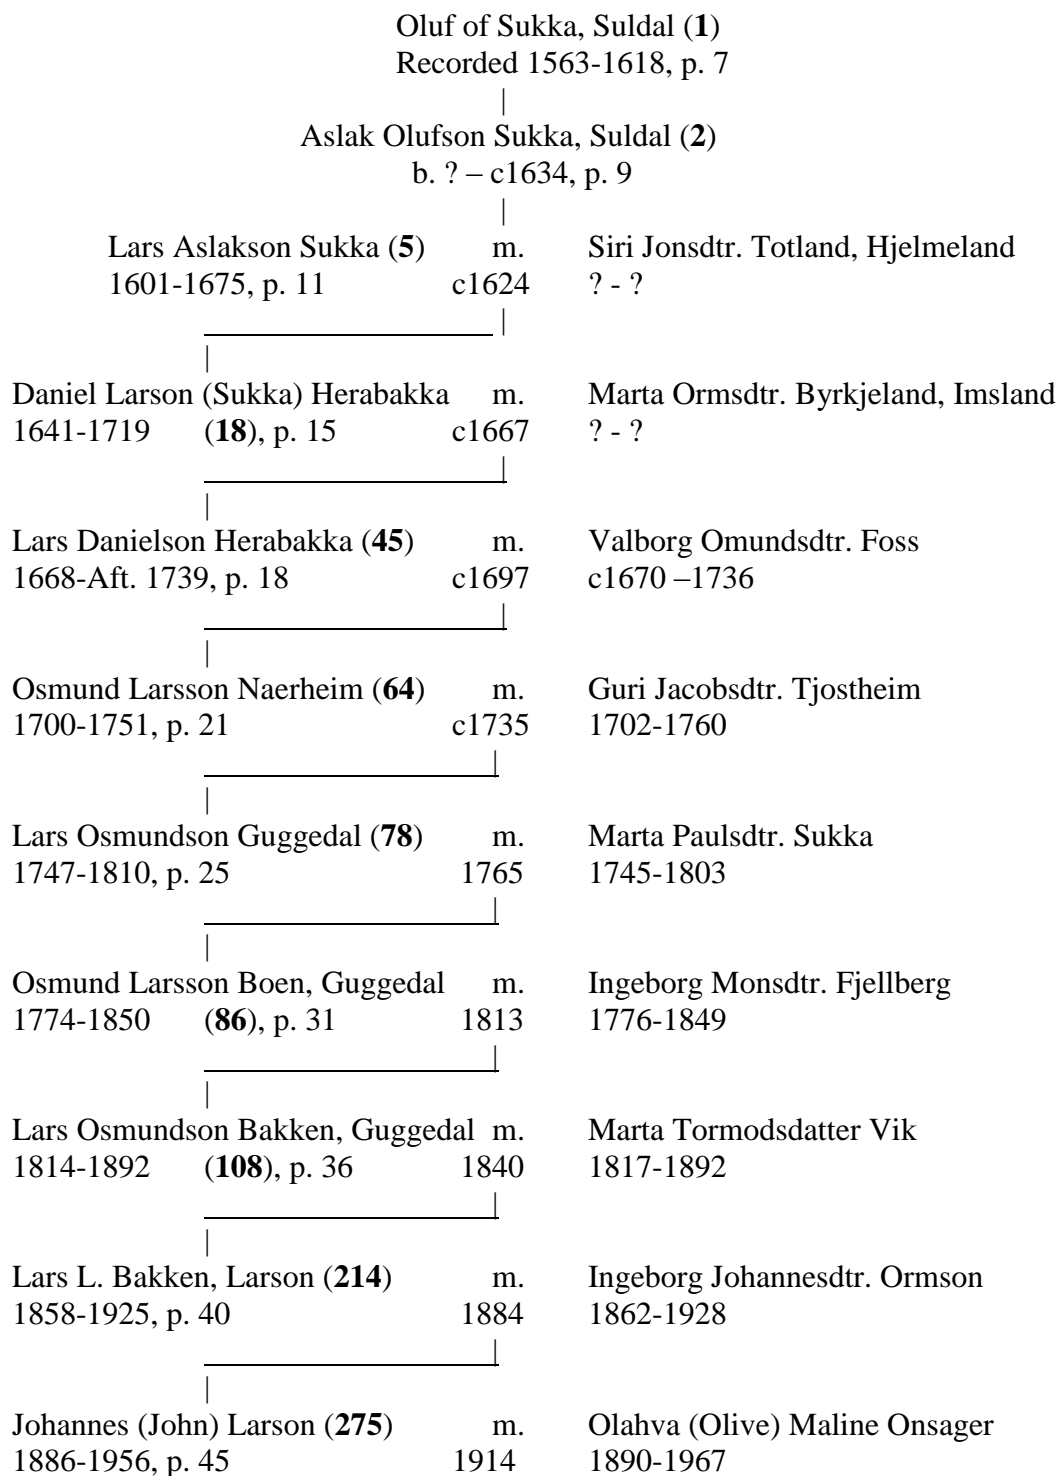

“The History of Juneau County” by Joseph Hanson, a series of articles, which appeared in the Mauston Star in 1888 and 1889, provides some information on when and where the earliest settlers located. The Map of Juneau County, Wisconsin, 1876, G. V. Nash and F. B. Morgan, compilers & publishers is also very useful in determining location of the farms of early settlers. The Plat Book of Juneau County, Wisconsin, C. M. Foote, Pub. Co., 1898 and the Atlas and Farmers Directory of Juneau County, Wisconsin, St. Paul, MN, The Farmer and Webb Publishing Company, 1914 are extremely useful in determining the extent of the Norwegian settlement at its peak around 1900. The 1914 atlas and directory is an excellent source on information for the names of wives and children and how long each farmer had lived in the county.

The Norwegian Connection: The Story of the Ormson and Knutson Families and Our Link to the Past by Don Jensen (Kenosha, 1974?) provided invaluable information. Norwegian Immigrants to the United States by Gerhard B. Naeseth, v. 1, 1825-1843, Madison, 1993 & v. 2, 1844-1846, ed. by Blaine Hedberg, 1997 has been useful in identifying several the earliest settlers to Juneau County.

