LEMONWEIR VALLEY PRESS

Berrien Springs and Mauston, Wisconsin

Tradition claims that the Lemonweir River was named for a dream. Prior to the War of 1812, an Indian runner was dispatched with a war belt of wampum with a request for the Dakotas and Chippewas to meet at the big bend of the Wisconsin River (Portage). While camped on the banks of the Lemonweir, the runner dreamed that he had lost his belt of wampum at his last sleeping place. On waking in the morning, he found his dream to be a reality and he hastened back to retrieve the belt. During the 1820's, the French-Canadian fur traders called the river, La memoire - the memory.

The Lemonweir rises in the extensive swamps and marshes in Monroe County. The river divides Juneau County into two topographic areas. The region north of the Lemonweir River Valley, which comprises two-thirds of the county, is a nearly level sand plain covered with marshes and swamps. The southern one-third of the county is a rugged, highland plateau, dissected in every direction by valleys and ravines.

The river has given its name to Lemonweir Township, the East Lemonweir Lutheran Church, the Lemonweir Valley Press, etc.
Norwegians of Juneau County

Ole Gjermundson Tveit from Upper Telemark, Norway must be considered the actual founder of the Norwegian settlement in Juneau County. A bachelor, he had come to Maughs Mill (Mauston) from the Norwegian settlement called Koshkonong to work in the sawmill for Milton M. Maughs. In his spare time, Ole explored the surrounding countryside looking for good land. During his rambles, he found an uncommonly beautiful valley a few miles west of Mauston. The valley was nearly round in shape, level, and protected against weather on all sides.

The land was different at that time. The hills and bluffs were steeper, the creeks were wider with beaver dams and fallen trees. Virgin timber covered much of the area. Travel was difficult. Ole had to wallow through the marsh bottoms and ford the creeks. Many of the huge trees were hollow at the bottom because of the fires that the Indians set each spring to burn off the prairies and start the new growth. Both the Ho-Chunk (Winnebago) and Menominee Indians occupied the area.

The Lemonweir River, which gives its name to the area, takes its rise from extensive swamps and marshes near the dividing ridge in Monroe County, and has a tributary called the Little Lemonweir, which unites with the main branch eight miles north-west of Mauston. For many miles on the head waters of the main river, the land was heavily timbered with white and Norway pines, which afforded a supply of valuable timber for the early settlers. The river is a very durable, permanent stream, at all times affording an abundant supply of water. The whole valley was abundantly supplied with hard timber, white and black oak, for fencing, fire-wood, etc., and good land for stock and grain farms was available.

Tveit informed his acquaintances at Koshkonong of his discovery. The Koshkonong Prairie Settlement had been established in 1840 and took its name from Lake Koshkonong Lake and Creek. The lake is located in Jefferson County at the point where Dane, Jefferson and Rock counties meet. The most important and prosperous of the Wisconsin Norwegian-American settlements, its name was applied to a general region that extended a considerable distance from Lake Koshkonong and included the southeastern portion of Dane County, the southwestern part of Jefferson County, and the northern part of Rock County. The region actually consisted of smaller settlements separated by short distances from each other. By 1850, Koshkonong had a population of 2,670 Norwegians. Tveit was a member of the Norwegian settlement near Sun Prairie in Dane County, Wisconsin which had been settled by immigrants from Telemark, Norway in 1843.

The result was that in the spring of 1850, he returned with Nils Bjornson Farastad and Ole Johnson Magnushommen, brothers-in-law who were also from Upper Telemark. They took up claims in present Lindina Township about five miles southwest of Mauston.
After breaking up some land and making hay for the winter, they returned to Dane County for their families.

According to Joseph Hanson in his History of Juneau County, Ole Johnson seemed to have the idea that he wanted the whole country because he broke up land in several places. When they returned that autumn, Knut Ormson Mo from Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway and Knut Mikkelson from Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway came with them. Their homes that autumn were hay stack houses consisting of a log frame with hay for the roof and walls. The men soon completed their log houses and made a permanent settlement (Mauston Star, June 2, 1887, p. 1.)

Most of the low land in both North and South Valley was under water when they arrived so they went out into the bluffs that reminded them of their homeland. Nils Bjornson (Benson) was the oldest so he had first choice of land. He took land in section 5 across the road from the present Suldal Cemetery. Knut Ormson chose the land which is now the Riley farm, near the junction of the present Suldal and Felland roads because the soil was black as far as he could thrust his knife and in the creek was a spring that he called the “water of life”. Ole Gjermundson said he would take the land in between where Allie Peterson now lives. The 1857 tax rolls for Lindina Township show that Ole Johnson owned land in sections 4, 5, and 9.

Knudt Mikkelson settled in section 6 on what later became the Nelson and Steen farms. His brother Andres lived with him and his family.

In the fall of 1852, Helge Oleson settled in the northern part of Plymouth township and at the same time Knudt Oland settled in the southern part of Fountain township. John Halvorson settled on a farm adjoining Knut Ormson in section 9. Lavrens Augenson Odegaarden from Vinje Township in Telemark County also came in 1852. Lavrens’ sister, Margit, was the wife of Ole Johnson Magnusshommen.

Knut Ormson was the beginning of the connection between Suldal, Norway and Juneau County, Wisconsin. "America Fever" traveled through Norway in waves so that people within any given area might be expected to influenced by the urge to emigrate at the same time. Shiploads of people from the same old-country region sailed together and sought land together. Later arrivals from the same part of Norway naturally gravitated to the settlements of their own people. Letters and prepaid tickets further encouraged this development.

This was an important aspect of Norwegian-American community building:

Religious observance was from the beginning, a fundamental aspect of life in Norwegian immigrant communities, providing social as well as spiritual solace, and it was often the source of the first emergence of a sense of community. These church centered communities often reflected strong provincial, parish, and neighborhood allegiances transported from the homeland as well. The intensely streamlike chain migrations of Norwegians from specific valleys and fjords in Norway to specific settlements in America created a kind of cultural homogeneity and sense of belonging in Norwegian immigrant settlements that was conducive to the implantation of a fervently supported parish church as a community focus (Legreid, Ann Marie, “Community Building, Conflict and Change; Geographic Perspective on the Norwegian-American Experience in Frontier America,” IN Wisconsin Land
Gunder Johnson Braatveit, who emigrated from Suldal in 1852, came to Lindina in 1853. He stopped first with Odd Larson's father, Lars Olson Osteraa, another immigrant from Suldal, for a short time in Dane County. While there he learned about the Lemonweir Settlement through Nils Bjornson whom Lars Olson had bought out prior to Bjornson's coming here.

By 1854, the small community had grown to 12 families and 43 individuals. On May 22, 1854, John Halvorsen, Knud Ormson, Ole Jhanson, Nils Bjornson, Gunder Johansen, Laurans Augonsden, and Andres Mikelsen sent a letter to Pastor H. A. Preus of Spring Prairie in Dane County, Wisconsin asking for a visit by a Norwegian clergyman once or twice a year. The wrote him that they were located twenty miles northwest of the Dells bridge in Lisbon Township, Adams County. They had begun to build a schoolhouse and had chosen the location of a churchyard which they wanted to have dedicated.

Herman Amberg Preus was born on June 16, 1825 in Kristiansand, Norway. His grandfather was a Lutheran clergyman; his father, a college president; and his mother, a member of the prominent Keyser family. He attended the University of Norway from 1843 to 1848, receiving the degree of A.B. in 1843, and that of candidate of theology in 1848.

In 1851, he accepted a call as pastor from three churches in the vicinity of Spring Prairie located in both Dane and Columbia counties, Wisconsin and was ordained before leaving for the New World. Upon his arrival at Spring Prairie there were no church buildings, and he had to enter upon his work as a minister by preaching in the small log cabin homes of the settlers. Being a hard worker, Preus soon extended his field of activity far beyond his original charge. He often would preach at places over one hundred miles from his home. During this pioneer period, Preus preached once or twice every day, or at least once every other day.

Preus came the first time on July 25, 1854 and held church services in the home of Nils Bjornson. There was no bridge across Brewer Creek and Preus had to be carried across. Knut Ormson guarded the minister's horses and buggy during the night to prevent them from being stolen by the Indians.

At the bottom of the letter from the congregation, Pastor Preus made notations concerning part of the distance from Spring Prairie to Lemonweir: 12 miles from Kingsbery's Tavern - no road and 10 miles from Rodgers Mill - is road. On Sunday, he held services in Roche a Cree, on Monday, he made the trip to Lemonweir, and on Tuesday, he held the first church services. On his return trip, Preus stopped and held services on Thursday at the Moe Settlement (Newport Township, Columbia County). On Friday, he journeyed to Portage where he held services at 11 o'clock. On Saturday, he returned to Spring Prairie.

Creation of Juneau County, the Townships, Cities and Villages

To help the readers of this bygdebok better understand the history of Norwegian settlement in Juneau County, I will try to explain the development of the county boundaries, the creation of the townships and provide a list of the present and defunct cities, villages, and rural communities with their post offices within the county.
Juneau County was created by the state of Wisconsin on January 1, 1857. Beginning with the formation of the Wisconsin Territory in 1836, the area included in Juneau County was part of Crawford County which stretched from the Illinois state border north to Lake Superior. Parts or all of Juneau were governed by Sauk or Adams counties in the late 1840s and early 1850s.

The legislature of the new state of Wisconsin established Adams County in March 1848. All of this original Adams County was located west of the Wisconsin River and south of the Lemonweir River -- roughly the southwestern third of present-day Juneau County. The Sauk County board retained legal control of the sparsely settled new county until 1853. In 1849, this board organized the first and only township during that time period and named it Lemonweir. When the first Norwegian settlers arrived in 1850, their address was Lemonweir Township in Adams County. The township name was the source of the name given to the Lemonweir Norwegian Lutheran Church.

The following townships are listed in order of their organization: 1849, Lemonweir (its original boundaries included all of present-day Juneau south of the Lemonweir River and a 15 mile wide strip on the north side of the Lemonweir); 1851, Dells (name changed to Kildare in 1852); 1852, Kildare (name changed to Lindon in 1854); 1853, Lisbon, Necedah, and Seven Mile Creek; 1854, Lindina, Lindon (name changed to Kildare in 1857), Plymouth and Waucedah (divided between Kildare and Marion in 1857); 1855, Fountain, Germantown, and Summit; 1856, Wonewoc; 1857, Clearfield, Lyndon (formed out of southern Kildare), Marion (formed out of part of Waucedah), and Orange; 1858, Armenia; 1876, Kingston; 1896, Cutler (formed from the western portion of Necedah); and 1898, Finley (proposed name of “Scandinavia” changed by Juneau County Board).

The cities and villages of the county include: Mauston, New Lisbon, Necedah, Elroy, Wonewoc, Camp Douglas, Lyndon Station, Hustler, and Union Center.

Official 1860 census statistics list 266 Norwegians in Juneau County. Of these 166 were born in Norway and 100 in Wisconsin. After carefully checking the 1860 census, I found 262 listed with 165 born in Norway and 97 born in Wisconsin.

The Civil War

A number of the Norwegians who settled in Juneau County served in the Civil War. I have identified about 25 or 26 men who either lived in Juneau County at the time they enlisted or were closely associated with Juneau County. The reasons for enlisting were several. Some wanted adventure and travel. Some wished to serve their new country and were against slavery. The enlistment bonus, monthly pay, and a place to eat and sleep were important factors. At the beginning of the war, many people felt that the war would be over in three months. Many immigrants probably felt it was a quick way to get money for buying farm land and getting a start in America. It is difficult to identify many of these men. They used names like Ole Olsen with no farm designation.

Several of the men were recruited in New Lisbon to join the 15th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. The 15th was known as the Scandinavian Regiment because its officers and enlisted men were almost all from Norway, Denmark, and Sweden. These men were John Frederik Frodesen Bever, Daniel Danielson, Halvor Halvorsen, Martin Halvorsen, Ole Halvorsen, Christian Ingebretsen, Ole Jacobsen, and John H. Warp. All but Danielson who served in Company C were members of Company D. Company D called itself the Norway Wolf Hunters. “D” was mainly recruited from the Towns of Oconomowoc in Waukesha County, Waupun in Dodge County, New Lisbon in Juneau County, and Waterford in Racine County. Christian Ingebretsen died of disease in Madison in February 1862, Halvor Halvorsen was killed at Chickamauga in 1863, and Ole Jacobsen died at Andersonville prison in 1864/5.

Following is a list of those Norwegians who have been identified as serving in the Civil War. Some were from neighboring counties who were working in Juneau County at the time (probably as lumbermen).

Suldal

Eventually the entire Norwegian settlement in southern Juneau County became known as Suldal. Einer Haugen described it in 1952 as "a small settlement mostly comprised with the triangle formed by the villages of Elroy, Mauston, and New Lisbon, in the townships of [Fountain], Lisbon, Lindina, and especially Plymouth. Plymouth church [located in Lindina], 5 miles west of Mauston, is known in everyday speech as 'Suldal,' because the overwhelming majority of the members came from that place in Norway. Other dialects seem to have been displaced by this one. The youngest generation does not speak Norwegian, but in the middle and oldest generation there are many who can and do. There are 8 Lutheran congregations in the area, divided among 3 pastors; very few Norwegian services are now held. There has been much intermarriage with neighboring Germans. Grain and tobacco are chief crops." (Haugen, Einer, The Norwegian Language in America, vol. 2, pp. 611-12).

Hjalmer Holand wrote in 1908, "All the blue-tinted hills which a person sees to the south of Camp Douglas, New Lisbon and Mauston are crawling with Norwegians. The settlement includes some 500 people from Upper Telemark and 1200 from around Suldal in Rogaland." The settlement spilled over into Clifton Township in Monroe County. The settlement in Greenwood Township in Vernon County had close ties because they shared pastors with the various Norwegian Lutheran churches in Juneau County.

The connection with Suldal, Norway began in 1850. A few more families came to Lindina during the 1850's: 1852 - Gunder Johnson Bratveit and family; 1855 - Gabriel Oddson Tornes, Lars Olson Austara and family; 1857 - Askild Jacobson Mokliev and family; and 1858 - Gabriel Johnson Lunde and family.

During the Civil War era, a significant number of families from Suldal came to Juneau County. Some of those who have been identified with their dates of emigration include: 1860/1 - John Johnson Lunde and family; 1861 - Gabriel Haavorson Veka and family, Nels Nelson Steinbru and family, and Jon Tormodson Quammen; 1862 - Even Evenson Austara and family, Halvor Halvorson Veka, Ole Nelson Kleiva and family, Bjedne Eivindson Austara and family; 1863 - Ole Halvorson Kolbeinstveit and family, and Marta Nelson.

In 1864, Lars Bakken Guggedal, a former school teacher, led a party of 50 people from Suldal. He was an all-around man, good at composing verse and of a gay disposition. Snatches of songs he wrote could still be heard in Suldal in 1908. The group included - Lars Osmundson Guggedal and family, Halvor Halvorson Steinbru, Tormod Albertson Oystad Hauen and family, Albert Johnson Kjetilstad, Ole Halvorson Kalhagen, Lars Thorsen Mokleiv and family, widow Kari Nelson and family, Nels Olson, widow Ingeborg Ormson, Odd Oddson Stuv, Osmund Vintrhus, and Bjedne Vintrhus and family. They came on the ships Hebe and Iris. The barks, Hebe, Capt. Olsen and Iris, Capt. Larsen, left Stavanger on May 4, 1864 and arrived in Quebec on June 2, 1864. Traveling from there to Chicago, they were settled in Juneau County by June of 1864.

Other emigrants were: 1867 - Tjerand Paulson Kolbeinstveit and family; 1868 - Johannes Ormson and family; and 1869 - Albert Larson Lofthus and family, and Lars Lofthus.

In 1872, Kari Tjerandsdtr. Overskeid, the widow of Lars Albertson Moe (see), left Suldal and settled in Elroy. Together with her sons, Tjerand, Lars, and Ole, Kari operated a country store in Elroy. They also had an agency for an immigration line, Norge - USA. Many of the Juneau County Norwegians from Suldal bought tickets from Kari's agency and sent them to relatives in Suldal. When these people emigrated, it was natural for them to find lodging in Kari's inn. The Moe home in Elroy, became, therefore, in the last quarter of the 19th century something of a center for immigrants from Suldal.

Laerdal Township, Sogn og Fjordane County

Settlers from Laerdal Township came to Juneau County in 1856. Ole Olson Hillestad, his wife Brita Pedersdtr., and their five children came to Lemonweir in 1856 and settled in Fountain Township. Ole and Brita emigrated in 1852. They joined the Spring Prairie Church in southern Columbia County, which served settlers in both Dane and Columbia counties, in 1853. They probably became aware of land in Juneau County from their pastor, Herman A. Preus. They used the last name of Olson.

