

SOTL RESEARCH GRANTS

Strategies, Sources and Resources for Successfully
Funding Your SoTL Research

Introduction

- Jeff Boyd

- Research Support Specialist, AU Office of Research and Creative Scholarship
- Wrote grants requests and reports for an American Red Cross chapter
- Completed trainings with Grant Writing USA, the Grant Training Center, the NIH, and Andrews University

What I Hope to Offer You Today

- Not simply: How to write proposals.
- Help you prioritize the energy you put into aspects of the funding process.
- Help you think systematically about finding appropriate grants.

Presentation Overview

Basics: How To Get an External Grant

1. Be sure you're eligible.
 2. Be sure your proposal matches the criteria and priorities of the funder.
 3. Be sure you follow the application guidelines.
- Because #3 is where most grant trainings focus, and because that is arguably the simplest part of the process, this presentation will focus on finding grants that you're eligible for and that match your research situation and interests.
 - Tip: Invest your time and energy in finding grants that are consistent with #1 and #2. A well-written and important proposal (#3) won't overcome problems in #1 and #2.

Strategies

- Talk to coworkers who have received grants (doctoral students, teachers, professors, administrators).
 - Where did they apply?
 - What guidance do they have for you?
- Talk to colleagues at other institutions and SoTL conferences who have received grants in your discipline or area of research. Ask the same questions.
- Look at successful grant applications.
 - What can you learn from the research design and the writing itself?
 - Who can you contact for guidance?
- Once you find a potential grant, contact the grant manager (Rule 8).
- Become a grant proposal reviewer (Rule 9).
- Learn from feedback you get from grant requests that were not approved (Rule 10).
 - From “Ten Simple Rules for Getting Grants” (link).

Sources: AU Faculty Research Grants

- Faculty members may apply for Faculty Research Grants of up to $5,000 to support research/creative scholarship projects at Andrews University. We encourage collaborative applications that include multiple faculty members.
- Purpose:
 - To assist new (and newly active) faculty in developing and establishing an active research program at Andrews University.
 - To enable faculty who are active in research to be more productive than they would be without the financial assistance of a Faculty Research Grant.
 - To assist faculty who are active in research to develop their research program with the goal of successfully applying for funding from external sources.
 - To assist faculty who are active in supporting student research and student scholarship development.
- AU Website > Research > Faculty Resources > FRG

- Partner with the Research Office
 - Assistance in finding appropriate foundations or grant funding agencies for your specific area of research.
 - Assistance in compiling institutional materials required for the grant application.
 - Assistance in reviewing and proofing the grant application prior to submission.
 - Sponsor your attendance at a regional grant writing workshop specifically featuring the agency from which you are applying for funding, such as the National Science Foundation (NSF), or National Institutes of Health (NIH).
 - Sponsor your travel to the national office, or a regional location, to meet with the program director of the agency for your field.

Sources: Government – Grants.gov

- Grants.gov was established as a governmental resource as part of the 2002 President's Fiscal Year Management Agenda to improve government services to the public. It is a central storehouse for information on over 1,000 grant programs. All federal grants opportunities are required by law to be posted on Grants.gov.

Finding Sources: Additional Tools

- Google
- COS Pivot
 - Community of Science (COS) Pivot is a database tool for connecting with collaborators and searching for appropriate funding opportunities. By filling out a profile within Pivot, an investigator or program director is able to search for people with similar interests, create standing funding opportunity searches, and save searches. Pivot is a powerful tool for search and collaboration. Please contact GMO if you have any questions about how to take advantage of Pivot. <http://pivot.cos.com/>
- InfoEd SPIN
 - A straight-forward database of funding opportunities, SPIN allows keyword and due date searching for upcoming opportunities as well as browsing by new opportunities, upcoming deadlines, new sponsors, and program changes. Contact GMO if you have any questions about how to best take advantage of SPIN. <https://spin.infoedglobal.com/Authorize/Login>