The Cemetery Books published by the Juneau County Genealogy Society are referred to by number. For example, JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 302. These books are invaluable sources of family information. They are supplemented by the online resource, Findagrave.com. This Internet web site is a free site where researchers and family members contribute burial locations and sometimes pictures of headstones, photos of the person buried at that location, obituaries, and family stories worldwide. East Lemonweir Church records are ELCR; Juneau Co death records (JDR); Juneau Co marriage records (JMR); Fountain Church records (FCR); Plymouth Church records (PCR).

In addition, I have published an online record of the Norwegians who settled in Juneau County, Wisconsin beginning in 1850 and ending in 1950, The Juneau County Bygdebok, <https://digitalcommons.andrews.edu/pubs/146/>.

THE ANCESTRY OF JOHANNES (JOHN) LARSON

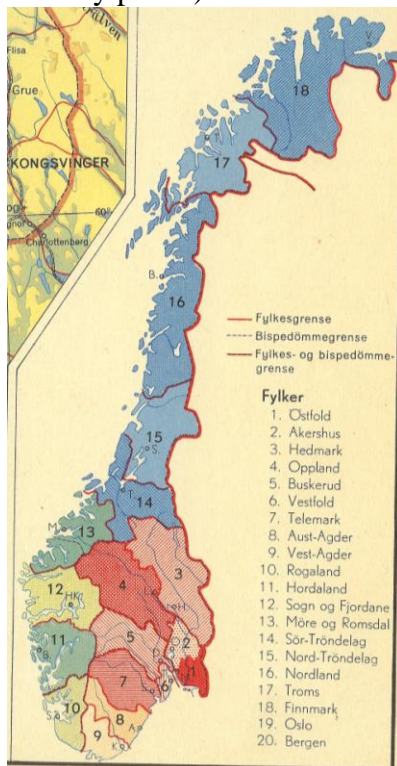

FIRST GENERATION

Oluf paa Sukka

1 The Larson family can be traced in a direct line back to Oluf of (paa) the Sukka farm in Suldal Parish, Rogaland County, Norway and an unknown wife. Oluf or Ola was on the Sukka farm as early as 1563 (Gamle Suldal, p. 470). The name "Sukka" is connected with the verb, "sokkva", to sink and means "a depression" in the terrain. In the 1600's, this farm was entered with the under farm or sub-farm, "Stuv" meaning "cut off mound or mountain" and "Meland" - the farm in between.

Archeological evidence shows that hunters and fishermen from the west coast came into Suldal during the Stone Age - 4,000 years ago. Through the Bronze Age, the last 500 years before Christ, there were most likely no permanent settlers in Suldal. In the third century after Christ, the first proof was found of permanent settlements in Suldal. Grave finds from that time tell their own tale of a strong movement into the "bygda" (community/parish).

Rogaland County is no. 10 on map

Suldal Parish in southern Norway; located northeast of Ryfylke on map

Cappelen's Atlas, Oslo, Norway, 1953, pp. 5, 13

Before 1600, there is very little information to find regarding the farms in Suldal and the people who lived on them. A tax list from 1519 tells that in that year there were 26 men on 19 farms who were taxed. In 1521, there were 30 men and 2 women on 21 farms. In 1563, when Oluf of Sucke (Sukka) first appears, there were 32 taxed farmers on 26 farms.

Oluf's birth and death dates are unknown. He was mentioned as an old man in 1618. His wife's name and other details are unknown. Most of the Norwegian settlers of Juneau County who came from Suldal Township in Rogaland County can trace their ancestry back to "Oluf paa Sukka." The two sources I have for this family give two different lists of children. However, the list in Sukka Ætta (family or lineage) appears to be incorrect (Gamle Suldal, p. 470; Sukka Ætta, pp. 5-9).

Known children from Gamle Suldal:

- 2 Aslak, b. ?, Suldal (Larson ancestor).
- 3 (Magla) Olsdtr., b. ?, Suldal; m. Levar E. Laurhus, Stråpa.
- 4 dau, unknown name, b. ?, Suldal; m. Tormod Saksbjørnson Steinbru.

Known children from Sukka Ætta:

- 2 Aslak, b. ?, Suldal (Larson ancestor).
Ragnild, b. ?, Suldal; m. Ånon Leversen Bleskestad (appears to be an error, Ånon was the son of Magla Olsdtr. and Levar E. Laurhus, Stråpa, see # 3 above, Gamle Suldal, pp. 373, 681) .
dau, unknown name, b. ?, Suldal; m. Jens Rasmussen Skeie, Sand. This daughter is listed as a daughter of Olsdatter and Tormod Saksbjørnson Steinbru, see # 4 above, Gamle Suldal, p. 480)

Aslak Olufson/Olson Sukka

2 Aslak, the son of Oluf of Sukka (1), was named on the Sukka farm in the Suldal Parish from 1577 to 1645.

Aslak Olson's bumerke (a mark used by an illiterate person to sign a document or brand personal property) dates from 1619.

Gamle Suldal, p. 705

His wife's name is unknown. Aslak and his father also had an interest in the Oystad farm in the Suldal Parish. Aslak operated the Sukka farm with his son, Lars, from about 1624? to 1635 when Lars operated the farm alone.

Sukka. Bruk 1 t. v. og bruk 2 og 3 (Stuv) t. h.
Sukka Farm (Hoftun, Gamle Suldal, p. 468)

Aslak probably died about 1634 (Gamle Suldal, p. 470; Sukka Ætta, pp. 5-9).

Children:

5 Lars, b. 1601, Sukka farm, Suldal Parish (Larson ancestor).

SECOND GENERATION

(Magla) Olufsdatter/Olsdatter Sukka

3 Magla?, the daughter of Oluf of Sukka (1), was born in Suldal. She was married to Levar E. Laurhus. Levar was a farmer on Laurhus, a subfarm of Stråpa, in 1603 and then forward until 1623 when he probably died.