Others in 1856 were Erik Einarson (Nedre Hegg) Nedre Kvame and his wife, Ragnhilda Baardsdtr. Nedre Kvame. They emigrated in March 1855 and joined the East Lemonweir Church in 1856. In 1880 they were living on a farm in Fountain Township and using the names, Erick and Rosa Anderson.

Many more settlers came to Juneau County from Laerdal in the 1860s, 1870s, and 1880s. There was a connection with the settlement in Greenwood Township in Vernon County from the beginning. Many were related as cousins, brothers, and sisters. Over the years there were marriages back and forth and a number of the settlers in Greenwood moved to Juneau County.
Settlers from Telemark and Hordaland counties came from the beginning. A few settlers came from other townships in Rogaland County such as Sand and Sauda which bordered Suldal. Roldal in Hordaland County had a common history with Suldal and a few of settlers came from that area. Ole T. Olson came to Lindina Township in 1855. He emigrated with his family from Gran Township in Hadeland in eastern Norway.

Knut Hamsen

Knut Hamsen, an eventual recipient of the Nobel Prize for Literature, came to Elroy, Wisconsin in about February of 1882 where his brother Peter lived. Upon his arrival Knut worked briefly at the Moe family store. Knut, after spending the summer working for farmers named Loveland and Spear, returned to Elroy. He went to work for Edmund Hart and soon became a clerk in Hart's store. He lived in the Norwestern Railways Hotel, for a year, sharing a room on the top floor with William T. Ager, a grade school teacher in Elroy. Henry M. Johnston, the high school principal, taught him English. Svend Tveraas, a local farmer, was a friend. Knut began giving lectures on the Norwegian writer, Bjornstjerne Bjornson and made an enemy of Pastor M. P. Ruh. Ruh warned people against attending his lectures for the mild heresy that any defense of Bjornson at that time involved in the wake of Bjornson's attack on Christianity and the established church. In late 1883, Knut moved on to Minnesota.

Suldal Politics

Gunder Johnson Braatvedt from Suldal was described by Hjalmar Holand as an influential man called the Norwegian king, patriarch and philosopher. Genial and talkative, he was also a clever lawyer for the newcomers. In those days, it was common to set up a shop at election time where whiskey was served free to several hundred voters. But Gunder and his people refused to be taken in by these blandishments. Said he, "Yes, we will drink your whiskey and smoke your cigars, but we will vote as we please." This became a favorite saying in the community.

Norway’s Independence

The Mauston Star reported on April 3, 1902, that on May 17 a large crowd of Norwegians celebrated the anniversary of the independence of Norway at the picnic grounds on the Henry Robinson farm in Suldal. Speeches were delivered by Rev. John Granskou of Stanley; by James Thompson, a prominent lawyer of LaCrosse; and by District Attorney H. J. Mortensen of New Lisbon. This was followed by a program of music and the singing of Norwegian songs. The first two addresses were in Norwegian and the latter in English. A heavy rain in the afternoon drove the happy crowd to shelter.

Suldal Corners

In 1892 George Winser of Wonewoc, who married a daughter of Jess Winsor, built a cheese factory in section 7 on the southwest corner of the crossroads of Suldal and Johnson roads. Seymour Ranney made cheese the first year. Two kinds of cheese were made, chiefly American. When the corn was growing, they squeezed juice from the green leaves and added to the cheese to speckle it green.
By 1898 there was a feed mill on the northwest corner, Winser's North Valley Creamery, a store on the southeast corner, and a post office. The feed mill stood in Ed Johnson's marsh by a big spring in the creek. It was run by William Nelson and Will Felland. Minas Anason helped them many nights when they were so busy that they had to run night and day. Nelson and Felland charged by the sack to grind the feed. A favorite story is told about Hagen who brought in a big wool sack half full of grain. To get back at him, Nelson got into the sack and tramped it clear full of feed until it weighed about 1,200 pounds. They rolled it onto the wagon so that Hagen had to unload it when he got home.

Minas Anason helped build the store when he was about 17 or 18 [1894-5]. Theodore Felland, Anason, and his half-brother Ole G. Johnson ran the store. They sold groceries, common dry goods, coonskin coats, and took orders for suits. They had lots of trade.

The name Suldal was given to the community when a post office was established in the store. When they couldn't decide on a name for the post office, Tveit wanted Felland or Moe, Pastor C. Schrive suggested "Suldal." They all agreed. The post office only existed from 1898 to 1901. Theodore O. Felland was the first postmaster. Gunder Tvedt, Knut Olson, and John L. Johnson carried mail from town to the store.

An agreement had been made by George Winser and the farmers to stick together. Later he sold out to the Elgin Creamery Company (a sort of chain company) and moved out in the night to Hustler. Minas Anason met him that night while coming home from a courting trip. The store and creamery were discontinued in the 1920's. The creamery was torn down and the store moved across the road and made into a house [Knut Larson bought store building and cheese factory site, tore down factory and moved store across road onto that property.].

By 1900, considerable tobacco was being raised by the Norwegians in Juneau County. Felland and Nevestvedt were the first to try tobacco growing and the crop brought considerable prosperity to the farmers. The following article appeared in the Mauston Star on Thursday, April 3, 1902, page 1:

THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY

Local Growers Shipped Five Car Loads Tuesday

On Tuesday a buyer for the American Cigar Co., of Madison, was in the city and purchased five car loads of tobacco in Lindina. The Felland Bros. delivered the largest amount having nine loads which netted them the handsome sum of $1,500.

Following are the names of the gentlemen who sold and the number of loads delivered by each: Dell Rider, 4; Ole Onsager, 3; Germanson & Tvedt, 4; Nels Johnson, 2; John Anderson, 2; P. O Stenrue, 5. There is still a large amount of tobacco left in this vicinity which will undoubtedly be sold and shipped before a great while.

Today, the Suldal name is commemorated by Suldal Road and the Suldal Cemetery in Lindina Township.

Lindina District Number 7 (Suldal School)

The country school serving the settlers near Suldal Corners was last located on Johnson Road across from the present Plymouth Cemetery. A history of the school written by the district clerk, Mrs. Bert Johnson, in April 1948 has been published in Country
"The History of Lindina District 7 (Suldal School) as taken from the records of the district clerk.

The first teacher there is record of is Jennie Trency who taught three months or what was called the winter term beginning Dec. 11, 1866 for $24.00 a month. Board members signing this contract were Harvey L. Ward, clerk, and A. Cowles, director. Next Sarah Leonard beginning May 6, 1867, who taught 3 months for $20.00 a month. [Jermom Tvedt went to school in log school house at age of 7 (1863) and at present site at age of 11 (1867).]

The first district meeting there are records of is dated September 30, 1867 with the following board members elected at this meeting: Jesse Winsor, clerk; John B. Wright, treas.; and Harvey L. Ward, director. They voted to raise $75.00 for teachers wages, $28.00 for books, and $5.00 for repairs. Wood was purchased at $1.00 a cord.

At the meeting Sept. 28, 1868, it was voted to have seven months school, 3 months winter, 2 months spring and months fall terms. Odd Larsen was elected director. The next year they voted to have six months school again and in 1871 they had five months. In 1874 G. J. Foster was elected clerk.

At the Sept 6, 1875 meeting, L. Howard, Halver Halverson and Jesse Winsor were chosen as a committee to fix a school house site. On Oct 18, the motion carried to have the board secure a site for school house on S. E. corner of Nels Nelson estate.

Sept 25, 1876 they voted to pay the clerk a salary of $5.00. the board was instructed to buy school house site from Nels Nelson estate if price be reasonable and of clear title, if not; it was carried that they buy site where building then stood.

Aug. 27, 1877 the board was instructed to proceed immediately to purchase site – described as (1/2 acre, fourty rods more or less north of the S. W. corner of the S. W. ¼ of the N. W. ¼ of section 8 on the section line between sections 7 & 8) from John Johnson – cost of which was $15.00. Jesse Winsor was appointed to inquire what the Chadwick school cost and how many it will accommodate and report at a latter meeting.

Serving on the board at the time the new school house was arranged for and built were: L. Howard, director, 1874-77; J. B. Wright, director, 1877-1885; G. J. Foster, clerk, 184-76; Odd Larsen, clerk, 1876-1886; and C. H. Hayden, treasurer, 1875-78.

Oct. 1, 1877 the district voted to raise $150.00 toward fund for building a new school house. Motion was made to apply to state trust fund for loan but there were not enough voters present to decide the matter according to law. At a meeting on Oct. 4 the motion was carried to apply to the state for $300.00 loan, 14 voters present and vote was unanimous, the amount to be borrowed for a period of six years.

Teachers at this time were: E. G. Dodge for 3 months beginning Dec 3, 1877, $30.00 a month; Hannah Peck for 2 months beginning Apr. 29, 1878, $20.00 a month; and S. J. Denigan for 3 months beginning Dec 2, 1878, $23.00 per month.

Much of the time during these years 22 days were called a month instead of the usual 20 days, and the teachers held third grade certificates.

Also at this time J. W. Wightman was County Superintendent of Schools.

Sept. 5, 1878, G. W. Robinson was paid $14.25 for laying the stone wall for the new building. Nov 30, 1878 to G. Cowee $20.85 for building and plastering. Nov. 30, 1878 to G.
J. Foster $68.50 for building. Dec. 14, 1878 to F. Remington $14.00 for painting. Apr. 2, 1879 to France Remington $8.00 for laying floor and making blinds.

The cost of building (labor) and materials for the new building were approximately $500.00.

Sept. 2, 1878 the old building was sold to Nels Nelson for $3.25. Wood was purchased for 75 cents a cord.

The first minutes written as Joint Dist. with Lisbon was in July 1878.

In 1895 a well was drilled and pump put in, work being done by Micheal Bros. and Geo. Winsor was elected librarian for one year for the new library.

In 1898 the district voted to buy a bell and build a belfry. Bell was purchased in Oct. at a cost of $10.00. The belfry was constructed by H. Benson, painted by Odd Albertson. [In] 1900, [the] school house was reshingled and interior ceiled and painted. In 1908 the decision was made to charge all persons over 20 years old, attending school, $2.00 tuition per term.

In 1911 it was voted to buy a suitable desk and chair for the teacher, and a cement porch was to be built across the front of the building. Also hard wood floors put in the hall. Porch constructed by R. Herriot. In 1914 a 14 ft. extension was added to the building at the rear.

Salaries were voted for both director and treasures positions at the 1917 annual meeting. Electric lights were installed in 1929, wiring being done by Carlton Steen and the first teacher to enjoy the use of them was Wilma Runke.

In 1933 the stove we now have was installed and the following year they built on the present wood shed. The wall for this was constructed by L. J. Quamme and the remainder of the work on it was done by various members of the community.

Joint District 7 Lindina and Lisbon became joint with Plymouth when the Knut Olson place was put into this district in Sept. 1934.

In 1942 the school house was insulated.

School Dist. No. 8 of Plymouth or Braund School as it was known, was abolished and made a part of our district on Aug 9, 1940 by order of State Supt. John Calahan because of there being too few children to maintain their own according to the new state laws. This building was kept in some repair according to state regulations until the 1945 meeting when the board was given power to dispose of it as they saw fit. In Oct of that year it was offered for sale by sealed bids and sold to the highest bidder, Otis Nelson for $157.85.”

Norwegian Parochial School

To the west there was a log school house where the Norwegian school house now stands. The log school house had stood on the site of the Plymouth Church. After the new Lindina District No. 7 school was built in 1878-9, it was put up for bids and sold to Nels Nelson for $3.25 and moved to the parochial school site. Jacob Quamme, the father of Lars, was teacher and precenter for the East and West Lemonweir congregations for 22 years beginning in 1882.
NORTHERN JUNEAU COUNTY

Armenia Norwegian Settlement

Some of the first settlers in the Town of Armenia were Norwegians. Two of the first were Timon Aslogsen and Lars Larson. Next came Jacob Norsby, Martin Sparsby and his sons Ole and John, Nels Teigen, and later Otto Hustlegaarden and Lars Lee.

The 1860 federal census for Armenia includes 9 households and 46 individuals. The heads of households were James Johnson, Goodbear Hanson, John Christie, Teman Oslockson (see Timon Aslogsen), Lars Johnson, Targer Oleson, John Peterson, Herman Botelson, and Andrew Andrewson. In addition, Knud Anderson (see) and his wife were living with Goodbear Hanson and John Peterson and his 10 year old daughter were living with Teman Oslockson. The breakdown was 23 males and 23 females; 25 were born in Norway and 19 were born in Wisconsin. The oldest child born in Wisconsin was 12 year old Knutson Thompson who would have been born in 1847/8. He was listed with Knud Anderson and may have been his son. On the 1876 plat map for Juneau County, this settlement was located in section 28 of northern Armenia. Only three names appear. T. Osloe owned 80 acres, J. Peterson owned 40 acres and L. Lewison (Lars or Louis Larson - see) owned 80 acres. This was the beginning of the Norwegian settlement at Miner.

Martin Ulvestad in Nordmændene i Amerika states, “The first in the area of Miner was Timon Aslaksen from Vestre Slidre, Valders. He also came from Dane County, Wisconsin. That was in 1857 and he settled in Miner. Later in the year came Lewis Larsen from Hurdalen. The settlement was called Valders Prairie.” Valders is a region in the southwest part of Oppland County. Slidre is a district in Oppland which includes Øystre and Vestre Slidre Townships.

Armenia is believed to have been named in 1856 for a group of immigrants from Armenia who settled on the east side of the Wisconsin River in present Adams County. At that time Juneau County was still part of Adams. The township was organized in 1858. Always one of the least-settled parts of Juneau County, the large population increase that took place in the 1890s was due to the sale of cut-over and drained land, most of which was later abandoned.

New Miner in section 21 of northern Armenia Township was called Miner in the 1890s. The postmaster in 1898 was John J. Severson (see). The contiguous sections of 15, 20, 21, 22, 27, and 28 were owned predominantly by Norwegians in 1898.

Finley Norwegian Settlement

Finley Township was organized in 1898 from parts of Armenia and Kingston townships. The original petition to form the new township called for it to be named Scandinavia because of the large number of Norwegians or Scandinavians in the township. The name was changed to Finley by the county board. Charleton H. Finley kept a store near one of the largest stretches of marsh in the county. He shipped carloads of wild blueberries harvested from the cut-over, burned-over land. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad ran a line from Necedah through Finley in the 1890's but it did little to stimulate development. Finley had a post office and a saloon, but never became a genuine village.

The Norwegians probably bought land here in the 1890s after the drainage of the area. The 1876 plat map of Juneau County does not show any property owned by Norwegians. About 30 names on the 1898 plat map appear to be Scandinavian. Several of these can be identified as Norwegian. Part of the drainage district disaster and the Rural Resettlement Program, fully half of Finley became part of the Necedah National Wildlife Refuge.

Necedah Norwegian Settlement

This settlement included farmers and those who lived in the village of Necedah. In the 1850's, many of the Norwegians worked for the Necedah lumber companies. The 1860 census lists 7 individuals in Necedah Township, 2 men and 5 women. The women were domestics either in hotels or individual homes. The two men were laborers living at a boarding house.

On the 1876 Juneau County plat map, the Norwegian Ferry is shown on the Wisconsin River. The ferry was directly east of the village of Necedah about 1 and 2/3 miles south of the Petenwell Ferry. Rick Durbin, who researches the history of the Wisconsin River, wrote me on April 10, 1996, "I think I've solved your 'Norwegian Ferry' problem. The Adams County Board of Supervisors granted a ferry charter to Isaac Oleson for foot passengers (ten cents) on the section line between [sections] 15 and 22, T[ownship] 18, R[ange] 4. Granted Nov. 19, 1869 for 3 years. Oleson rowed a skiff across the river. Renewals were granted in 1872 and 5. No entry for 1878. However, after 1877 it didn't give any more charters to anyone, suggesting that either the towns or Juneau County had taken over the job.

This ferry connected the Norwegians in northern Juneau County with the Roch A Cri Norwegian settlement in Strong's Prairie Township, Adams County. The ferry was directly west of the Roch A Cri settlement and Isaac Oleson was probably a member of the Roch A Cri settlement. About 10-15 farmers owned land in Necedah Township in 1876 who have possible Scandinavian names (Durbin, R., The Wisconsin River; an Odessy through Time and Space, p. 109).

An increase in the number of Norwegian settlers occurred when the cut-over lands were drained and sold in the 1890's. In the 1898 plat book, the northern part of Necedah Township had about 10-13 Norwegian farmers between the railroad tracks and the west bank of the Yellow River spread south of Sprague Station about 10 miles. In the southern half of the township, A. Nelson owned 47.9 acres at the point where the former Norwegian Ferry was located. About three other Norwegians had farms north and east of the village of Necedah. South of the village was a settlement of Danes. The Scandinavian Lutheran church in the village had 55 confirmed members in 1875 and 5 members in 1914.
CHURCHES

When the church was established in America, it became the most influential and dominant institution in the Norwegian-American communities. Often social and religious functions were combined. This was the time to exchange news of family and community affairs, to attend to urgent business, and to reminisce about times past. The immigrants satisfied their social needs on such occasions as picnics, conventions, weddings, and funerals.

East Lemonweir Lutheran Church

The Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Congregation in Lemonweir was organized on July 25, 1854 by Pastor H. A. Preus of Spring Prairie in Dane County. Pastor Preus preached again in Lemonweir on November 16, 1854. On both occasions, it is believed that the church services were held in the home of Nils Bjornson.

The church records list 13 persons that took communion on November 16, 1854: Knut Ormsen and wife, Knut Mikkelson and wife, Nels Bjornson and wife, Andres Mikkelson, Gunder Johnson and wife, Anne Johnsdr., John Halvorson and wife, and Thojer Thorbjornson.

After church services on June 12, 1855, the congregation decided to affiliate with the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Synod in North America and Gunder Johnson was elected delegate to the Synod meeting at Spring Prairie in October 1855. At that time the Lemonweir congregation was admitted to the synod.

On June 12, 1855, 19 people took communion: Gunder Johnson and wife, Knut Ormsen and wife, Niels Nielson and wife, Lars Olson and wife, John Halvorson and wife, Andres Mikkelson, Niels Bjornson and wife, Gabriel Oddson, Thorjer Thorbjornson, Lawrence Augundsen and wife, and Knut Mikleson and wife.

In 1856, the congregation decided to unite with the congregation in Roche a Cree across the Wisconsin River in calling a pastor from Norway. But this took time. The congregation was served for eleven years by Pastor H. A. Preus.

The congregation's first log church was undoubtedly built in the summer of 1861. On December 6, 1861, the congregation incorporated under the name of "The Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Congregation near the Lemonweir River, Juneau County, Wisconsin." The first elected trustees were: Anders Arnesen Rosseland - for three years, Torstein Thorbjornsen - for two years, and John Halvorsen - for one year. The Lemonweir church was dedicated by Pastor Preus on Tuesday, August 28, 1863.

August 30, 1864, Candidate of Theology, Styrt Sjursen Reque was called as pastor for the Lemonweir, Roche a Cree, and Moe (Newport) congregations. Because the congregation in Lemonweir had increased three-fold, the pastor's residence was to be at Lemonweir. On October 14, 1865, the three congregations entered into an agreement to purchase 80 acres of land in section 30 of Lisbon Township as a parsonage for their pastor. The land was purchased from E. Benedict Trowbridge and his wife. The Lemonweir Church contributed $350 and the Roch a Cree and Moe congregations each contributed $200 toward the purchase. The Lemonweir congregation also paid $50 to repair the dwelling on the premises. The trustees who signed the agreement were Gabriel Odsen, Endre Einarsen, Helge Hegesen, and Isaac Emmunsen from the Lemonweir Church; Andrew O. Hahn and S. H. Hilleboe from the Roch a Cree Church; and Martin Nilsen from the Moe Church.

Reque, the son of Sjur Styrkson Reque (see) and Anna Pedersdtr., was born on November 27, 1836 in Voss Township, Hordland County, Norway. His parents brought him to the United States in 1845. On July 9, 1865, Pastor Preus officiated at confirmation and preached his farewell sermon. Pastor St. S. Reque was installed the same day. Pastor Preus served eleven years and conducted thirty-four church services during those years (see Memoirs; East Lemonweir Lutheran Church, 1854-1979 for a more detailed history).

West Lemonweir Church

In the late fall of 1871, the Lemonweir congregation divided into the East and West Lemonweir congregations. Norlie gives 1873 for the division with 276 members in 1875 and 189 in 1910. The pastors were: B. Hovde, 1871-75; G. A. Lunde, 1875-80; M. P. Rue, 1880-96; C. L. Schive, 1896-06; C. A. H. Hjermstad, 1906--.

The West Lemonweir Church was built in 1874. The church was ready for use by May. The church was located near the tunnel in section 31 of Fountain Township. On August 3, 1924, the church was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

Luckily, services that were to take place in it had been cancelled by the pastor, Rev. C. Hjermstad or there might also have been loss of life. The loss was estimated to be from $8-10,000, with insurance of $3,000. Twice before, lightning struck the building and during the tornado of 1907, it was considerably damaged.

The congregation continued their services by renting the German Lutheran Church in Hustler for a few years. Then they bought a church building owned by a Baptist denomination. Today, only the cemetery remains on the original site in section 31.

Fountain Lutheran Church

Whatever the specific cause, in 1878, some of the members of the West Lemonweir congregation decided to break away from their church. That their discontent was theological is suggested by a statement in the church history:

The great objective of these families was to keep the word of God in its truth and purity.

The implication is that, in their minds, the congregation that they left had not done so.

On July 4, 1878, fifteen families met on the farm of Helge Bratland (later owned by Roderick Benson). Osmund K. Ormson was chairman of this meeting and apparently a leader in the departure from the West Lemonweir Church. He was elected church treasurer, a post he held for forty years. He also had the honor of naming the church.

The Fountain Lutheran Church was founded by O. K. Ormson, his brothers-in-law, Daniel Larson and John Benson, Andres Osmundson, Erik Standeness (Halverson), Paul Paulson, Helge Bratland, Sveinung Helgeson, Ole Tveiten, Ole Nilsen Kleven, Peter Erickson, Ole Boen, Bjerinde Evenson, Ole Johnson, Lars Aarhus, and Kjostol Iverson.

At first they met in the homes of members and in school houses. They received the help of the Reverend M. Falk Gjertsen, but it wasn't until 1880 that Fountain Church installed its first regular pastor, the Rev. Johannes E. Nord (see), who also served the Freeman and Franklin Churches in Vernon County and had to travel 50 miles to conduct services.

The first child born in the congregation and baptized in the new Fountain Church was Ellen Benson, dau of John Benson and Angjer Ormson. She was born on February 23, 1881. The little girl was also the first member to die, at the age of 2 years, 9 months in November 1883. The first confirmation class included John O. Tveiten, Ole Helgeson, Bjaerne Bjaernesen, Kari Moklev, Oline Helgesdatter, and Elizabeth Martinson. The first couple to be married at Fountain were Lars Aarhus and Anne Jacobsen.

The first church was built in 1881 by the members. It was 24 by 34 feet and was 14 feet high. Before it was half completed, services were held in it. The church was enlarged in 1887, and was dedicated by the district president, Rev. G. Hoyme, in 1888. By the late 1890's, it became apparent that the church was too small. In 1900, a drive began to finance a new church building. The building contract was let to John O. Johnson, who, reportedly, did the work for a "very reasonable fee." The new church was 32 by 56 feet, and 18 feet high, with an 84 foot spire. A team of horses owned by Olaus "Louie" Nelson raised the 1,240 pound bell to the belfry. The first service was held on Christmas day, 1900. The new church was dedicated by Rev. G. Hoyme in November 1901. There were renovations to the building in 1928 and 1952.

In the three years the Rev. Nord served, the congregation doubled in size. He was succeeded by Rev. Ole H. Stenson (see) in 1884, who served until 1888, by which time the church rolls again had doubled. There was no regular pastor from 1888 to 1890. Succeeding pastors were Rev. Nils A. Giere (see), 1890-1898; Rev. Lars Lund, 1899-1912; Rev. John Madsen, 1912-1921; Rev. O. M. Kleven, 1921-1929; Rev. A. M. Rusten, 1930-1948; Rev. Oscar Thompson, 1948-1957; Rev. Ronald Nowland, 1959-1962; and Rev. Gordon J. Hendrickson, 1962--.

Norlie disagrees in the date of organization, 1879, and lists the pastors and their dates of service differently. He has O. H. Stenson, 1884-89; O. Barikimo, 1889-91; N. A. Giere, 1891-97; L. Lund, 1897-11; and J. Madsen, 1912--.

In 1911, Fountain and the Plymouth Church constructed a parsonage near the Plymouth Church. In 1921 this parsonage was sold and a new one built at Elroy (Plymouth Township). The Greenwood Church in Greenwood Township, Vernon County was added to the parish in 1929. Bethany Lutheran Church in Mauston was established in 1944, and became part of the parish. Fountain purchased the hotel in Hustler (Fountain Township) in 1946, and converted it into the Fountain Lutheran Mission Home for the Aged, with a capacity of 18 residents. In 1948, the parish links with Plymouth, Greenwood, and Bethany were severed. The parsonage in Elroy was sold and a home was purchased in Hustler for a parsonage. The new parsonage was dedicated in 1950. At the end of 1952, the congregation entered a new parish alignment with Trinity Lutheran Church in Hustler.

Plymouth Norwegian Evangelical Church, Lindina Township

The Plymouth Church was organized on August 26, 1896. Later in the year, a joint meeting was held with Fountain Church. It was agreed that those who found it more convenient might join the new Plymouth Church. The two churches issued a call to Reverend Lars Lund to serve the two congregations. According to tradition, the Plymouth Church was to be located on Goodenough Hill in Plymouth Township. However, before construction began, the members decided to move to a flat place in Lindina Township but retained the name Plymouth. By the end of 1897, the new church was built. The basement and the steeple with a bell were not added until 1905. Because so many of its members were from Suldal, Norway, it was called the Suldal Church. Many of the settlers took the Suldal, Norway farm names for surnames. They included Austara (Osteria or Osteraa), Bakka, Berge, Bleskestad, Haugen, Bratland, Bratveit, Borkjenes (Birkeness), Foss, Forland, Gaggledal, Helganes, Kalhagen, Orevik (Erwick), Litlhamar (Lillihammer), Lofthus, Lunde, Meland, Mo, Teigen (Tien or Teien), Moklev, Nordmork, Ritland, Roalkvam, Kvamen, Sandvik, Steinbrug (Stenbro), Straapa, Sukka, Solestad, Vetrhus (Winterhus), Waarvik (Vaarvik), and Aahus. Plymouth merged with Bethany Church in Mauston in 1959.

Elroy Scandinavian Lutheran Church
Norwegian Lutherans living in Elroy attended the East Lemonweir Church until 1897 when the Elroy Scandinavian congregation was incorporated and a church built. In 1944, the name of the congregation was changed to Our Savior's Lutheran and two years later it called its first resident pastor. In 1960, they merged with Peace Lutheran and chose the name Grace Lutheran.

The first pastors were C. L. Schive, 1897-1906 (1904?) and C. A. H. Hjermstad, 1906-. (Pastor Schive returned to Norway in 1904.) treasurer, a post he held for forty years. He also had the honor of naming the church.

The Elroy Scandinavian Lutheran Church was founded by O. K. Ormsen, his brothers-in-law, Daniel Larson and John Benson, Andres Osmundson, Erik Standeness (Halverson), Paul Paulson, Helge Bratland, Sveinung Helgeson, Ole Tveiten, Ole Nilsen Kleven, Peter Erickson, Ole Boen, Bjedne Evenson, Ole Johnson, Lars Aarhus, and Kjostol Iverson.

At first they met in the homes of members and in school houses. They received the help of the Reverend M. Falk Gjertsen, but it wasn't until 1880 that Fountain Church installed its first regular pastor, the Rev. Johannes E. Nord (see), who also served the Freeman and Franklin Churches in Vernon County and had to travel 50 miles to conduct services.

Necedah: Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church
Preaching took place in homes until the Norwegians in the Necedah area organized to form the Scandinavian Evangelical Church in 1874. The first regular pastor was Reverend Brynjolf Hovde. A frame building with a steeple and bell was erected and dedicated in 1876. The church became defunct in 1931. Two years later the building was sold to St. James Lutheran Church.
Norlie gives the date of organization as April 18, 1875. There were 55 confirmed members in 1875 and 5 in 1914. The pastors were: Brynjolf Hovde (see), 1875-78; G. A. Lunde, 1878-80; Martin P. Ruh (see), 1880-88; Ole Barikimo (see), 1888-96; Hans H. Hagen (see), 1896-14; Invalid O. Thvedt (see), 1914 - 1918.

The church officers in 1915 were chairman, Carel Carelson; secretary, Hans Anderson; treasurer, Hans Anderson; and Hans Haugen.

Armenia Norwegian Lutheran Congregation

Many of the earliest settlers in Armenia Township were Norwegians. Although the majority of them were members of the Necedah congregation, the distance to be traveled, 14 miles, meant that only on special occasions were they able to attend church. In 1892, Pastor Olaf Barikmo (see), from the Roche a Cree congregation in Arkdale in Adams County, agreed to hold services for eight or nine families in the area. When there was an opportunity to visit them, Pastor Barikmo held services in their homes or in school houses. When Barikmo left the parish in the spring of 1896, no services were held for several months. In the fall of 1896, Pastor Hans Hansen Hagan, the new pastor for the Roche a Cree congregation, took over the field. H. H. Hagen (see) served the Armenia congregation from 1896 to 1912.

After worship services on August 17, 1896, the Armenia Norwegian Lutheran Congregation was organized. The following legally voting members were elected: John Norsby; John Norsby, Jr., secretary.; Al Norsby; Martin Sparby; Nils Teigen; Knud Gunderson; Lars Larson, Otto Hustlegarden, Ole Sparby, and John Sparby.

The church officers (Embedsmænd) in 1897 were Ole Norsby, secretary; Martin Stensberg, treasurer; trustees - Lars Larson, Knud Gunderson, & Ole Sparby; Ole Norsby, pastor's assistant; and Jacob Norsby, Sunday school superintendent. In 1912, Ole Norsby was secretary.

The additional members had come from Dane and Lafayette counties and Dexterville in Wood County. A building was constructed and dedicated on December 13, 1899 by Pastor O. Gulbrandson from Blair, Wisconsin. Others who joined the congregation were Paul Olson, Lars Lee, Lars Teigen, Martin Hensberg, Ole Enkerud and later E. Baeken and A. Battbe. The church disbanded in 1912 and the building was taken over by St. Paul's German Lutheran congregation of New Miner.

The cemetery, now called St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Cemetery, is located on the northeast corner of section 22. From Necedah, take County G north through New Miner. About 2 1/2 miles beyond New Miner there is a sign a 6th Street, East and 19th Avenue, pointing the way to the churchyard, about a mile north on 19th Avenue. The cemetery includes the following markers that appear to be for Norwegians:

Sprague Congregation

Sprague Station, located on the railroad line in section 3 of northern Necedah Township, is the probable location of this church. It was organized in 1896 by Hans Hansen Hagen (see). Pastor Hagen served the congregation from 1896-1912. I. O. Thvedt became the pastor in 1914. There were 42 confirmed congregational members in 1898 and 25 in 1915. Ole Enkerud (see) served as the church secretary in 1915. Information on when this church closed is not available.

Hickory Grove Congregation

This church was probably organized in 1897. It was part of the Norwegian Synod. Paul Adolf Dietrichson (see) was the pastor from 1897 to 1901. There were 51 confirmed members in 1898. It is not known if the church was in existence after 1901. A resident of the area recalls that there was once a church near Dugar Hill in Finley Township that was called the Hickory Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

The Hickory Grove or Dugar Hill Cemetery is located in Finley Township in the southwest corner of section 13, Township 20, north; range 3, east. It is located on Dugar Hill on 12th Avenue, north at a point where the road curves to the left. There were a lot of grave markers in the 1920's but only two old ones remain, Anna Christine Krogfoss and Benet Severson. The 1898 plat book for Juneau County shows the cemetery just across the line in section 24 on both sides of the road.

In the 1878 Atlas of Wisconsin, Hickory Grove was a small community on the west bank of the Yellow River in section 23 of Armenia Township. On the 1876 plat map of Juneau County, the property where Hickory Grove was located was owned by S. B. Thompson. In 1898, the property was owned by Nils Waller. The Dugar Hotel was located 2 miles northeast in section 13. In 1876, that property was owned by A. B. Dugar and 1898 by Louis Larson.
Sources

The church histories are taken from O. M. Norlie, ed., Norsk lutherske menigheter i America, 1843-1916, Minneapolis, Augsburg, 1918.
This is a record of many of the early Juneau County settlers compiled from the East Lemonweir Church records, cemetery records, Gamle Suldal, Sukka - Aetta, Bygdasoga for Sand, bygdeboks from Sogn og Fjordane County, Telemark, Hordaland, and other Norwegian counties, genealogies, census records, newspapers, birth, marriage, and death records from the Juneau County Register of Deeds, and published and unpublished genealogies. It is not meant to be a complete record. The children listed are those found in the church records and cemetery records. In many cases the children that survived and lived to become adults are not listed because they do not appear in the sources that I have consulted.