Levar's bumerke (a mark used by an illiterate person to sign a document or brand personal property) dates from 1619.

Gamle Suldal, p. 704

Magla? was probably born in the 1580s. Her name is speculated because of a record that Magla Olsdtr. was a sister of Aslak Olson Sukka. She was probably married about the time Levar took over Laurhus in 1603. Her death date is unknown (Gamle Suldal, pp. 373, 470).

Children:

6 Ånon, b. ?, Laurhus, Stråpa farm, Suldal Parish.

7 Marta, b. c1601-6, Laurhus, Stråpa.

Siri, b. 1610-15?, Laurhus, Stråpa.

Åse, b. 1610-15?, Laurhus, Stråpa. Either Siri or Åse was probably married to Eiluf Tovson Roalkvam. Eiluf, born in 1601 and probably died in 1674, was married to a Levarsdatter from Laurhus, Stråpa. They had sons, Sjur, b. 1630, Tov, b. 1643, and Levar, b. 1644 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 373, 665).

SECOND GENERATION

Unknown name Olufsdatter/Olsdatter Sukka

4 Olufsdatter was probably born on the Sukka farm, Suldal Parish. She was married to Tormod Saksbjørnson (Bakka) Steinbru. Tormod was the son of Saksbjørn Nilsson and Guro Haldorsdatter.

Tormod took over the Steinbru farm from his brother, Sjur, who died in 1577 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 455, 470, 480).

Children:

Daughter, b. ?, Steinbru; m. Jens Rasmussen; Jens was known to have operated the Steinbru farm from 1617-19; they moved to Skeie in Sand Parish, Rogaland Co.

THIRD GENERATION

Lars Aslakson Sukka

5 Lars, the son of Aslak Olufson Sukka (2) and an unknown mother, was born in 1601 on the Sukka farm in Suldal, Norway. His name appears in the records as Lars, Laus, Laust, and Lauritz. He leased an abandoned place on the Stuv subfarm in 1623. Lars then operated Sukka farm #1 with his father, Aslak Olufson. From 1635 on, he operated the Sukka farm alone.

Lars was married about 1624 to Siri Jonsdtr. Tøtland, Hjelmeland. Lars was about 23. Siri was probably about 18. Siri was the daughter of Jon Olsen Tøtland (d. 1625, Foss) and his second wife, Margrete Ingebretsdatter.

Jon Olson Tøtland moved his family to the Foss* farm in Hjelmeland. Jon Olsen's property was probated at Foss in 1625. Siri had a brother, Odd Jonsen Helmervig. Hjelmeland is a Kommune (former Parish) in Rogaland County. *Foss means waterfall in Norwegian.

Laust Aslachsen (Lars Aslakson), 63, living on the Suche (Sukka) farm, is listed in the 1665 census for Suldal local parish, Suldal Parish, Stavanger (present Rogaland) County with his son, Daniel Laustsøn (Larson), 24, husmand (renter/cotter), Niels Thormosøn, 20, and husmand, Michell Andersøn (Census 1663-66 for Stavanger Amt III, Digitalarkivet (Digital Archives of Norway), <http://gda.arkivverket.no/cgi-win/webcens.exe?slag=visbase&sidnr=1&filnamn=bd17MT60&gardpostnr=1182&personpostnr=4523&merk=4523#ovre>, accessed 3/28/2018).

Laust Asachsen (Lars Aslakson), 64, leaseholder on the Suche farm, farm rent, 2 løber, farm unit tax, 3,5 phd, is listed in the 1666 census for Vinnie Sogn (local parish), Suldal Parish, Stavanger (present Rogaland) County, Norway with Daniel Laust (Larson), 25, leaseholder, farm unit tax, 2,5 phd, Dreng (boy), Michal Andersen, 16, knecter (young man), Poel Knudsen, 17, husmand, Thosten Ingelsen, 51, husmand, Lars Jacobsen, 25, and husmend's sønner (son), Kleng Thostensen, 10 (Census 1663-66 for Stavanger Amt III, Digitalarkivet, <http://gda.arkivverket.no/cgi-win/webcens.exe?slag=visbase&sidnr=1&filnamn=bd17MT60&gardpostnr=1310&personpostnr=5305&merk=5305#ovre>, accessed 3/28/2018).

Lars died in 1675 on the Sukka farm at about age 73. Siri's death date is unknown (Gamle Suldal, pp. 94, 470; Sukka Ætta, pp. 9-19).

Kari the daughter of Jakob Jonson Tjostheim and Marta Rasmusdr. Kvame, Hjelmeland, was born perhaps in 1700 on the Sukka farm (see family #64).

Paul and Kari had three children, Ola, b. 1737, Sukka, Valborg, b. 1740, Sukka, and Marta, b. 1745, Sukka (Gamle Suldal, pp. 268, 471-2).

Lars and Marta lived, first, on the Nærheim farm. Lars exchanged farms with Jon Kolbeinson in 1780 and owned the Guggedal farm until his son, Paul, took it over in 1803.

The Guggedal loft, dating from 1281, is the oldest secular building in Rogaland County. A loft is a log store-house with two stories. It has been moved from the Guggedal farm to the courtyard of the Kolbeinstvet farm, part of the Ryfylke Museum, depicting an 1850s farm in Suldal (www.ryfylkemuseet.no).

Marta died in 1803 at about age 58 and was buried on February 10, 1803. Her property was probated on May 11, 1803. Lars died in 1810 at about age 63 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 152-3, 171-2, 561; Sukka Ætta, pp. 64, 88, 113-4).

EIGHTH GENERATION

Paul Larsson Guggedal

84 Paul Larsson, the son of Lars Osmundson (Naerheim) Guggedal (78) and Marta Paulsdr. Sukka (78), was born in 1770 in the Suldal Parish. He is listed in the 1801 Norwegian census for the Guggedal farm with his parents as a 31 year-old, unmarried school teacher. Paul was married in 1805 in the Suldal Parish to Marta Torsdr. Valskaar. Paul was about 35 and Marta was about 20.

Marta, the daughter of Tor Ingvarson (Braatveit) Valskaar (1729-1821) and his third wife, Borghild Olsdr. (Fisketjorn) Tengesdal, Sand, was born in 1785 in Suldal Parish (Gamle Suldal, p. 214).

As the oldest son, Paul inherited the Guggedal farm. He took over operation of the farm when his mother died in 1803.

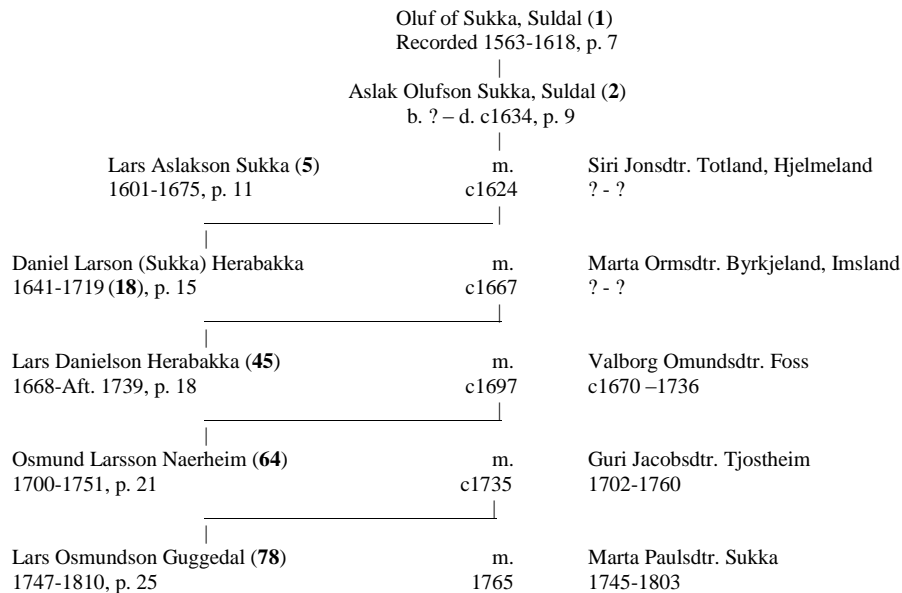

Another view of the Guggedal loft/storehouse (1281 AD)

Paul and Marta operated the farm until 1837, when their oldest son, Lars, took it over. Paul died in 1850 and Marta died in 1870 (Gamle Suldal, p. 213-14, 561).

EIGHTH GENERATION

Osmund Larsson Bøen, Guggedal

86 Osmund, the son of Lars Osmundson Guggedal (78) and Marta Paulsdr. Sukka (see family #78), was born in 1774 in Suldal, Norway. He is listed as a 27 year old in poor health living with parents on the Guggedal farm in 1801. Osmund was married in 1813 to Ingeborg Monsdtr. Fjellberg. He was about 39 and Marta was about 37.

Marriage record, p. 80, Church book, Suldal local parish, 1800-1816, Digitalarkivet

Ingeborg, the daughter of Mons, was born in 1776 probably in Rogaland County, Norway. She may have simply been working on the Fjellberg farm. No record can be found of her there.

Osmund's brother, Paul, inherited the Guggedal farm. Osmund was a tenant farmer on the Bøen subfarm/husmann place on the Guggedal farm.

EIGHTH GENERATION

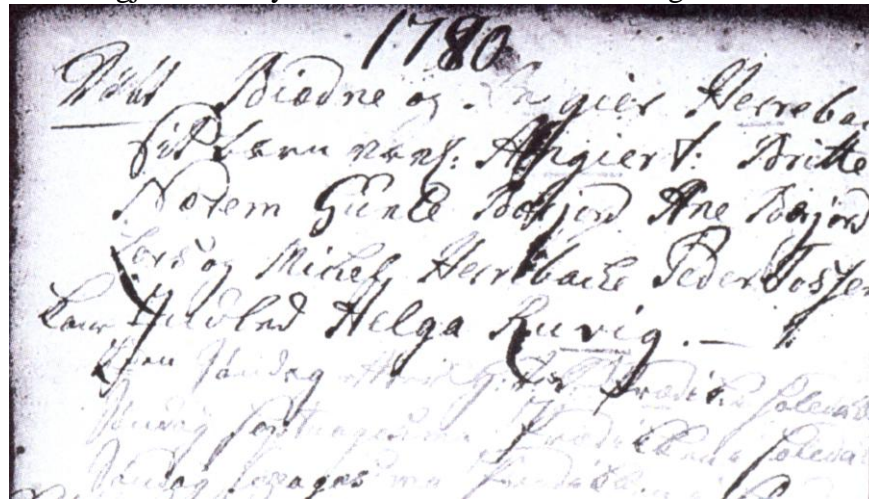

Osmund Osmundson Vetrhus

94 Osmund, the son of Osmund Rasmusson (Herabakke) Vik (80) and Kari Tormodsdr. Borkjenes (71), was born in 1782 on the Vik farm. He purchased Vetrhus farm 2 in 1811 from his uncle (his mother's brother), Lars Tormodson (Borkjenes) Vetrhus. Osmund was married, first, on October 14, 1813 in the Suldal local parish to Angjer Bjednesdr. Satke/Bakke? (see handwritten record below).

Marriage record, Suldal local parish, 1800-1816, digitized parish books, Digitalarkivet

Angjer, the daughter of Bjedne, was born in 1780 probably in the Suldal Parish. She has not been positively identified in Gamle Suldal. A possible record of her baptism is found in the Suldal local parish church book: Biedne and Angjer Herabakke, baptized a daughter named Angjer in 1780 (Suldal local parish, 1777-1780, digitized parish books, Digitalarkivet). In Gamle Suldal, a Bjorn Pederson (Vik) Herabakke on page 94, married Angjer Jakobsdr. Prestegard, Roldal as his third wife about 1777. In 1780, they had a daughter named Angjer. Possibly the record in Gamle Suldal is garbled in some way.