Many of the Norwegian parishes have bygdeboks, local history books, which are of value to genealogists and local historians. They usually include an overview of the history and geography of the community and then a detailed, chronological account of individual farms, their owners and families. They may even tell who has emigrated from the community.

The main parish sometimes included subparishes. These main parishes have evolved into political subdivisions of the counties called kommunes which are roughly equivalent to townships in the United States. The main parishes are called prestegaards and the subparishes are called sogns. Another translation or use of prestegaard is clerical district. The sogn is then translated as parish. This is the way the LDS Family History Catalog uses the terms. The term fylke means county. Amt was the previous term for county.

Gamle Suldal; Gards- og Aettesoge, by Hallvard M. Hoftun (Suldal Kommune, 1972) and Sukka - Aetta; Olav i Sukka i Suldal og Hans Etterslekt by Rudolf Dreyer (Rogaland Historie og Aettesogelag) are detailed family histories of Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway. Gamle Suldal is organized by farm and those who worked the farms. Sukka - Aetta starts with Olav of Sukka and traces ten generations of his descendents. Gamle Suldal is easier to use but does not contain information about those who moved to neighboring townships or counties. Sukka - Aetta contains much information about those who lived in Sand Township, Rogaland County and Roldal Township, Hordaland County. Roldal was a subparish of the Suldal Parish from some time before the Reformation in 1536 until May 22, 1885 and there were many marriages back and forth. The Roldal Bygdebok is useful in finding information about the settlers from Roldal. Bygdasoga for Sand i Ryfylke by Amund Salveson is a history of the farms in Sand Township, Rogaland County. It is of limited use in tracing families.

The bygdeboker of interest in researching the settlers from Telemark are Gransherad, Hjartdal, Kviteseid, Laardal, Mo, Rauland, Seljord, Tinn, and Vinje. A knowledge of the way the parishes have evolved over the years is necessary to understand where to find census records and which bygdebok a family and farm will appear in.

The Rauland Prestegaard or clerical district consists of 3 parishes, Rauland, Øyfell, and Møsstrand. The Rauland clerical district was created in 1859 when Rauland (Rolands Annex) was separated from Vinje clerical district. The 1801 census for Rauland parish is included in Vinje. Øyfell parish was separated out from Laardal clerical district, and Møsstrand parish was created by separating out an area from three clerical districts: Vinje, Seljord, and Tinn. The 1801 census for Øyfell is part of Laardal (Laardal is called Tokke in the Digitalarkivet records) and the researcher must check Vinje, Seljord and Tinn for the 1801 census for Møsstrand.

The Vinje clerical district consists of the parishes of Vinje, Nesland, and Grungedal. Lårdal (Laardal) clerical district consists of three parishes: Lårdal, Eidsborg and Høydalsmo. Mo clerical district consists of two parishes: Mo and Skafse (Skafse). These two parishes were separated out from Fyresdal clerical district in 1769 to form Mo clerical district. Tinn clerical district consists of the parishes Tinn (Atrå), Austbygdi (Østbygde), Mæl, and Rjukan with Dal. It also used to include Hovin parish until 1859 when this parish was transferred to Gransherad clerical district. Gransherad clerical district consists of the parishes Gransherad and Hovin. Gransherad clerical district was established in 1859 when Gransherad parish was separated out from Hjartdal clerical district and Hovin parish was separated out from Tinn clerical district to form a new clerical district. For earlier parish records see Hjartdal clerical district and Tinn clerical district. Kviteseid clerical district consists of three parishes: Kviteseid (Hvidesøe), Brunkeberg and Vrådal. Until 1810 it also included Nissedal parish and Treungen parish which in that year were separated out to form Nissedal clerical district. It also included Ytre Flåbygd parish which was transferred to Bø clerical district in 1845. Hjartdal clerical district consists of three parishes: Hjartdal, Sauland and Tuddal. It also used to include Gransherad parish which was separated out in 1859 to become Gransherad clerical district.

The Norwegian censuses of 1801 and 1865 are very useful for completing the story of the settlers in Norway. They can be used to verify information in the bygdeboks or locate families missed in the bygdeboks. The United States censuses have been indexed for Norwegians in 1850, 1860 and 1880. All of the US censuses have been indexed by Ancestry.com. The addition of the 1870 census and 1900 to 1930 fills in information about the various Norwegian American settlements.

Whenever possible, I have tried to trace families one generation back into Norway. This helps in the identification of many of the settlers because so many members of the same family would come to the same place. Most of the Norwegians who settled in Fountain, Lindina, Lisbon, and Plymouth townships in Juneau County and Clifton Township in Monroe County came from Suldal Township or from upper Telemark County and Laerdal Township in Sogn og Fjordane County.

Those who settled in Necedah and Germantown townships are harder to trace. The settlements were smaller and have not survived as distinct communities. There was a great deal of contact with the Roche a Cri settlement in Strong Prairie Township in Adams County and the records for the Scandinavian Lutheran Church in Necedah, the Armenia Church, and the Sprague Church were found in the Arkdale Lutheran Church (formerly the Roch a Cree Church). Other churches or communities with strong ties to Juneau County include the Moe Settlement near the former community of Newport in Sauk County; the Greenwood Church in Greenwood Township, Vernon County; and the community of Dexterville in Wood County.

“The History of Juneau County” by Joseph Hanson, a series of articles, which appeared in the Mauston Star in 1888 and 1889, provides some information on when and where the earliest settlers located. The Map of Juneau County, Wisconsin, 1876, G. V. Nash and F. B. Morgan, compilers & publishers is also very useful in determining locations of early settlers. The Plat Book of Juneau County, Wisconsin, C. M. Foote, Pub. Co., 1898 and the Atlas and Farmers Directory of Juneau County, Wisconsin, St. Paul, MN, The Farmer and Webb Publishing Company, 1914 are extremely useful in determining the extent of the Norwegian settlement at its peak around 1900. The 1914 atlas and directory is an excellent source on information for the names of wives and children.

1844-1846, ed. by Blaine Hedberg, 1997 has been useful in identifying several of the earliest settlers to Juneau County. The Flying Ember, Book II, “The Flight of the Ember” by Arnold Temte, 1997 has provided information on the Temte and Bordalen families.

One of the challenges in writing the history of the Norwegian settlement is the problem of names. Many of the settlers used several different names before settling on a family name. The name could be a farm name from Norway or could be formed by adding "son" to the father's name. For example, Ole Johnson Kvam might take the name Johnson or Kvam. It becomes more complicated when the names settled upon were different even within families. At times it takes real detective work to connect the name used at the time of emigration, the census records, and the name on the cemetery headstone. I have tried to use see references to lead researchers to their family. For names such as Nelson and Olson, I have ignored spelling variations and put them all under Nelson, Olson, etc. This may not be the final spelling used or even the name finally chosen.

The Cemetery Books published by the Juneau County Genealogy Society are referred to by number. For example, JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 302. East Lemonweir Church records are ELCR; Juneau Co death records (JDR); Juneau Co marriage records (JMR); Fountain Church records (FCR); Plymouth Church records (PCR); Armenia Church records (ACR); Sprague Church records (SCR); Scandinavian Lutheran Church in Necedah records (SLCR); etc.

Ingebret was married to Christine Olsdatter. Christine was born in 1796. She does not appear in the Gran baptisms nor does she appear in the 1801 census for Gran. Christine was probably born in a neighboring parish. When their daughter, Siri, was born, Ingebret was a tenant on a husmann place on the Egge farm in Gran. At the time they emigrated in 1853 with their daughter and son-in-law, Ole T. Olsen (see), Ingebret was listed as a Selveier. [Selveiers were a freeholders. They owned land and had a registered deed to prove it, equal in social class to a leilending. Neither Ingebret or Christine have been located in the 1860 Wisconsin census. They probably died before 1860 and maybe before 1855.

Jens was born on April 12, 1821 and baptized on April 15, 1821 in Sogndal Township, Sogn of Fjordane County, Norway (comments: faren sitt etternamn er Vatlestad) (Baptisms in parts of Sogn og Fjordane County during the period, 1669-1895, Digitalarkivet).

Jens A. Watlestad, 28, steerage, departed Bergen on the brig, Bjørgvin, on May 12, 1849 and arrived in New York on July 6, 1849. The captain was Gunder Peder Olson. The Bjørgvin was built in Bergen in 1849 and owned by Lorentz Nicolaysen and others. A brig is a vessel with two masts (fore and main), both of which are square rigged. Steerage was the lowest price accommodations on ships. The Bjørgvin carried 110 passengers in 1849 (Passenger lists and Emigrant ships from Norway-Heritage, www.norwayheritage.com).

Jens settled, first, in Cottage Grove Township in Dane County, Wisconsin. He was married on November 23, 1851 in the Koshkonong Lutheran Church to Ragnhilde (Ragna) Johannesdtr. Spilde (Naeseth, GB & Hedberg, B, Norwegian Immigrants to the US, v. 4, 1849, p. 102, #1289).

Ragnhilde, the daughter of Johannes Olsen N. Spildo and Brita Sjursdatter, was born on March 3, 1820 in Ulvick Parish, Hordaland County, Norway (Hedberg, B & Naeseth, GB, Norwegian Immigrants to the US, v. 5, p. 179, #2227).

Ragna Johannesen, 30, and Peder Johannesen, 4, were between deck (steerage) passengers number 30 & 31 on the bark Therese. The Therese departed Bergen and arrived in New York with 130 passengers on August 28, 1850. The captain was Chr. Lahn (Passenger lists and Emigrant ships from Norway-Heritage, www.norwayheritage.com).

Peder Spilde Mikkelsen (see), born on June 4, 1846 in Ulvik Parish, Hordaland County, was Ragnhilde's son by Mikkel Pedesen Istad Hedberg, B & Naeseth, GB, Norwegian Immigrants to the US, v. 5, p. 179, #2227. He appears in the 1860 census as Peter Alexson.

Jens and Ragnhilde remained in Dane County where several of their children were born in the early 1850's. They moved to Plymouth Township in Juneau County, Wisconsin in 1859 or early 1860 and joined the East Lemonweir Church on October 30, 1860. They appear in the 1860 census.

Jinty Alexon, 40, b. Norway, a farmer with $400 in real property and $150 in personal property, is listed as head of household #1562/1406 in the 1860 census for Plymouth Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with Rheina, 41, b. Norway, Peter, 14, b. Norway, Mariam, 9, b. WI, Breta, 6, b. WI, John, 4, b. WI, and Joseph, 3/12, b. WI. The census was enumerated on September 6, 1860. Their post office was in New Lisbon, WI.

James Alleckson of Fountain Township, Juneau County Wisconsin enlisted on November 18, 1861 for Civil War service. He was recruited by Yates V. Beebe in New Lisbon, Juneau County, Wisconsin. James was mustered into service on February 10, 1862 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin into the Tenth Battery, Light Artillery. Proceeding to Camp Utley in Racine, Wisconsin, they remained until March 18, 1862, when they were ordered to St. Louis with the following officers: Captain Yates V. Beebe, First Lieutenant David C. Platt, Junior First Lieutenant James Toner, Second Lieutenant P. H. M. Groesbeck, and Junior Second Lieutenant Henry A. Hicks. The Tenth Battery was accompanied by the Eighth and Ninth light artillery batteries.

They arrived in St. Louis on March 20th and were quartered at Benton Barracks. On the 1st of April, by order of General Halleck, twenty-five men were transferred to the Eighth Battery, and Lieutenant Henry A. Hicks, with forty-five men including James, were transferred to the Ninth Battery.

The Ninth, known as the Randall Battery, was organized on January 27, 1862 at Burlington in Racine County, Wisconsin by Captain Cyrus H. Johnson. After their arrival in St. Louis, they were equipped with a battery of six guns and their complement of men was filled by the transfer of James and 45 other men from the Tenth Battery. The Ninth Battery was moved up the Missouri River to Leavenworth, Kansas, arriving on April 3rd. There they were furnished with horses and otherwise supplied for their march across the plains. They left Leavenworth on April 26th, proceeding by way of Ft. Kearney and Julesburg. They reached Denver, Colorado on June 2nd, a distance of 700 miles.
At Denver, the battery was divided. On June 4th, the right section, under Lieutenant James H. Dodge, marched to Fort Union in New Mexico. Soon after the right section left Denver, the left section, under Lieutenant Watson J. Crocker, marched to Fort Lyon and then to Fort Larned in Kansas, a distance of 480 miles. The left section remained at Fort Larned until December 1864. Fort Larned was established to protect travelers, commerce, and mail on the Sante Fe Trail from Indians.

The center section under Captain Cyrus Johnson marched from Denver to Fort Lyon, a distance of 246 miles. On July 5th, the right section left Fort Union and marched to Fort Lyon, where it joined the center section. The center section was ordered back to Denver in August, where they remained until December 11th. On October 21, 1863, Captain Johnson was dismissed from service and Lieutenant Dodge was commissioned as Captain. On December 11th, the center section again marched to Fort Lyon, where they rejoined the right section. These two sections remained in Colorado until April 26, 1864, either at Fort Lyon or at Denver, making frequent marches to the distant frontier. Fort Lyon was located on the Arkansas River east of Pueblo.

The most noteworthy of these marches was by Lieutenant John Edington and the right section in June 1863. The march was a distance of 240 miles and was made in three days – the quickest in the history of the war at that date.

The two sections at Fort Lyon were relieved from duty and on April 17, 1864, they left Fort Lyon, arriving at Council Grove, Kansas on May 18th, where they remained as garrison of the town escorting trains and U. S. mail coaches over the road until August, when the right and center sections were stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas. The right section, under Lieutenant Edington, left Council Grove on July 24th and leaving a detachment under Lieutenant Hicks, at Salina, joined an expedition under General Curtis against the Indians at Fort Larned. The center section, under Captain Dodge, took part in an expedition for the relief of Government trains which had been attacked by Indians, returning to camp on July 31, after marching 195 miles.

On July 17, 18 and 19, 1863, Lieutenant Watson Crocker and the left section held Fort Larned with its large and valuable government supplies against the combined forces of the Indians in that locality. Late in August 1863, Lieutenant Edington and the right section, now stationed at Fort Riley, joined in an expedition to Smoky Hill, where the Indians were defeated in a well-contested fight. Smoky Hill was a stage station located 20 miles southwest of Oakley, Kansas.

On October 14, 1864, the right and center sections with 4 guns, except for a small detachment under Lieutenant Edington, left Fort Riley, Kansas under the command of Captain Dodge. By forced marches, they reached Shawneetown on October 18th and under the command of General Curtis joined the division of General Blunt, then in pursuit of General Price’s retreating forces. They followed the retreating general from Kansas City, taking part in the battle of Westport, Missouri. In the battle at Westport, the Ninth Battery broke the charge of a column, 6,000 strong, three successive times.

From Westport, they marched to Little Santa Fe, and then proceeded to Fort Scott. By a forced march of 142 miles, they reached Keittsville, Missouri on October 30th. From there, they moved to Fayetteville, Arkansas, where it was determined that General Price’s forces had been driven across the Arkansas River.

They were allowed to rest until November 15th, when they moved to Paoli, Kansas. In December, this portion of the battery proceeded to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. In January 1865, they were joined by Lieutenant Watson Crocker and the left section from Fort Larned preparatory to the reorganization of the veterans. The veteran battery was organized on January 27, 1865 with Lieutenant Crocker as Captain. The detachment, which had been left at Fort Riley, under Lieutenant Edington, rejoined the battery at Fort Leavenworth.

The battery was mustered out of service at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas on September 30, 1865, and arrived in Madison, Wisconsin on October 4th, where the men were paid and received their final discharge. During the 3 years, the battery lost 6 men from disease.
James is not listed as a veteran and was mustered out on January 26, 1865, when his term of service expired.

Jens and his family have not been identified in the 1870 census. The family does appear in the Lemonweir Church records during this time. Jens was a witness at the wedding of Ole Orethus Nilson (see) and Siri Johannesdatter in 1869. He was also a witness at the weddings of his children in 1873 and 1874. His children appear in the East Lemonweir confirmation records for 1868, 1872, 1875 and 1877.

Jens and Ragnhilde moved to Minnesota in 1879. Jens Elleikson, 63, b. Norway, is listed as head of household in the 1880 census for Nordland Township, Lyon County, Minnesota with Ragnhild, 63, b. Norway, James, 20, b. WI, single, and Anna, 18, b. WI, single.

Although Jens is listed in both the 1885 and the 1895 Minnesota state censuses as serving as a soldier, he has not been located in the 1890 veterans schedules.

WI, operated a livery barn (1895 MN state census, Ancestry.com).

Ragna died in 1898 in Lyon County, Minnesota. Jens Elleksen appears in the 1900 census for the village of Minneota, Eidsvold Township, Lyon County, Minnesota as an 80 year old widower, born in April 1820 in Norway. He was living with his son, John (see Alleckson, John).

Jens (James Aleckson) died on April 10, 1905 in Lyon County, Minnesota (MN Death Certificates Index, http://people.mnhs.org/dci/Results.cfm).

Aslakson, Timon

Timon was born about 1807 in Vestre Slindre, Valders, Oppland County, Norway. He was married to Beret. Beret was born about 1800 in Norway.

Timon came from Dane County and settled in Armenia Township in 1857. Later, same year, Lewis Larson from Hurdalen, Norway settled in Armenia. This settlement, near the village of Miner, was called Valders Prairie (Ulvestad, Martin, Norwegians in America, 1907, 1913, translated from the Norwegian, Waukon, IA, Astri My Astri Publishing, 2010, p. 38).

In 1860 he farmed in Armenia Township. There were 6 other Norwegian households in the immediate vicinity. On the 1876-plat map of Juneau County, T. Osloe (Oslockson?) and J. Peterson (see John Peterson) owned farms in section 28 of northern Armenia Township. They were probably the two men in the 1860 census. Timan owned 80 acres (S1/2, NE1/4). This was the beginning of the Norwegian settlement at Miner.

He was married in 1889 to Nanna Goen. Olaf was the pastor in Arkdale, Adams County, Wisconsin from 1888 to 1897. The first Norwegian settlers to settle in Adams County were Peter Larson and Ole Tollefson Stolen. They came from Stavanger, Norway in 1850 by way of the Koshkonong, Wisconsin Norwegian settlement where they had worked for a time. The terrain along Roch-A-Cree Creek in Strongs Prairie Township had a surplus of the three elements considered indispensable by the pioneers, wood, water, and meadow. Pastor H. A. Preus (see) organized the Lutheran congregation in Roch-A-Cree in 1853. Although Adams County is generally considered the poorest in Wisconsin, the Roch-A-Cree Norwegian settlement around Arkdale in Strongs Prairie Township had around a 1000 hard-working farmers in 1908 (Holand, Hjalmar Rued, De Norske Settlemeters Historie, Ephraim, Wis, 1908; English trans. by Malcolm Rosholt).

Olaf served the Fountain Church in Juneau County from 1889 until 1891 when N. A. Giere began serving Fountain. In 1892, he agreed to hold services for 8 or 9 Norwegian families in Armenia Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. When there was an opportunity to visit them, Olaf held services in their homes or in the schoolhouses. He left the Armenia parish in the spring of 1896. Olaf was at Rock Dell, Minnesota from 1897-98. He suffered from ill health from 1898 to 1902. Olaf returned to Norway and died on June 25, 1902 in Hitterdal, Norway.

Benson, Nels (Niels, Nils) Bjornson Farastad s of Bjorn Odson Vaae and Tjorbjor Evensdatter.

Niels was born on the Vaae farm in Rauland, Telemark County, Norway on November 2, 1812 (Bjornson means "son of bear.") (Naeseth, Gerhard, Norwegian Immigrants to the US, v. 2, 1844-1846, p. 158). Niels was baptized on January 1, 1813. His sponsors were Ole and Hage Odegaard, Ona Sigvardsen Vaae, Anna and Ingebor Vaae, and Ma illegible.

Niels parents: Bjorn Odson, the son of Od Halvorson Romtved, was baptized on July 19, 1778 in the Rauland Parish. His sponsors were Aasne Roland, Gyri Worli, Tarand Odegaarden, Odne Nyssuo (Nystue), and Ingeborg Romtved (Vinge, Telemark, Parish register, birth and baptism records, 1778, p. 73, digitized parish records, Digitalarkivet). Bjorn Odsen is listed as a 22 year old, unmarried hired man on the Waa (Vaae) farm, Rolands (Rauland) Annex, Vinje Parish, Telemark, Norway in the 1801 Norwegian census.

Bjorn Odsen and Tjorbjor Evensdatter were married in Rauland Parish on July 2, 1809. The witnesses were Halvor Romtved and Halvor Berunuten (Vinge Parish register, official, digitized parish records, Digitalarkivet).

Torbjor, the daughter of Even Knutsen Botnes, was baptized on January 28, 1787 in the Rauland Parish. Her sponsors were Joren Taralien, Margit Soren, Knut Seitved?, Jov/Tov Roland, and Giermund Gioh? Thorbjor Evensd., is listed as a 14 year old hired girl on Romtved Nordre farm, Rolands Annex, Vinge Parish, Telemark, Norway in the 1801 Norwegian census.

Niels was vaccinated on November 19, 1825. When he was confirmed on November 1, 1829, he was living with his stepfather, Ole Kittlesen Farastad and his mother, Torbjor Evensdatter (Rauland, Telemark Parish register copy, confirmation records, 1829, p. 249).

Niels was married, first, on October 16, 1842 in the Rauland Parish, Telemark, Norway to Bergith Johnsdatter Odegaard. Nels was 30 and Bergith was 24. The witnesses were Ole Kittelsen Farastad and Laurantz Ougunsen Odegaard (Rauland Parish digitized records,
In 1843 and 1845, when their first two children were born, Niels was listed as a gaardmann (farm owner) on the Berunuten farm. Although listed as a farm in Rauland, his children’s baptisms were recorded in the Vinje Parish records, not the Rauland Parish records. See the digitized parish records for Telemark on the Digitalarkivet site.

Nels Berunuten and Bergith emigrated from Vinje, Norway with two children on May 14, 1845. Probably the sale of the Berunuten farm paid for their passage and their initial expenses in America. They sailed on the Louis Philippe from Havre on July 15, 1845 and arrived in New York on August 21, 1845. The captain was I. Castloff. All 132 Norwegian passengers were listed as having an initial destination of Ohio. Nils and Bergith settled first in the Koshkonong Settlement in Dane County, Wisconsin ("Koshkonong Church Register," Flom G., A History of Norwegian Immigration to the United States, 1909, p. 327; ELCR; Naeseth, v. 2, pp. 153, 158).

In 1850, Nils and Bergith sold their farm in Dane County to Lars Austaraa Olson (see) and moved to Lemonweir Township, Adams County (later Lindina Township, Juneau County). Nils settled on 80 acres in section 6 of Lindina Township.

Nils had been a noted athlete in Norway. He made the 75 mile trip to Stevens Point, Wisconsin on skis in a day and a night (probably this included the 75 mile return trip). He took a sack of grain to Portage and brought back flour and coffee, carrying the load on his back the 45 miles each way. Once an Indian came and found Bergith ill. In an hour he returned with venison which he made them understand was to make soup for the "sick squaw." Bergith died between April 1853 and July 1854. Their last child was born in 1853 and Bergith is not listed on the church membership list. Nils was one of the founders of the Lemonweir Church when it was organized on July 25, 1854 (member #6).

Nils was married, second, to Signe Lawrencedatter on October 21, 1859 in Lindina Township. The ceremony was Norwegian Lutheran by N. Beurmdt. The witnesses were Niels Nielsen and Lars Olsen. Nils was 46. Signe was 20 (Spring Prairie Church record, pp. 32-3; Juneau Co marriage rec.). Signe, the daughter of Lavrens (Lawrence) Augenson (see) and Anna Johnsdatter, was born in Vinje, Norway on March 4, 1839. She was confirmed in the East Lemonweir Church on May 10, 1859 (ELCR).
In 1880, Nils and Sarah were living on a farm in Lindina Township with 8 children and Sarah’s mother. Nils died on June 6, 1884 and was buried in the East Lemonweir Church cemetery. In 1905, Sarah (Signe) lived with her daughter, Bergit, in Plymouth Township (see Johannes Peter Anderson). Signe died on March 10, 1910 and was buried in the East Lemonweir cemetery on March 14, 1910 (Vital Records Index, www.familysearch.org; ELCR; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 227; Wis Cen, 1905, Plymouth #6; Mary Farrell corr, Mar 20, 2004).

Nils was born about 1775 in Norway. From S. Falkum, he was married, first, on November 15, 1798 to Helvig Hansdtr. S. Berge. Helvig, the daughter of Hans Aslaksen Berg (1743-1780) and Anne Helgesdtr. (c1731-1824), was baptized on July 9, 1780 in Gjerpen. Nils and Helvig lived on the Kolkinnmyr husmann place under Follaug in 1835. Nils also worked as a carpenter. Berg, Peter Nilsen s of Nils Oleson Berg (see?) and Hedvig Hansdtr.

Peter was born in 1825/6 in Gjerpen, Norway. He was married on June 13, 1878 at New Lisbon in the East Lemonweir Church parsonage by Rev. G. Lunde to Karen Nilsen. Peter was a 52-year-old, farmer living in Clifton Township, Monroe County, Wisconsin. The witnesses were Mrs. A. M. Lunde and Gullik S. Hagen. Karen, daughter of Nils Jakobson Stromdal and Anna Larsdtr. was born 1809/10 in Gjerpen, Norway. It was a second marriage for both of them. They were residents of Clifton Township, Monroe County, Wisconsin.

Peter is not listed in the Gjerpen church records nor is he listed in Hedvig Hansdatter’s probate record in 1837 as her child. In the East Lemonweir Lutheran Church marriage records and the Juneau County marriage records, he definitely gave Nils Oleson Berg and Hedvig Hansdtr. as his parents and Gjerpen as his birthplace. This needs further research.

Bever (Beaver, Baevre), John Frederik Frodesen

John was born on November 18, 1839 near the city of Kongsberg in Buskerud County, Norway. He immigrated to America in 1857. John was enlisted in the Civil War on October 28, 1861 at Waupun in Columbia County by Captain Campbell. He gave his residence as New Lisbon (Lisbon Township?). At the time he was 24 years old, unmarried, had brown eyes and hair, light complexion and stood 5 feet, 6 inches tall.

John served as a member of Company D in the 15th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. The 15th was known as the Scandinavian Regiment because its officers and enlisted men were almost all immigrants from Norway, Denmark, and Sweden. Company D called itself the Norway Wolf Hunters. “D” was mainly recruited from the Towns of Oconomowoc in Waukesha County, Waupun in Dodge County, New Lisbon in Juneau County, and Waterford in Racine County. A few men were recruited from Chicago and from Winneshiek County, Iowa. After several months at Camp Randall in Madison learning to be a soldier, Private Bever left with his company in early March 1862 to join the war. From then until April 1863, he was recorded as present. As such he would have been at the successful siege of Island No. 10 on the Mississippi River in Tennessee and in the surprise raid on Union City, Tennessee in March and April 1862. The summer he would have been on the campaign through Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama. In August and September, he took part in the grueling 400-mile retreat with General Buell to Louisville, Kentucky, with the last two weeks being on half rations and little water. On October 8, 1862, the company fought in the Battle of Perryville, Kentucky (also called the Battle of Chaplin Hills). In late December 1862, he would have participated in the 15th’s desperate charge upon a Confederate artillery battery at Knob Gap, Tennessee, just south of Nashville. There the 15th captured a brass cannon. He fought in the long, cold, wet, and bloody Battle of Murfreesboro, at the end of December 1862. It was there that the 15th first suffered serious battle casualties and was cited for bravery. John’s service wore him down physically. On April 4, 1863, Captain Skofstad of Company D recommended his discharge by reason of being unfit for military service. Oscar Trenkler, the regiment’s 1st Assistant Surgeon, agreed, stating that Private Bever was suffering from chronic diarrhea and general disability. John was discharged on April 10, 1863 because of disability.

John returned to Wisconsin but soon moved to Minnesota where he acquired land and began farming in Vernon and Canisteo Townships in Dodge County. There he raised money for the West St. Olaf Church in Vernon Township which had been organized by the 15th’s first chaplain, Claus L. Clausen. John was married on June 7, 1869 in Freeborn County, Minnesota to Sophia Ebeltoft. After their marriage, John and Sophia moved north to Becker County where they were among the earliest white settlers. Sophis died of tuberculosis during the first year of their marriage. John was active in local government. He served on the first board of county commissioners in 1871 and was Clerk of Court. John died of tuberculosis on May 17, 1873 in Oak Lake (now Audubon) Township in Becker County, Minnesota. He was buried in an unmarked grave (www.15thwisconsin.net; genealogical data provided by Mike Oiseth; Det Fentende Regiment, Wisconsin Frivillige [The Fifteenth Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteers] by Ole A. Bordalen, Soren s of Ole Olson Bordalen (see) and Liv Olsdtr. Foerness/Moesstrand

  Soren was born on November 16, 1828 in Vinje Township Telemark County, Norway. He probably emigrated with his parents in 1859. Soren Olsen enlisted for three years on August 15, 1862 at Madison, Wisconsin. His residence was given as Deerfield, Dane County, Wisconsin. He was a 35 year old farmer with blue eyes, light hair, and light complexion and was 5 foot 10 inches tall with a stout build. Soren was mustered as a private on October 25, 1862 at Camp Sigel in Milwaukee, Wisconsin in Company H, 27th Wisconsin Infantry. The 27th Infantry Regiment was mustered on March 7, 1863 and left Wisconsin on March 17 for Columbus, Kentucky for garrison duty. The regiment made an expedition to Cape Girardeau to expel Confederate raiders and was sent to Snyder’s Bluff in June, as part of the siege of Vicksburg. After the capitulation of Vicksburg, the regiment moved to Helena, Arkansas and on August 13 was sent to Little Rock, where it remained until March 1864.

  Soren left sick at Helena, Arkansas on August 13, 1863. He died on September 22, 1863 from chronic diarrhea in hospital at Memphis, Tennessee. Another source gives his death date as September 26. His father lived on a $12 per month Civil War pension as his survivor. Ole used the name Bordelen for himself and his son. Pension records state that Soren had a half-brother, Ole, who remained in Norway (was this by his father’s first marriage or his mother’s first marriage?) (Roster of volunteers, Wis State Hist Soc; SHSW red book, vol. 32, corr. with Jackie Hufschmid, LW Onsager files; Ancestry.com, civil war research database; Vesterheim Civil War database; Pension records, Hufschmid corr, Mar 26, 2004).

Bratland, Helge Olson s. of Ola Ostenson Urene, Roldal (see) and Kirsti Olsdatter Rabbe, Roldal.

Helge was born on January 25, 1832 in Roldal, Hordaland County, Norway. He was baptized in the Roldal Parish on June 30, 1832 (Roldal digitized parish record, Digitalarkivet, accessed Jan 15, 2016). In March 1858 (1856. Roldal Bygd, p. 536), Helge moved to Tjerand Tjerandsen’s portion of the Bratland farm in Suldal (Daniel Svendsen Betts email correspondence, 24 Jan 2016, LW Onsager files).

Helge was married, first, on May 2, 1858 in the Suldal Parish, Rogaland County, Norway to Helga Nielsdtr. Helga, the daughter of Nils Olson (Rabbe) Juvet, Roldal and Barbro Knu tsdtr. Botnen, Roldal, was born in 1831 in Roldal parish, present Hordaland County, Norway (Roldal Bygd, p. 412). She moved to the Bratland farm in Suldal at the same time as Helge (Betts Corr, 2016).

Helge and Helga with their two children, Kersti and Niels, emigrated from Suldal in 1861 (Betts Corr, 2016). They joined the East Lemonweir Church in Juneau County on June 26, 1862, the date of the baptism of their first child born in Wisconsin, Barbro. Their son, Niels, age 2, died probably in July 1862 (no cemetery headstone; ELCR). Between 1863 and 1870, they added six more children to their family, Nels, 1863, Oline (Ellen), 1864, Ole, 1866, Helge, 1867, Helga, 1868, and Oleanna (Anna) in 1870.

All of the other children were born in Wisconsin.

Helga had her last child in 1872. She died on January 11, 1873 at the age of 38. While still coping with his wife’s death, Helge lost two of his children. His daughter, Randvei, age 1 year and 8 days, died on February 21st and his son, Helge, age 5, died on March 9th. A burial service was held for all three on April 11, 1873. Burial was probably in the East Lemonweir Church Cemetery but there are not headstones (ELCR; JCGS Cem Book 3).

A widowed farmer with seven children, aged 3-15, living in Fountain Township, Helge was married, second, on June 6, 1873 in New Lisbon by Rev. Brynjolf Hovde to Marta Olsdatter Sorestad. Vik, was born on February 23, 1833 in Suldal, Norway (Gamle Suldal, p 303). She emigrated from Suldal in 1872.