Osmund and Angjer had four children born between 1814 and 1823. Angjer died in 1840 at about 60. Osmund was married, second, in 1842, Suldal Parish, to widow Gyri Nilsdr. Tufteskog. Gyri, the daughter of Nils Nilson Bleskestad (1768-c1859) and Helga Torjusdr. Bleskestad (1769-c1859), was born in 1792.

Osmund died in 1844. Gyri was married, third, to Odd Oddson Bordalen, Lali. Odd, the son of Odd Tjerandson Djuvik, Guggedal and Brita Bjornsdr. Austara, was born in 1778/81 and died in 1857. Gyri's death date is unknown (Gamle Suldal, pp. 94, 389, 557, 564, 584-5, 677, 685).

NINTH GENERATION

Lars Osmundson Bakken Guggedal

108 Lars, the son Osmund Larsson Boen, Guggedal (86) and Ingeborg Monsdatter Fjellberg, was born at Boen, Guggedal on February 5, 1814. He was baptized on Pentecost, May 29, 1814. On June 16, 1840, Lars married Marta Tormodsatter Vik. Marta, the daughter of Tormod Osmundson Vik and Marta Oddsdr. Steine, was born on March 30, 1817 (April 16, 1817, JDR, 2-61) in Suldal, Norway.

Lars rented the Bakken husmann place/subfarm on the Guggedal main farm.

35. Lars Osmundson, frå Bøen, Guggedal (32 a), f. 1814.

 f. Kari f. 1855. g. Lars f. 1858. h. Lars f. 1862.

Lars Osmundson var skoleholder ei tid, og budde på husmannssplasset Bakken. I 1864 reiste huslyden til Amerika. — I „Ætt og Heim” 1967 er det prenta eit lengre brev, dagsett 5. januar 1865, som han skreiv heim til Peder Olson Tjøstheim. Her gjev han ei interessant skildring av reisa inn i det nye landet, prisar og levevilkår. m.m.

Gamle Suldal, p. 566

Lars was a schoolteacher for a time. He was an all-around man, good at composing verse, and an outgoing disposition. Snatches of songs Lars wrote could still be heard in Suldal in 1908. He lived on the Bakken farm until April 1864 when he led a group of 50 people from Suldal to America.

The group of immigrants sailed from Stavanger on May 4 on the barks Hebe (Capt. Tønnes Olsen) and Iris (Capt. O. Larsen) to Quebec.

This vessel is a typical Bark. The reason why this ship is called a bark is the way it is rigged. It has three masts, with the foremast and mainmast square rigged and the mizzenmast fore-and-aft rigged. It wasn't unusual for Barks to be re-rigged as Ships or vice-versa. A "bark" rigged vessel, could sail with fewer crew members than the "ship" rigged vessel (Solem, Swiggum, & Austheim emigration ship index, www.norwayheritage.com).

The two ships crossed the ocean in a racing spirit. Although the Iris was a newer ship and arrived in Quebec earlier (Hebe built in 1851 and Iris built in 1852) (both ships are listed as arriving on June 2), the captain of the Hebe “knew the ropes” and sailed from Quebec for Chicago two days earlier. The ships crossed in 29 days which is listed as the third fastest crossing of an immigrant sailing ship from Norway between 1840 and 1874 in the Solem, Swiggum & Austheim emigration ship index. The average crossing took 53 days. The fastest was 25 days and the longest took up to 100 days.

While in Chicago, the interpreter advised reaching Mauston in south central Wisconsin by way of Duluth, Minnesota and the Great Lakes. Lars had the idea that a shorter land route could be followed. He had a rather heated discussion with the interpreter. Curious bystanders settled the argument in the favor of Lars and drove the interpreter from the depot (Osmund Larson obit, New Lisbon, Aug 19, 1926; Solem, Swiggum, & Austheim emigration ship index, www.norwayheritage.com).

The family arrived in Mauston on Saturday morning, June 10, 1864. They settled in Lisbon Township in June 1864 and joined the East Lemonweir Church in November 1864. Lars declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on December 3, 1864 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 389, 566; Sukka-Aetta, pp. 187, 248; Holand, Hjalmar R., De norske settlementers historie, Ephraim, Wis., 1908, chap 20; ELCR; JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Lars Osmanson, 56, b. Norway, married, a farmer with $500 in real estate and $180 in personal property, is listed as head of household #20/20 in the 1870 census for Lisbon Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with Martha, 53, b. Norway, keeping house, Esbon (f), 24, b. Norway, keeping house, Martha, 21, b. Norway, Thomas, 18, b. Norway, Carry, 16, b. Norway, Lasse (m), 11, b. Norway, and Lars, 7, b. Norway. Their post office was in New Lisbon. All of the children except Thomas attended school.

TENTH GENERATION

Lars L. Bakken Larson

214 Lars, the son of Lars Osmundson Bakken, Guggedal (108) and Marta Tormodsatter Vik, was born on the Bakken rental place on the Guggedal farm in Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway on May 30, 1858 and came to America with his parents in 1864. A farmer living in Lindina Township, he was married on April 3, 1884 in Lisbon Township by Rev. M. P. Ruh to Ingeborg Johannesdr. Ormson, his sixth cousin. They were both residents of Lindina Township. The witnesses were T. L. Bakken and John Ormson (ELCR; Juneau Co Mar Rec).

Ingeborg, the daughter of Johannes Mo Ormson and Anna Jonsdr. Kvaestad, was born in in Suldal, Norway on July 23, 1861 and came to America with her parents in 1869.

Ormson Genealogy

Orm Torson Mo, the son of Tore Ormson Hamre, Roldal (c1750-1791) and Disa Knutsdr. Rabba, Roldal (1742-?), was born on the Haaranes farm in 1780/81 in Roldal Township in Hordaland County, Norway, a district directly north of Suldal Township. His family descended from Oluf paa Sukka, who lived in Suldal in 1563 (see chart - Ancestry of Orm Torson Mo below) (Rudolf Dreyer, Sukka-Aetta). Orm came to Suldal and married his sixth cousin, Ingeborg Larsdatter on November 8, 1812.