Helge and Martha had two children, a son, Helge, born in 1874 and a daughter, Martha, born in 1878 when Martha was 44. They became charter members of the Fountain Lutheran Church on July 4, 1878. In 1880, they were living on a farm in Plymouth Township in Juneau County.

John Johnson, 25, b. WI, parents b. Norway, a harness maker, is listed as head of household #97/115 in the 1880 census for Stoughton Village, Dane County, Wisconsin with his wife, Rachel, 26, b. Ole and Rachel had a son, Carl, who was born on July 31, 1879 probably in Stoughton, Wisconsin (WWI Draft Reg Cards, 1917-1918; census records).
No record has been found to determine if Ole/John died before 1884 or if Ole/John and Rachel were divorced.

Dale (Dahl), Hans Johnson s of Jon Torson Dale and Sigrid Hansdatter Homleid

Hans was born on September 15, 1817 in Drangedal Parish, Telemark County, Norway. Drangedal Parish is located in a mountainous area of Telemark. Telemark County (fylke), formerly called Bratsberg is located in southern Norway, reaching from the coastline of the Skagerrak Sea which separates Norway from Denmark to the Hardangervidda mountain plains.

Hans emigrated on the bark Aeolus, sailing from Skien, Telemark to Havre. He sailed from Havre on June 5, arriving in New York on August 28, 1843. The ship carried 126 passengers and Jacob Torbjonsen was captain. A bark was a sailing ship with 3 masts. Hans Johnsen, 30, was listed a passenger number 119. His correct age was 25.

Hans traveled to the Koshkonong Norwegian settlement in Dane County, Wisconsin. The Koshkonong Prairie Settlement had been established in 1840 and took its name from Lake Koshkonong Lake and Creek. The lake is located in Jefferson County at the point where Dane, Jefferson and Rock counties meet. The most important and prosperous of the Wisconsin Norwegian-American settlements, its name was applied to a general region that extended a considerable distance from Lake Koshkonong and included the southeastern portion of Dane County, the southwestern part of Jefferson County, and the northern part of Rock County. The region actually consisted of smaller settlements separated by short distances from each other. He appears in the Koshkonong Church register, 1844-1850. Hans was married on June 17, 1847 to Gunhild Nicolaisdatter Omland (Naeseth, v. 1, pp. 279, 289, v. 2, p. 185).

Gunhild, the daughter of Nicolai Arnesen Omland (1788-1868) and Anne Tellefsdatter Oland (1789-1868), was born on August 7, 1829 in Gjoevdal Township, Aust-Agder County, Norway. She emigrated with her parents from Aaml Township in Aust-Agder County in 1845. They arrived on the Magnolia in New Orleans, Louisiana on November 17, 1845 from Havre. Edward Gray was the captain. There were 128 passengers. The passenger list indicated that all of the passengers had a destination of Missouri. Her parents went first to Illinois and then to the Koshkonong settlement in Dane County, Wisconsin.

Hans and Gunhild moved to Primrose (later Perry) Township in 1848. Perry is located in the southwest corner of Dane County and is named for Commodore Perry who won distinction in the naval battle of Lake Erie in the War of 1812. Perry was separated from Primrose Township in 1853.

At the time of the 1850 census, Hans was listed as living in Primrose Township. Hance Johnson, 34, b. Hans was elected as one of the 3 trustees when the Perry Church was formed on November 5, 1854. The Rev. A. C. Preus conducted most of the services through the year 1854 and the first half of 1855. After that, the Rev. Herman A. Preus of Spring Prairie, Wisconsin continued the services until the coming of Rev. Peter M. Brodahl in July 1856.

Hans Johnson, 42, b. Norway, a farmer with $1,200 in real estate and $544 in personal property, is listed as head of household # 76/77 in the 1860 census for Perry Township, Dane County, Wisconsin with Gunhild, 30, b. Dalve, Dena see Dalve, Randi Dena Dalve, Jacob, s/o Dalve, Svend Johannesen (see) and Dorthe Serine Pedersdtr. Hustoft.

Jacob was born on March 16, 1863 in Strongs Prairie, Adams County, Wisconsin. His parents were born in Nedstrand, Rogaland County, Norway and emigrated in 1850.
In 1880, Jacob Dolver, 17, worked in a sawmill in the village of Necedah. He boarded in the Eugene Cole boarding house (US Cen, 1880, Necedah village #81). This is the second time he appears in the 1880 census. He also appears with his parents in Strongs Prairie as Jacob Dalve, 16,
b. WI, at home. No other information has been found on Jacob. He may have died young or perhaps took different form of Dalve as his last name and has not been located.

Dalve, Randi Dena, d/o Dalve, Svend Johannesen (see) and Dorthe Serine Pedersdtr. Hustoft.
Randi was born on June 28, 1861 in Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin. She was living with her parents in 1870 and 1880.

Dena/Randi’s parents were born in Norway. Dena also appears in the 1880 census for Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin in her parents household as Deni, 19, b. WI, a domestic servant. I have discovered that many of the farm children from Strongs Prairie Township went to Necedah to find work as domestic servants or saw mill workers and appear in the census in both places.

Randi Dena (Avanda) Dalva, the daughter of Sven Dalve and Dora, was married on November 22, 1881 in Arkdale, Adams County, Wisconsin to Torger Gullickson Lonear. Randi was 20 and Torger was 26. Randi was married the same day as her sister, Siri Janne/Sarah Jane. Perhaps they had a double wedding in the Arkdale Norwegian Lutheran Church (see Lonear, Torger Gullicksen).

Dalve, Sarah see Kyen, Amandeus

Dalve, Svend Johannesen, s/o Johannes Svendsen Dalve and Sophie Bjornsdatter.
Svend was born on August 2, 1822 in, Nedstrand Township, Rogaland County, Norway. He was baptized on August 11, 1822 in the Hinderea Subparish, Nedstrand Parish, Rogaland County, Norway.

Nedstrand is a former municipality in Rogaland County, Norway. A municipality is roughly equivalent to a United States township. Originally named Naerstrand, the municipality was created on January 1, 1838. Nerstrand was also a church parish and included the subparishes of Hinderea and Sjærmerø. In 1881 the name of Hinderea was changed to Nerstrand, and between 1910 and 1920 it was changed to Nedstrand (Wikipedia, accessed, 3/22/2013).

Svend was married, first, on August 20, 1847 in Nestrand Parish, Rogaland County, Norway to Anne Karine Johannesdatter Nærse.
Anne Karine, the daughter of Johannes Tormodsen Nærse and Anne Andersdatter, was born on September 14, 1825 in Nedstrand. She was baptized on September 18, 1825 in Nedstrand Parish (FamilySearch.org).

Svend and Anne emigrated from Nedstrand in 1850 to Illinois and then to the Jefferson Prairie settlement in Rock County, Wisconsin. Svend, Anna Karine, and Anna Sophie registered with the sheriff on May 15, 1850 (Passregister for futen i Ryfylke, 1811-1859, Digitalarkivet). They sailed from Stavanger harbor. The party of six included Svend Johannesen Dalve, 28, his wife, Anne Karine Johannesdtr., 25, their daughter, Anne Sophie Dalve, Svend’s parents, Johannes Svendsen and Sophie Bjornsdtr, and Dorthe Serine Pedersdtr. Hustoft (Emigranter fra Stavanger, 1825-1970, Digitalarkivet).

Svend’s parents have not been located in the United States. Perhaps they died shortly after their arrival. Why Dorthe Serine traveled with them is not clear.

Suan (Swan) Johnson, 30, b. Norway, no occupation given, is listed as head of household #910/1071 in the 1850 census for Clinton Township, Rock County, Wisconsin with Ann C., 25, b. Norway, and Ann S., 1, b. Norway. The census was enumerated on August 27, 1850. They appear to be living in the same house with two other unrelated families (910/1069, 910/1070 and 910/1071).
Jefferson Prairie, one of the earliest Norwegian settlements in Wisconsin Territory beginning in 1838 and 1839, became a center for later Norwegian emigrants. It is located in Clinton Township, Rock County, Wisconsin and borders Illinois on the south. Rock County, named for the Rock River, was created from Milwaukee County on December 7, 1836. The Jefferson Prairie Norwegian settlement had a population of 407 in 1850 (Anderson, Arlow W. The Norwegian Americans, 1975, p. 51; Wikipedia; Holand, H. R., History of the Norwegian Settlements, 1908, 2006, pp. 53-56).

Hedberg states that Anne Karine died of cholera in 1850 in Illinois (Hedberg and Naeseth, Norwegians of the US, vol. 5, p. 288). Anne must have died after August 7, 1850 and before March 1853. A source is needed for which state she died in.

Svend Johannesen Dalve was married, second, on March 27, 1853 to Dorthe Serine Pedersdatter Hustoft (Hedberg and Naeseth, p. 288). Svend was 30 and Dorthe was 20.

Dorthe Serine, the daughter of Peder Samsonsen Hustoft and Siri Poulsdatter, was born on December 6, 1832 in Nedstrand, Rogaland County, Norway. She emigrated from Nedstrand in 1850 at age 18, sailing from Stavanger with Svend and Anne Karine (Emigranter fra Stavanger, 1825-1970, Digitalarkivet).

Svend and Dorthe probably settled in Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin between 1854 and 1856.

Strongs Prairie Township is named for M. Strong, who established a tavern on the “Pinery Road” in the 1840s on Big Roche-A-Cri Creek. The Pinery Road was blazed by Daniel Whitney about 1832 to supply his saw mill built on the east side of the Wisconsin River at the present site of Nekoosa in Wood County, Wisconsin. In 1850, a group of Norwegians from Koshkonong in eastern Dane and western Jefferson counties in Wisconsin, the largest Norwegian settlement in the U. S. at the time, left their homes and settled in Strongs Prairie near Arkdale in what became know as the Roch-a-Cree/Roch-a-Cri Norwegian Settlement. The first post office was called Vinje (later Arcade and finally, Arkdale). The first post master, Knud O. Harris, was appointed on June 15, 1864 (From Past to Present, the History of Adams County, edited by Michael C. Goc, New Past Press, 1999, pp. 18-22; Holand, Hjalmar R., History of the Norwegian Settlements, 1908, translated 2006, Astri My Astri Publishing, pp. 129-131; US Appointments of US Postmasters, 1832-1971, Ancestry.com).

Svend has not been located in the 1855 Wisconsin state census in either Rock County or Adams County. In addition to farming, Svend was a carpenter and wagon maker. He helped to build the Arkdale Norwegian Church in Adams County (Hedberg and Naeseth, p. 288). The Dalve farm was located on the east bank of the Wisconsin River, south of Route 21. John Dalve owned 160 acres in section 23 in 1900 (US County Land Ownership Maps, 1860-1918, Ancestry.com).

On July 11, 1859, Svend was elected as a trustee of the Roch a Cree Evangelical Lutheran Church in Adams County.

Swan Johnson, 38, b. Norway, a farmer with $500 in real estate and $150 in personal property, is listed as head of household #490/441 in the 1860 census for Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin with Dorothy, 28, b. Norway, Ann S., 11, b. WI, Ann C., 5, b. IL, Sarah J., 4, b. WI, Johannes, 3, b. WI, and Peter, 10 months, b. WI.

Dorothy died on December 23, 1868/9 in Strong Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin probably from complications of child birth (Ancestry.com). Her youngest child was born on December 1, 1868/9. Svend or Silas gave his birth date as December 1869 in the 1900 census but the family put 1868 on his cemetery headstone.

Svend Dalve, 47, b. Norway, a farmer with $900 in real estate and $400 in personal property, is listed as head of household 73/75 in the 1870 census for Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin with Sophia, 24, b. Norway, housekeeping, Anna C., 16, b. WI, at school, John, 13, b. WI, at school, Sarah J., 15, b. WI, Peter, 10, b. WI, Randi, 8, b. WI, Jacob, 7, b. WI, Pauline, 6, b. WI, Rebecca, 4, b. WI, and Svend, 1, b. WI.
Swin Dalve, 58, b. Norway, parents b. Norway, widowed, a farmer, is listed as head of household #38/39 in the 1880 census for Strongs Prairie Township, Adams County, Wisconsin with his daughter, Sarah, 24, b. WI, domestic servant, sons, John, 21, b. WI, works in saw mill, Peter, 20, b. WI, farmer, daughter, Deni, 19, b. WI, domestic servant, son, Jacob, 16, b. WI, at home, daughters, Paulina, 15, b. WI, at home, Rebecca, 12, b. WI, at home, and son, Swin, 10, b. WI. The census was enumerated on June 4, 1880.

Svend resigned as secretary of the church and moved about October 1886 to Ogema, Becker County, Minnesota perhaps joining his son, Peder, who was in Friendship Township, Yellow Medicine County, Minnesota by 1885.

Svend is said to have died on a visit to Yellow Medicine County, Minnesota (Hedberg and Naeseth, p. 288).

Guggedal, Lars Osmundson Bakken s of Osmund Larsson Boen, Guggedal (see) and Ingeborg Monsdatter. Lars was born at Boen, Guggedal on February 5, 1814. He was baptized on Pentecost in 1814. On June 16, 1840, Lars married Marta Tormodsdatter Vik. Marta, the dau of Tormod Osmundson Vik (see) and Marta Oddsdtr. Steine, was born on March 30, 1817 (April 16, 1817, JDR, 2-61) in Suldal, Norway. Lars was a schoolteacher for a time. He was an all-around man, good at composing verse, and of a gay disposition. Snatches of songs Lars wrote could still be heard in Suldal in 1908. He lived on the Bakken farm until April 1864 when he led a group of 50 people from Suldal to America.

They sailed from Stavanger on May 4 on the barks Hebe (Capt. Tønnes Olsen) and Iris
(Capt. O. Larsen) to Quebec. The two ships crossed the ocean in a racing spirit. Although the Iris was a newer ship and arrived in Quebec earlier (Hebe built in 1851 and Iris built in 1852) (both ships are listed as arriving on June 2), the captain of the Hebe “knew the ropes” and sailed from Quebec for Chicago two days earlier. The ships crossed in 29 days which is listed as the third fastest crossing of an immigrant sailing ship from Norway between 1840 and 1874 in the Solem, Swiggum & Austheim emigration ship index. The average crossing took 53 days. The fastest was 25 days and the longest took up to 100 days.

While in Chicago, the interpreter advised reaching Mauston in south central Wisconsin by way of Duluth, Minnesota and the Great Lakes. Lars had the idea that a shorter land route could be followed. He had a rather heated discussion with the interpreter. Curious bystanders settled the argument in favor of Lars and drove the interpreter from the depot (Osmund Larson obit, New norwayheritage.com).

The family arrived in Mauston on Saturday morning, June 10, 1864. They settled in Lisbon Township in June 1864 and joined the East Lemonweir Church in November 1864. Lars declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on December 3, 1864 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 389, 566;
Sukka-Aetta, pp. 187, 248; Holand, Hjalmar R., De norske settlementers historie, Ephraim, Wis., 1908, chap 20; ELCR; JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Halvorson, Christian Strand
   Christian was born in 1840 in Norway. Christian Halvorsen was enlisted by Captain Charles Campbell in Company D of the 15th Wisconsin on November 4, 1861, at the Town of Strong Prairie, Adams County, State of Wisconsin (another source gives New Lisbon as his place of enlistment). At the time he was 22 years old and not married. He was recorded as having brown eyes, dark hair, a light complexion, and standing 5 feet 9 1/4 inches tall. His occupation was listed as Farmer and his residence as the Town of New Lisbon, Juneau County, Wisconsin.
   On January 14, 1862, the men of Company D were issued Belgian rifle muskets. After nearly 3 months at Camp Randall in Madison, Wisconsin learning to be a soldier, Private Halvorsen left there on March 2, 1862, with his company and regiment to join the war. From then until January, 1863, he was recorded as “present” with the 15th. He fought in the siege of Island No. 10, State of Tennessee in the Mississippi River, and on the raid on Union City, Tennessee, in March and early April, 1862. That summer he would have been on campaign with the regiment though Tennessee and the States of Mississippi, and Alabama. In August and September he would have taken part in the grueling 400 mile retreat with General Don Carlos Buell up to the City of Louisville, State of Kentucky, with the last 2 weeks being on half rations and short of water.

Private Halvorsen fought at Perryville on October 8, 1862 in the Town of Perryville, Boyle County, Kentucky, which is also called the Battle of Chaplin Hills. While this was the 15th's first big battle, it emerged without any fatalities. On October 18, 1862, Private Halvorsen was assigned to guard the regiment's wagon train. On December 1, 1862, Private Halvorsen was appointed as a Corporal in Company D.