Ingeborg, the daughter of Lars Pederson Vinje (1765-1798) and Mari Hansdatter (1761-1831), was born in 1791 in Suldal. Her father was from Suldal and was descended from Oluf paa Sukka and her mother from Arendal, a city in Aust-Agder County, Norway. Lars got a lease to the Nedre Moen husmann place on the Vinje farm from the parish pastor in 1791. He died when Ingeborg was seven and his widow married in the Suldal Parish to Johannes Anfinnson Steine in 1799. They moved to the Steine farm and Ingeborg's uncle, Peder Pederson, a brother of Lars, took over the Nedre Moen husmann place at Vinje.

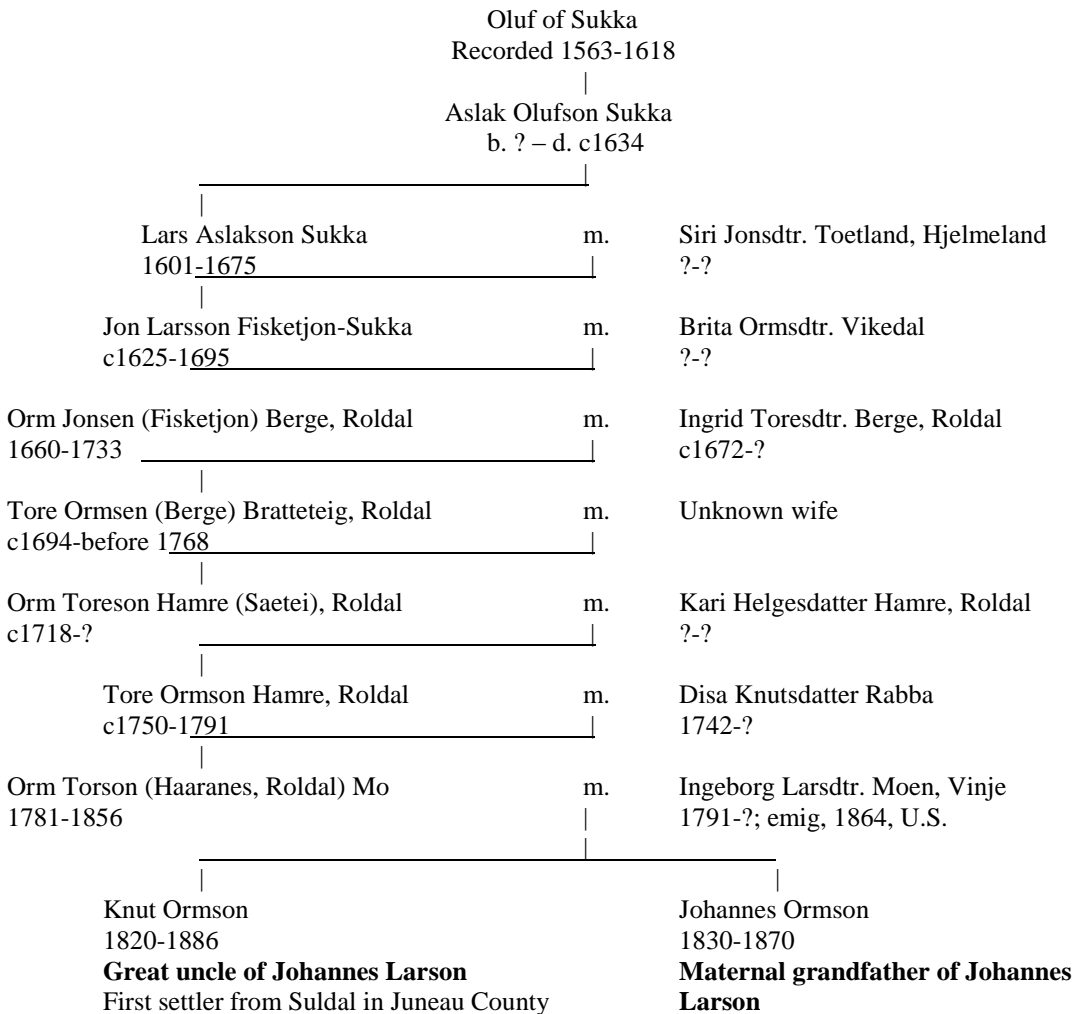

Orm and Ingeborg lived on the Haugen husmann rental place on the Mo farm in Suldal, then in the amt (county) of Stavanger (now Rogaland). Orm died in 1856 after 44 years of marriage.

Ingeborg emigrated to America in 1864 with her daughter, Disa. She was listed as Isabelle Ormson in Lindina Township in the 1870 census and was living with her widowed daughter-in-law, Hanna (Anna) Johnson. Anna was the widow of Johannes Ormson (see below) (Gamle Suldal, pp. 107, 167, 248, 319; Sukka Aetta, pp. 107, 180, 277; Roldal Bygdebok, pp. 370, 559).

ANCESTRY OF ORM TORSON MO

Roldal Stave Church built in the 11th century. A silver case donated in 1704 included a plea to save the farmers from the wolves who were killing their cattle (Norway's Stave Churches; Architecture, History and Legends, p. 32)

Johannes Mo Ormson, the son of Orm Torson Mo and Ingeborg Larsdatter Moen, Vinje, was born in Suldal Parish, Rogaland County, Norway on April 9, 1830. He was the brother of Knut Ormson and Mari (see Johnson, Gabriel). In 1860, he married Anna Jonsdatter from Kvaestad farm. Anna, the daughter of Jon Kolbeinson Kvaestad and Brita Halvorsdatter Natland, Erford, was born on December 24, 1838 in Suldal.

Between 1861 and 1863, they moved to Hjelmeland Parish in Rogaland County. In the 1865 census, Johannes was listed as the gaardbruger (farmer) and selveier (registered owner) of the Helgelandsgjerde farm. In the household were Johannes, 35; Anna Johnsd., his wife, 31 (error); his son, Joh., 3, born in Hjelmeland; his dau, Engebor, 5, born in Suldal; his sister Disa, 43; his widowed, mother, Engebor Larsd., 77; and Thore Samons., 12, a foster boy. They had 2 cows and 16 sheep. The previous year, they planted 8 bushels of oats and 3 bushels of potatoes (1865 Nor Cen, Hjelmeland, Digitalarkivet; Gamle Suldal, p. 76).

In 1869 Johannes and Anna immigrated to America on the frigate, Heros with their 4 children, Ingeborg, John, Orm, and Britha; Johannes' mother, Ingeborg Larsdtr. Gjerde; and his sister, Disa Ormsdtr. Gjerde. The ship departed from Stavanger on May 3 and arrived in Quebec on June 1 (The Solem, Swiggum & Austheim emigration ship index, www.norway/heritage.com, Heros, passengers #199-206).

Johannes died in Juneau County on January 1, 1870 at the age of 39. He was buried in the Suldal Cemetery in Lindina Township (East Lemonweir Church record; no headstone in Suldal Cemetery).

In 1870, Hannah/Anna (the two h's are crossed out) Johnson, age 32, occupation domestic was living in household number 244/236. Isabell Ormeson, Johannes' mother, age 80 was listed as the head of household. Three of Anna's children, Joseph Johnson, 6, Ormeson Johnson, 3, and Betsy Johnson, 2, were living next door in household number 245/237 with Dese Ormson, 47, Johannes' sister, listed as the head of household. Ingeborg, Anna's oldest child, does not appear in the census.

In 1880, Anna lived on a farm in Lindina Township with her sons Joseph (age 17) and Oskar (14). Anna died on November 28, 1922 and was buried in the Suldal Cemetery on December 2, 1922 (ELCR; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 678; US Cen 1880, Lindina, Vesterheim #43687-89).

Johannes (John) Larson

275 Johannes, the son of Lars L. Bakken Larson (214) and Ingeborg Johannesdr. Ormson, was born on February 1, 1886 and baptized in the East Lemonweir Church on March 3, 1886.

Johnnie Larson and cousin, Lars Benson (s/o Bjedne Winterhus (99)), perhaps about 1905?

Johannes was married on June 3, 1914 Fountain Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin to Olahva (Olive) Maline Onsager. The witnesses were Mollie Western, Lars Larson, Marie Benson, and Carl Onsager (East Lemonweir Church record). Olive, the daughter of Ole Onsager and Mary Nelson, was born on September 15, 1890 in Greenwood Township, Vernon County, Wisconsin. She was baptized on October 26, 1890 (Greenwood Church Records).

Olive's family:

Ole Johnson Onsager, the son of John Anderson Onsagersejet and Siri Olsdatter Tingelstad, was born according to the church records in Gran on January 3, 1847 at the Kammerud farm in Hadeland, Norway. However, according to his obituary and his cemetery headstone, he was born on December 30, 1846. Perhaps Ole needed to be a year older at some point in his life and changed his birth date or perhaps the church record is wrong. Ole was baptized on January 17, 1847. His sponsors were Kari Sorensdatter Kammerud, Gubjor ibid., Torger ibid., Anders Anderson, and Anders Larson Kammerudsejet.

As a young man, Ole was a champion ice skater and worked as a glassmaker in the Hadeland Glasswerk in Jevnaker. His son John was told that the Onsagers kept goats in Norway because the land was too steep for cows. The goats would walk on top of the log fences.

Ole left Gran on October 1, 1868 for America (Priests departure list, October 1, 1868, pg. 1177, no. 211). Emigration lists, 1868, no 447, Oct 7, 1868: Ole Johnsen, 22 years of age from Gran, left with on the Argo, October 9, 1868. He came by way of Liverpool, England where he sailed on November 1, 1868. [Ole declared his intention to be a citizen at Richland Center, Wisconsin on March 31, 1873. His petition for naturalization was dated May 4, 1914. At that time, he could not remember the name of the ship he came over on.]

In 1870, Ole Johnson was living with his uncle, Ole T. Olson and his family (emigrated, 1855). Ole T. Olson, 45, b. Norway, a boot and shoe manufacturer with $800 in real estate and $300 in personal property, is listed as head of household # 104/100 in the 1870 census for the village of Mauston, Juneau County, Wisconsin with Sarah, 47, b. Norway, keeping house, Ever, 19, b. Norway, attended school, Christiana, 17, b. Norway, attended school, Edward O., 12, b. WI, attended school, Anton, 12, b. WI, attended school, and Ole Johnson, 23, b. Norway, a laborer. The census was enumerated on June 3, 1870.

Ole probably lived with his uncle and worked as a laborer in Mauston and on farms in the Norwegian settlements in Juneau and Vernon counties where he met his future wife, Mary Nelson, a resident of Greenwood Township in Vernon County.

Ole was married on June 9, 1872 in Greenwood Township, Vernon County, Wisconsin to Mary Nelson (Nilson). Ole was 25 and Mary was almost 19.

Mary, the daughter of Einar Nelson and Gertrude Paulson, was born on June 25, 1853 in Laerdal Township, Sogn of Fjordane County, Norway.

When Mary was a year old, the Nelson family migrated to America from Laerdal Township, making their home on a farm in Perry Township in Dane County, Wisconsin. When she was 12, the family moved to Greenwood Township in Vernon County.

Nelson family:

Einar Nelson, the son of Nils Kristenson (Hillestad) Nedre Kvame and Randi Einarsdr. Nese, was born on February 23, 1810, in Lærdal Parish, Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway (Baptisms in Sogn og Fjordane 1669-1895, digitalarkivet.iub.no). Einar was born on the Storegjerdet subfarm (2) which was part of the Nedre (Lower) Kvame farm. The word "kvam" means hemmed-in valley or inlet. His father was a husmann (renter or cotter) with land at Storegjerdet (2) from 1801 until his death in 1836.

Einar was married on May 3, 1840 at Oien or Oyen in Laerdal to Guri Paalsdatter Sprakehaugen. Guri, the daughter of Paal (Paul) Helgeson Berg, Nese and Kari Olsdatter Husum, was born on May 7, 1821 in Laerdal Parish, Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway. Guri's half-sister, Kirsti Baardsdr. Kroken, Eggjo, was married to Nils Erikson Lai, a first cousin to Einar on his mother's side. Kirsti and Nils emigrated in 1862 and were in Greenwood by 1865.