On December 26, 1862, Corporal Halvorsen participated in the 15th's desperate charge upon a Confederate artillery battery at Knob Gap, Tennessee, just south of the City of Nashville. There the 15th captured a brass cannon. Corporal Halvorsen took part in the long, cold, wet, and bloody Battle of Stone River, Tennessee, also called the Battle of Murfreesboro, on December 30-31, 1862. It is there that the 15th first suffered serious battle casualties, and was cited for bravery. One of the casualties was Corporal Halvorsen, who was "lightly wounded" in action on December 31, 1862.

For a time after the battle, Corporal Halvorson was listed as "absent" in a hospital in Nashville, Tennessee, recovering from his wound. The 15th camped in the Murfreesboro area for the next 6 months, except for 2 weeks in February when it was sent to the Town of Franklin, Tennessee. It is believed that Corporal Halvorsen was back with the 15th in time to take part in General Rosecrans' Tullahoma campaign, which started June 23, 1863. On July 3, 1863, the 15th went into camp at the Town of Winchester, Franklin County, Tennessee, for 6 weeks.

On August 17, 1863, the 15th left Winchester to participate in General Rosecran's Chickamauga campaign. Corporal Halvorsen was present at the daring early morning crossing of the Tennessee River on August 28th, which the 15th led. He was also present at the September 19-20, 1863, fighting at Chickamauga, Georgia -- the second bloodiest battle of the Civil War. He survived the vicious fighting around Viniard's Farm on the first afternoon, as well as the near capture of the regiment near Brotherton Field around midday on the 20th during Longstreet's Breakthrough. Some 63% of the 15th's soldiers who were at Chickamauga were killed, wounded, or taken prisoner.

Corporal Halvorson served with the regiment during the Confederate siege of the Town of Chattanooga, Tennessee, which began right after the battle. The siege resulted in severe shortages of medicine, food, and firewood which, together with cold, wet weather, caused much suffering, sickness, and death. The siege was finally broken by the Union Army's victorious charge up Mission Ridge on November 25, 1863, which the 15th took part in.

On February 1, 1864, Corporal Halvorsen was one of a number of 15th soldiers temporarily transferred to the 68th Indiana Volunteer Infantry Regiment at the order of their Brigade commander, General Willich. Corporal Halvorsen and the others were transferred back to the 15th at Strawberry Plains, Tennessee, in April, 1864, by order of the War Department.

Starting in May, 1864, the 15th participated in General Sherman's famous campaign to capture Atlanta, Georgia. This campaign was marked by almost daily marching and/or combat for 4 months. Corporal Halvorsen and the 15th took part in the fighting at Rocky Face Ridge, Georgia, in early May, at the bloody Battle of Resaca, Georgia, on May 14-15, and at the disastrous Battle of Pickett's Mill or New Hope Church, Georgia, on May 27, 1864. It was there that the 15th suffered fearful casualties, including Corporal Halvorsen who received a "gun-shot wound of right fore-arm . . . resulting in entire loss of use of arm."

Corporal Halvorsen was subsequently treated at a hospital in Louisville, Kentucky, before being sent to Jefferson Barracks, near the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri. There he was honorably discharged from the Army due to his disability on November 2, 1864.

In 1880, Christian Strand was a farmer in Strong’s Prairie Township, Adams County. He was married to Matilda ? Matilda was born in 1849/50 in Norway [although her age is listed as 20 in 1880, she had a 9 year old daughter]. Christian appears as a resident of Arkdale in the 1890 and 1895 Wisconsin veteran censuses. Christian died on February 16, 1917 in Arkdale. His grave is located 21 feet east of the Johnson monument. His next of kin in 1936 was Bert Bredson, a brother-in-law from Arkdale. At the time of his death, he was using the name Christian Strand. See Martin Strand Halvorsen, a brother? Anna, the dau of Tore Holgerson Roalkvam (see) and Siri Olsdr. Strapu, was born in 1842 in Suldal, Norway.    Erick and Anna came to America with their sons Halvor and Tor in 1872 (Gamle Suldal, pp. 489, 672). They settled, first, in Plymouth Township and later in Rocky Run, Clifton Township, Monroe County, Wisconsin. The family joined the East Lemonweir Church on May 20, 1875. In the membership list for the East Lemonweir Church, Anna is listed as Saavesdtr. and their second son is listed as Saave instead of Tor. Perhaps a mistake? They became charter members of the Fountain Lutheran Church on July 4, 1878. In 1904, they moved to Caryville in LaCrosse County, Wisconsin. In 1919 or 1920, they moved to Hustler in Juneau County. Erick died on May 25, 1925 in Hustler and Anne died on September 23, 1932 in Hustler. They were buried in Fountain Lutheran Cemetery (ELCR; FCR; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 254; obit, New Lisbon, Jun 4, 1925).

This farm is listed as being in the Laardal Parish in the 1865 census and in the Eidsborg Parish in Oluf Rygh's Norske Gaardsnavne.
John and Thorbjør sailed about May 22, 1844 on the Industrie from Porsgrunn, Telemark (In the East Lemonweir Church records John is listed as emigrating in April 1844 from Solem). The Industrie arrived in New York on July 31, 1844 after a voyage of 71 days. The captain was Boye Adtzlen. John and his family settled, first, in Deerfield Township, Dane County, Wisconsin. Thorbjør died in 1845. She was buried on August 12, 1845 in the East Koshkonong Lutheran Cemetery in Dane County.
John was married, second, on March 18, 1847 to Askjer Knutsdtr. Lien. Askjer, the dau of Knut Olson Lien (c1798-?) and Ragnild Johansdatter (c1784-?), was born on August 11, 1815 in Laardal. She emigrated with her parents on the Industrie in 1844. Askjer died in 1849. She was buried on February 25, 1849 in the West Koshkonong Cemetery in Dane County.
John Hulversen, age 42, and his two sons, Hulver, age 12, and Johun, age 9, were living on a farm in Deerfield Township in Dane County, Wisconsin at the time of the 1850 census. All of their ages were incorrect (US Cen 1850, Deerfield Twp, Dane Co, WI, Vesterheim nos. 3867-9, a note identifies John as John Halvorson Kleppen).
John was married, third, to Martha (Marta) Andresdtr. Hegerland (John is listed in the Roldal Book as Johan Hallvorson Vindlos from Mo in Telemark). Marta, the dau of Anders Aasmundson Hegerland (see) and Ingeborg Mikkelsdtr. Lono, was born in 1799 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway. She was married, first, in 1814 to Mikkel Knutson Lono (see). Marta emigrated in 1850 with her husband, Mikkel Knutson Lono (see) and her son, Knut Mikkelson (see).

The Halvorsons were among the earliest settlers in Juneau County. They came to Lindina Township on July 6, 1852 (The Mauston Star, Aug 11, 1887, p. 1 gives 1850 as the date). They joined the East Lemonweir Church in 1854 (members # 13 & 14). They settled on section 9 on land owned by Charles Johnson in 1888. John sold his farm to Williams of Mauston and moved to Fountain Township to the farm owned by Andrew Rosland in 1888. He lived there a number of years and then moved to Clifton Township, Monroe County where he lived with his son until his death. On December 6, 1861, he became a trustee of the incorporated Norwegian Evangelical Congregation. They became members of the West Lemonweir Church (ELCR).

Marta died on January 26, 1881 in Clifton Township, Monroe County, Wisconsin. John died in Clifton Township on April 23, 1888. They were buried in the West Lemonweir Cemetery (no headstone found) (ELCR). At the time he died, he had a son and brother living in Plymouth Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin (Naeseth, v. 2, pp. 50, 52, 53-4; ELCR; Roldal Bk, p. 434; R. A few men were recruited from Chicago and from Winneshiek County, Iowa.

Martin was taken prisoner at Stone’s River, Tennessee on December 31, 1862 and spent 32 days in Libby Prison. He was paroled at Annapolis, Maryland and sent to St. Louis, Missouri. Hamsun, Knut Pedersen s of Per Pedersen and Tora Olsdatter Garmotraedet. Knut was born on August 4, 1859 in Gudbrandsdal, Norway. In 1862, his parents moved to the Hamsund farm in Nordland, about 200 miles north of the polar circle. Knut, an eventual recipient of the Nobel Prize for Literature, came to Elroy, Wisconsin in about February of 1882 where his brother Peter lived. Peter Pedersen Hamsund, seven years older than Knut, had emigrated to America at the age of 16 in 1868, and at the age of 20 married a woman of higher social class. The family had moved to Elroy just before Knut emigrated, and letters home gave the impression Peter was doing well. Upon his arrival Knut worked briefly for a Norwegian storeowner named Moe (see Lars L. Moe). Knut soon found that things were not going as well as they had seemed to be from the letters. His brother, Peter, besides being a tailor with a distaste for work, was also a splendid musician with a fondness for drink. Peter had not managed to establish himself as a respectable member of the Elroy community. Knut, after spending the summer working for farmers named Loveland and Spear, returned to Elroy. He went to work for a man named Edmund Hart and soon became a clerk in Hart's store. He lived in the Northwestern Railways Hotel, for a year, sharing a room on the top floor with William T. Ager, a grade school teacher in Elroy. Henry M. Johnston, the high school principal, taught him English. Svend Tveraa, a local farmer, was a friend. Knut began giving lectures on the Norwegian writer, Bjornstjerne Bjornson and made an enemy of Pastor M. P. Ruh. Ruh warned people against attending his lectures for the mild heresy that any defense of Bjornson at that time involved in the wake of Bjornson's attack on Christianity and the established church. In late 1883, Knut moved on to Minnesota.

Helgesen, Knud Aartun (Aaruthun, Aarithun, Aarthew) Epehaugen s. of Helge (Botnen) Ekke Knudson (see) and Anna Tjostovsdtr. Ekkjevikja. Knud was born 1826 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway. He was married, first, in 1856 to Marta Mikkelsdtr. Aartun, Sauda. I have been unable to find more information about this marriage. In the 1865 census, Knud was an unmarried husmann (renter) with land and a blacksmith on Aaruthun. Tjostof Hiljessan, an unmarried, 37 year old shoemaker, lodged with him.
Knud was married, second, in 1868 to widow Kari Toresdtr. Aartun. Kari, the dau of Tore Sjurson Grove (see) and Torbjorg Sjurdsdtr. (1816-1880), was born on January 15, 1835 on the Innigard farm in Roldal. Kari was married, first, in 1855 to Tarold Aarthun Tarelson (see). She also used the last names of Haara and Innigard.

Knud and Kari emigrated from Sauda Township in Rogaland County on April 12, 1870. They settled on a farm in Juneau County near the Omaha railroad tunnel. They joined the East Lemonweir Church on January 6, 1871. Kari died on December 17, 1871 at the age of 36 and was buried in the East Lemonweir Cemetery. Her burial service was on March 28, 1872. The name on her headstone is Taralsen.

A 47 year old farmer living in Fountain Township, Knud was married, third, on January 29, 1874 in New Lisbon by Rev. Brynjolf Hovde to Marta (Martha) Osmundsdr. Forland (ELCR). Marta, the dau of Osmund Levarson Forland (see) and Siri Jonsdtr. In 1878, Knud moved his family to Lyon County, Minnesota. He homesteaded the northwest quarter of section 2 in Eidsvold Township. They probably came with John Alleckson (see) and his family. John was married to the daughter of Knud’s second wife, Kari, by her first marriage (see Tarelson, Tarold Aarthun).

Knudt Helgeson, 56, b. Nor, a farmer, is listed as head of household # 65/71 in the 1880 census for Eidsvold Township, Lyon County, Minnesota with his wife, Martha, 42, b. Nor, keeping house, son, Helga, 5, b. WI, daughters, Sena, 2, b. WI, and Anna, 1/12, b. April, MN. After their arrival, the family possessed one horse and $100 in cash. Martha died on June 19, 1913 in Lyon County (Rose, Arthur P., An Illustrated History of Lyon County, Minnesota, Marshall, MN, Northern History Publishing Co, 1912; MN death index).

Hendriksen, Hagbart
Hagbart was a charter member of the Scandinavian Lutheran Church in Necedah on April 18, 1875 (member # 44) (SLCR).

Hendrickson, Henrik (Henry A), s/o Anders/Andrew Henrikson and Eli Jensdatter.
Henry was born on March 30, 1851, Jevnaker Parish, Hadeland, Oppland County, Norway. He was baptized on April 21, 1851 in the Jevnaker Parish (Norway Baptisms, 1634-1927, FamilySearch.org). He emigrated to Argyle Township, Lafayette County, Wisconsin with his parents about 1855. Henry was a 9 year old farm boy in Argyle in 1860 (his parents are listed as Andrew and Ella Erickson) and an 18 year old clerk in a store living with his parents on the farm in Argyle at the time of the 1870 census. By 1870, the family was using the name Henrikson or Hendrickson.

Henrik Henrikson was married on October 8, 1874 in the Wiota Norwegian Lutheran Church, Wiota Township, Lafayette County, Wisconsin to Siri Sorensdatter Holm. The witnesses were Ole Henrikson and Erik Johnson. Siri, the daughter of Soren Jenson Gamkinn (1804-1870) and Anne Bertelsdatter Holm (1812-1855), was born on January 12, 1850 on the Holm farm in Gran Parish, Oppland County, Norway (US Evangelical Lutheran Church of America Records, 1875-1940, Ancestry and Ancestry Trees).

Henry, 28, b. Nor, Sarah, 28, b. Nor, and their daughter, Anna M, 4, b. WI are listed in the 1880 census for Wiota Township, Lafayette County, Wisconsin. Henry was a farmer.
Henry’s daughter, Anna, was confirmed in the Wiota Lutheran Church on September 14, 1890. Between 1893 and 1900, Henry moved his family to Finley Township in Juneau County, Wisconsin. He was probably attracted by the cheap land that was offered in northern Juneau County as the swamps were drained and sold as farm land.

Henry A. Hendrick, 49, b. Mar 1851, Norway, emig, 1855, m. 27 yrs, a farmer with a mortgaged farm, is listed as head of household #36/37 in the 1900 census for Finley Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with his wife, Sarah S., 49, b. Henry owned a mortgaged farm.

Sarah died on Jan 12 1907 in probably in Iowa County, Wisconsin and was buried in the Rock Church Cemetery, Dodgeville, Iowa County, Wisconsin (Findagrave.com).

In the 1910 census, Henry, 59, a widower working in a lumberyard, was living in Stoughton, Dane County, Wisconsin with his daughter, Emma, 28, a dressmaker working from home.

Henry’s death date needs verification. One record gives August 15, 1922 in Green?, Wisconsin. Another claims he died in 1909 (appears in 1910 census). He is not found in the Rock Church Cemetery in Dodgeville, Wisconsin, where his wife was buried.

Howe (Hove, Hovind), Hans Olson (he also used Hanson).

Hans was born on September 17, 1808 in Ullensaker, Norway (his age was 22 when married, b. 1810?, 53 in 1860 census, b. 1807?). Ullensaker is 18 miles northeast of Oslo on E6 and 2, 1 mile northeast of Klotta. There is a church named Hovin 4 miles north of Ullensaker, on highway E6 and 174, 2 miles west of Jessheim. There possibly was a farm nearby named Hovin, giving him the name of Hovind. Hans was married on January 4, 1832 to Anna (Ane) Larsdtr. Dravold.

Anna, the dau of Lars Johnson Dravold and an unmarried girl, Mari Andersdtr., was baptized on September 26, 1802 in Ullensaker Township, Akershus County, Norway (Ullensaker parish register 7). Akershus is a county surrounding but not including Oslo.

Hans emigrated to America in 1853 with his wife Anna and children, Lars, Karen, Ole, Kristine, and Bertha. They first came to Chicago, then Milwaukee, probably with a stop in the Muskego Settlement. They came to Juneau County in the spring of 1855 and took a claim in Plymouth Township. However, Joe Chilson and M. M. Baker entered the land after Hans had made some improvements. Therefore, he had to leave the property and settled in the Lone Rock Valley on the place later owned by Rasmus Gjermanson in Lindina. Lars Osteraa Olson (see) settled near the Howes in 1855 (Hanson Hist, Mauston Star, Dec 27, 1923, p. 1). Hans and his family joined the East Lemonweir Church in 1856 (members #17-22).

Huslegaarden, Kristian Halvorson (?) s of Halvor Olson? and Anne Marie Kristiansd?
Kristian was married to Kristiane Eriksdatter. Kristiane was born in 1831/2 in Aasnes Township, Hedmark County, Norway. She was previously married or had a child by Adolf ? (see Huslegaarden, Adolf). In the 1865 Norwegian census, Kristiane is listed as the head of household. However, she is also listed as married rather than widowed. A mistake or was Kristian off somewhere? Her son Otto gives his emigration date as 1866. I have not found any record of Kristian or Kristiane in Juneau County.