In 1842, Einar became a husmann (a renter with land) on the Kroken subfarm which was part of the Ovre (Upper) Eggum farm in Laerdal. He and his family remained there until they emigrated. In Greenwood, Einar used the farm name Kvame. Some of his children used Kvame and some used Eggum. The children also used Einarsen or Einarsdatter until the name Nelson was chosen as the family's last name.

In 1854, Einar and Guri with their five surviving children, ranging in age from 2 to 13, traveled to America. Guri's father accompanied them. They left Bergen on May 16th and traveled for several weeks on a sailing ship. Once they saw land but a strong wind swept them back to sea, which delayed their landing by several days. After arriving in Quebec, Canada, the first night they slept in a two room shack. Upon awakening the following morning they learned that a member of the family occupying the other half of the shack had died of cholera.

Einar and Guri settled first in Dane County, Wisconsin where they lived near Stoughton, Wisconsin for one year. From there they moved to Perry Township in the southwest corner of Dane County where they purchased land, cleared a farm, and remained until 1864. Einar paid taxes on 40 acres of land in 1857. He purchased 40 acres from Gabriel Bjornson and wife. The warranty deed was dated September 17, 1858 and recorded on January 8, 1862. The 40 acres was located in the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Section 28,

Town 5 north, and Range 6 east. Einar and Guri recorded a $400 mortgage to Gabriel Bjornson on September 17, 1858 for the property. The mortgage was satisfied on November 26, 1864. Einar purchased another 40 acres because from 1860 to 1864 he paid taxes on 80 acres.

Perry Township, Dane County, Wisconsin

Located in the extreme southwest corner of Dane County, Perry Township was named for Commodore Oliver H. Perry, hero of the battle of Lake Erie in 1813. The name was actually proposed for Primrose Township (T5N, R7E) by Ohioans living there, the legislature, to avoid confusion, kept "Primrose" for the town having that postoffice and gave Perry to the next township on the west (T5N, R6E). Perry achieved full separate status as a township on November 24, 1853.

The first Norwegians settled in the township in 1848. The Perry Norwegian Lutheran Church, in the northeast section 7 was built in the spring of 1852 and used continuously until 1887. The log church is now kept as a monument to the Norwegian settlers. The Perry postoffice was established on July 10, 1857. The first postmaster, Anders Sanderson (Volstad), kept the postoffice on his land in northeast section 7. The postoffice was moved, in 1871, to Daley's store in southwest section 7.

Located in adjoining parts of southwest section 8 and northwest section 17 of Perry Township, the village of Daleyville, sometimes called Dahleville, was named for Onon B. Daley, originally Dahle, and his descendants. In 1853, Dahle opened the first store in the town and made himself unofficial postmaster for the neighborhood, bringing the mail from Blue Mounds and in other ways promoting a settlement.

A number of Norwegian families from Hafslo and Laerdal townships in Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway moved from Perry Township to Greenwood Township in Vernon County, Wisconsin, during the early 1860's. Einar and Guri must have heard about this new settlement from relatives or friends. Einar's brother, Baard, brought his family to America in 1861. They joined the Greenwood Church in January 1867.

On October 17, 1864, Einar and Guri sold their farm to Hadley Evenson and moved to Greenwood along with other Norwegian families from Perry Township. He and Guri joined the Greenwood Lutheran Church in July 1865. Einar's sister, Kari, her husband and family emigrated in 1866 and joined the Greenwood Church in January 1867. Their nephew, Nils Kristenson Skaarheim, his wife, and daughter also emigrated in 1866. Nils was the son of Einar's oldest brother, Kristen. Nils and his family joined the Greenwood Church on December 9, 1874.

Greenwood Township, Vernon County, Wisconsin

Einar bought 160 acres of land in the southwest corner of Section 26 in Greenwood Township on March 23, 1865. On April 6, 1865, Einar and Guri's son, Nels, drew up the following articles of agreement with them. I promise and agree to furnish the following yearly during their natural life: 40 bushels of good wheat of marketable quality, 400 lbs. of good sound fresh pork, 4 tons of good hay, 10 lbs. of coffee, 10 lbs. of brown sugar, 1/2 barrel of salt.

During their natural life, the free use and benefit of the dwelling house on my farm for the use of themselves and family. Necessary firewood cut and hauled also to take care of them in their old age.

Do all needful teaming during their lifetime, also to pasture with my own stock, the stock of Ener and Guri and to feed their stock straw with my own in winter. The free use and benefit of a certain piece of field land (about six acres) to be tilled and used according to their wish and desire as long as they live or wish to cultivate it. The agreement was typical of the type drawn up in Norway when a couple retired and their son or daughter took over the farm.

On April 6, 1866, Einar sold his land in Section 26 to his son, Nels, for $1,000 and bought 80 acres of land in the west 1/2 of section 34. The above detailed contract was binding on Nels or the owner of the southwest quarter of Section 26 in Town 13, Range 1 east during the natural life of Ener and/or Guri Nilsen.

Einar lived on the farm in Section 34 until his death on November 29, 1887. Einar and Guri sold the 80 acres for $400. The transaction is confusing because the records show that they sold 80 acres in 1872 and 1875. Hans Trulson Western, their son-in-law, must have purchased the property because after Einar's death, the farm was taken over by Hans. Guri continued to live on the farm with her daughter, Karen, and son-in-law until the farm was sold in 1902. She then moved to New Lisbon with Karen's family and lived there until her death on November 25, 1913 at the age of 92.

Guri died of senile debility followed by paraplegia. Her physician was Eugene H. Townsend of New Lisbon, who attended her from November 1-23. Guri was buried on November 28, 1913 in the East Lemonweir Cemetery. The undertaker was L. G. Gray of New Lisbon (source: East Lemonweir Church records and Juneau County death record, there is no headstone).