Huslegarden, Otto Adolfsson s of Adolf Huslegaaden (see) and Kristiane Eriksdtr.
Otto was born in October 1858 in Aasnes Township, Hedmark County, Norway. He emigrated in 1866 at the age of 8. He was married in 1886/7 to Rena Norsby. Rena, the dau of Jacob Norsby (see) and Marit Oleson, was born in September 1863 in Norway. She probably emigrated with her parents in 1882. On June 20, 1895, Otto was listed as a head of household in the 1895 Wisconsin State Census for Armenia Township. In 1898, Otto was engaged in general farming on a 200 acre farm in section 28 of Armenia Township (Miner P.O.). Otto and his family appear in the 1900 and 1905 censuses but are not listed in the 1914 Atlas and Farmer's Directory for Juneau County. Otto's occupation in 1905 was merchant and farmer. He owned his farm (Wis Cen, 1895, Armenia; US Cen, 1910, Armenia #63).

After ten years he went to live at the Homme Home for the Aged at Wittenberg, Wisconsin. He lived there until his death. He was a great friend of children [his nephew, Gaylord Anason tells that he always had candy and change in his pocket. Gaylord related to me that on one visit he and Ole walked up a path toward the bluff with Ole jingling his change. When they got back they found that Ole had a hole in his pocket and they spent a considerable time on that path looking for change] and took a special interest in the Homme Home for Children at Wittenberg in his active years. Known to many as "Uncle Ole", he passed away at the age of 94 on September 23, 1960 at the Homme Home for the Aged where he had been a resident for the past 21 years. Johnson, Ole Magnushommen s of Jon Tollefson (see) and Anne Lavantsdtr. Ødegaarden.

Ole was born in 1807 in Vinje Township, Telemark County, Norway. He was baptized on February 15, 1807. Ole was married on October 21, 1838 to Margit (Martha or Margaret) Ougundsdatte Ødegaarden.

Margit, the dau of Ougund Laurandsen Odegaarden (see), was baptized on November 2, 1811 in Telemark County, Norway. Magnushommen is located in Kviteseid Township in Telemark County. Ole and Margit sailed on the Triton (Z. M. Stenburg, Captain) from Gothenberg (Goteberg), Sweden on June 11, 1842. They arrived in Boston on August 12, 1842. The passenger list is dated August 15, 1842. Their son John, age 1 year, was not listed on the passenger list. Five other Norwegians from Telemark County were also on the ship. Ole registered a declaration of intent to become a citizen in Milwaukee County, Wisconsin. He may have initially settled in the Muskego Norwegian settlement. The second Norwegian settlement in Wisconsin, Muskego is located in the southwestern corner of Milwaukee County, the southeastern corner of Waukesha County but mainly in Yorkville, Raymond, and Waterford townships in Racine County.

Ole took his family to the Koshkonong Prairie settlement in Dane County, Wisconsin. In 1850, they were living near Sun Prairie in Dane County in an area settled by immigrants from Telemark, Norway in 1843. In the spring of 1850, Ole joined Ole Gjermandsen Tveit and his brother-in-law, Nils Bjornson Farastad, in looking for land in Adams (Juneau) County. They took up claims in present Lindina Township about five miles southwest of Mauston. After breaking up some land and making hay for the winter, they returned to Dane County for their families.

According to Joseph Hanson in his History of Juneau County, Ole Johnson seemed to have the idea that he wanted the whole country because he broke up land in several places. When they returned that autumn, Knut Ormson Mo from Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway and Knut Mikkelson from Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway came with them. They built their log houses and made a permanent settlement that autumn (Mauston Star, June 2, 1887, p. 1.). Ole was the brother of Berghith Johnsdr., first wife of Nels Benson (see). Magnus Bluff was named for him. He settled on what was later the Mitch and/or Lillihammer farms.

The 1857 tax rolls for Lindina Township show that Ole owned 40 acres in section 4, 40 acres in section 5, and 80 acres in section 9, all adjoining. He obtained a patent to 40 acres of this farm on December 12, 1855 as Ole Jonsen and another 40 acres on March 2, 1857 as Ole Jahnson. Although Ole's name appears on the letter requesting that H. A. Preus come to Juneau County to provide church services and three of his children were baptized in the church, Ole and Martha are not listed as church members.

Ole died in May 1860 in Lindina Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. He was killed by a bucket of earth falling on him while digging a well. The editor of the Mauston Star called him an early settler (May 23, 1860, p. 3).

In the 1860 census taken on June 21st, Margit or Martha as she was called was listed as the head of household with six children on a farm in Lindina Township ($1,000 real property, $320 personal property). No further information is available on Margit. At the time of her son Joseph's death, he had three brothers and a sister living in St. Cloud, Minnesota (Naeseth, vol 1, p. 147; Lorna Robertson corr, Mar 22, 2004).

Johnson, Ole Traaer

Ole was born on December 27, 1821 (cem headstone) in Norway. [Mary Farrell research: Olav Jonson Midgarden, s of Jon Olavson Midgarden and Asle Nilsdtr. Troen (Troen is the modern spelling for that farm; in the old records, it is Traaen.), was born on September 11, 1819 at Midgarden in Rauland Township, Telemark County, Norway. He is probably the 45 year old servant at Midgarden in the 1865 census. No marriage record exists in Norway for Ole and Aagot. They are both listed on the Telemark emigrants microfiche in 1866. Ole Johnson Midgarden, no age, going to America.

Ole married Aagot (Aagaat, Aagoth) Olsdtr. Aagot, the dau of Ole Sorenson (see) and Engeline (names in Aagot’s ELC death record), was born on May 25, 1841 (East Lem church death record) in Norway. They are both listed on the Telemark emigrants microfiche in 1866. Ole Johnson Midgarden, no age, going to America.

Aagot Olavsdt. Sundet, dau of Olav Sorenson Hvammen and Ingebjorg Jarandsdtr. Bosboen, was born on September 18, 1842 (Dal, Tinn church book). She was baptized on July 2, 1843; confirmed in Dal. Mary thinks that she was at Svalastoga, Rauland in 1865 listed as a 23 year old servant girl, born in Rauland. The couple must have been married on the trip or when they arrived (Mary Farrell corr, Apr 6, 2004). I am concerned about the discrepancy in birth dates found. in the cemetery and church records but I think that Mary’s identification of this couple is probably correct.

Ole and Aagot joined the East Lemonweir Church on August 4, 1878. In 1880, Ole and Ida Johnson lived on a farm in Plymouth Township in Juneau County, Wisconsin. Ole Johnson, 60, b. Norway, no occupation given, is listed as head of household # 274/284 in the 1880 census for Plymouth Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with his wife, Ida, 46 (41?), b. WI, attended school, daughter, Helene, 5, b. WI, son, Aleck, 1, b. WI, and Martin, 1, b. WI. The census was enumerated on June 25 & 26, 1880.

Ole Johnson, age 71, died on October 25, 1891 in Plymouth Township and was buried in the East Lemonweir Cemetery on October 29, 1891.

Ida Johnson, 52, b. Feb 1848 in Nor, emig, 1870, a widow and a farmer, is listed as head of household # 118/125 in the 1900 census for Plymouth Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with her daughter, Anna Johnson, 28, b. Mar 1872 in WI, married 2 years, 1 pregnancy, 1 living child, son, Sivert, 17, b. Jan 1883 in WI, single, a farm laborer, and grandson, Frank Johnson, 8, b. Feb 1892 in WI, parents b. WI. The census was enumerated on June 16, 1900.

Aagot died on October 28, 1920 and was buried on November 1, 1920. No headstone in the East Lemonweir Cemetery. Note in the death record that could refer to her, “døde in Superior, Wis.” (ELCR; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 235; US Cen, 1880, Plymouth, Juneau Co, WI, familysearch, Vesterheim nos. 44267-75).

Knudsen, Haakon

Haakon was born on December 28, 1822 at Bakke on the Overland farm in Sauda Township, Rogaland County, Norway. At that time, Sauda was subparish of Suldal. Haakon was married to Kari Nielsdatter. Kari was born in 1817/8 in Norway. Haakon and Kari lived on bruk (farm) 11 under the Aarthun farm in subparish Sauda, Suldal Parish.

Haakon and Kari and their children emigrated to Wisconsin in 1853. The records show that they left Aarthun, Suldal on May 24, 1853 and came by way of Quebec, Canada. They were listed as Hakon Knudsen, 30, Kari Nielsdtr., 35, Serine Hakonsdtr., 4, and Knud Hakonsen, 2 (www.hist.uib.no/arkivverket/index-en.htm). On July 18, 1857, Haakon sold land in section 32 of Fountain Township to Ole Kittleson (see). On August 13, 1859, Ellen Kittleson, Ole's widow, and her three sons returned a portion of that land to Haakon to pay off the original mortgage of $113. Haakon and Kari joined the East Lemonweir Church in 1858.

I believe that Haakon and Kari appear in the 1860, 1870, and 1880 censuses although their ages are wildly inaccurate. Haakon was a witness at his dau Sirine's wedding in 1867.

Knudsen, Knud Oland/Åland u/Haatveit s of Knut Halvorsen Hatveit (see) and Tone Torsdtr. Kvarvet. Knud was born on November 19, 1807 at Underberg u/Haatveit in Mo Township, Telemark County, Norway.

Knut was married, first, in 1829 in Mo Parish to Ragnhild Borgarsdtr. Jordet u/Ringestoga in Mo. Ragnild, the daughter of Borgar Sigurdsdtr Loftus (1786-1859) and Margit Kristensdtr. Aamlad (1783-1845), was born on March 6, 1812 on the Jordet farm in Mo Township. Knud and Ragnild lived on Oland under Haatveit. Haatveit consists of several different farms. The tiny house named Áland is way up in the forest above the Nedre Haatveit farm. (A contact of Lorna Robertson visited the tiny house, above the door of the long empty house hung a wooden board with Áland painted or etched). Ragnild died in 1846 on the Aaland farm in Mo Township.

Knud married, second, in 1848 to Gro Larsdtr. Gotland. Gro was born on August 7, 1829 at Godtland u/øvre Ringestoga in Mo, Telemark County, Norway. They emigrated from Mo in 1853. In 1854-6, Knud settled in the southern part of Fountain Township on the place owned by J. Gallagher in 1887 and the 40 acres on which Conneay lived (The Hanson History gives 1850 for the date he settled in Juneau County but his dau, Johanne, was born in Muskego in 1854 and they joined the church in 1856). The tunnel of the Omaha Railroad is on the farm and at the time of the building of the tunnel the summit looked like a town (Hanson History, Mauston Star, August 11, 1887, p. 11). Knud and Gro joined the East Lemonweir Church in 1856. Knud used the names Knud Knudsen Aaland, Knudt C. Oland, Knud Knudsen Hatveit, Knud Knudsen Lono, and Knud Knudsen, Sr. In 1870, his son, Knut, used the name Knud C. Oland. This connects the two men and the name Oland to Aaland.

Gustav purchased a farm in Fountain Township (section 21, 80 acres) where he spent his entire life except for a few years in Camp Douglas where he was employed by the railroad. Helen died on December 6, 1938 in Mauston. Obituary: Mrs. G. O. Lawrence, a lifelong resident of the town of Fountain, died on Dec. 6, 1938, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Steiner, at Mauston.

Anna Helena Syverson was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Syverson, pioneer residents of Juneau county. She was born on April 7, 1872 in the town of Fountain. There she grew to womanhood and on June 23, 1892 was united in marriage to G. O. Lawrence. They made their home on a farm in Fountain where their entire married life was spent with the exception of a few years that they resided in Camp Douglas. Twelve children were born to this union, two of whom preceded their mother in death, Eva at the age of 26 and Glen who died in infancy.

Mrs. Lawrence was a member of the Lutheran church all her life. Her mode of living exemplified the true Christian spirit through her home life and in her contacts with her fellow man. Her chief interests were in her home and she placed her husband and children first, in the consideration of their welfare, to the exclusion of herself. For the past eight years Mrs. Lawrence had been in poor health but her death came as a distinct shock to her family and to her friends. Her passing will be deeply mourned, not only in her own family circle, but throughout the community as well.

Those surviving are: her husband; ten children, Mrs. Alfred (Laura) Wick of Mauston, Mrs. Herbert (Mabel) Franke of Wausau, Mrs. Frank (Geneva) Moran of New Lisbon, Arthur of Mauston, Mrs. Elmer (Norma) Warnecke of Monroe, Mrs. Rueben (Christine) Bauer of Marshfield, Mrs. Harold (Ollie Mae) Steiner and Mrs. Robert J. (Glady) Temple of Mauston and Conrad and Maxine at home; a sister, Mrs. Christine Alford of Camp Douglas; 3 brothers, Conrad and Ed. of La Crosse and Milo Syverson of Camp Douglas; 13 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held on Friday at 1:00 p.m. from the Lamson Funeral Home at new Lisbon and at 1:30 o’clock at West Lemonweir Lutheran church, Rev. Chr. Hjermstad officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Six sons-in-law served as pallbearers at the final rites.

Lillehammer, Austin (Osten) s of Lars Tjerandson Lillehammer (see) and Anna Ostensdtr. Klungtveit. Austin was born on March 18, 1884 in Suldal Township, Rogaland County, Norway. When Austin was one, his father died from back injuries received while skiing.

In an interview shortly after his 96th birthday, Austin recalled that when he was seven his grandpa made him a pair of skis. "I walked sometimes clear up there, about a quarter mile up the mountainside, and grandma scolded me for coming so far. And then I would slide back."

When he was eight years old, Austin, his mother and four other members of the family came to America. The family came "because they didn't think they could make a living there," he says. It was a rocky farm.

They went on a boat to Hull, England, by train to Liverpool, and on a ship to New York. "It was [April] 1892. We sailed the ocean blue, like Columbus. I was awful sick on the North Sea. That's an awful rough sea. But the Atlantic went pretty good. They say the top of the deck is the best not to get sick."

They came to Castle Garden now Ellis Island. "They had pens like a stockyard, for Wisconsin or wherever we were going. Nobody could speak English. A man named Peterson, a minister, came to meet us."

They went to Dexterville in Wood County, where Austin's mother had a sister. But Austin went to live with his Aunt and Uncle in the valley west of Mauston, because they had no children, and times were hard with so many in the family at Dexterville. His stepfather worked for $1.10 a day on the railroad, and also piled lumber at a mill for a while.

In the first three years in Juneau County, Austin went to see his parents just once. He attended the Windsor School, later called the Suldal School, until he was about 12. "They had a Norwegian parochial schoolhouse too, for five days a week, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for one month in the summer time. The teacher was an old man, Jacob Quamme, who was paid a dollar a day, raised by subscriptions from area farmers."

Austin went back and forth between Dexterville and Juneau County until his parents moved to a farm in Lindina in 1906. In Dexterville, he worked for his dad on the railroad for a while. "But I wasn't built for that," he said. Then he worked in a sawmill when he was about 16. "They had two band saws with steam carriages. They went pretty fast."

In their 14 years at Dexterville, his parents "never paid taxes. All the land was owned by the Hiles Lumber Company. They were millionaires."

Austin declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on April 1, 1908 in Juneau County. On the farm in Lindina Township, Austin and his brother Arne worked 11 acres of tobacco, eight on shares and three at home. "That was work all year around. We raised cigar tobacco, for fillers, binders, and wrappers. It was a cash crop but it wasn't much. Six cents a pound, and two cents for fillers."

They speared it onto lathes and hung it up on poles in a shed "until cured out, got kinda brown. When it was case weather, humid, it softened up, so we could handle it. Otherwise, it was hard and brittle as could be."

They stripped the leaves off the stalks and put them into 50 pound bales which an agent would come around and buy.

His folks moved to town "because my mother got kind of sick. But I wanted to be a farmer. I took the short course in Madison, but I got sickly." Austin then traveled to Akron, Ohio to a Goodyear rubber plant to learn vulcanizing for tire repair. He worked for Carl Onsager, at his tire shop on the corner of State and Elm Streets; the Cities Service station across from the Courthouse on Hickory Street; and then his own place, a garage behind the Towne Inn on Pine Street.

The Lillehammer brothers took over the Ford Dealership during World War II. He retired at 70. Austin never married. For 50 years, he lived with his sister Winnie above the Lillehammer Dress Shop. The shop was originally run by three Lillehammer sisters, Tina, Marcina, and Winnie. Austin returned to Norway, in 1958 and 1959. At age 96 he spent a lot of time reading. On religion, he recalls that at one time, "God was all there was." Dexterville, on the other hand, "didn't have no religion" other than an occassional visiting preacher. "They were lumberjacks, and they drank and swore." He added that this was not true of the married men.

He still attended church at the East Lemonweir Church where he was confirmed 80 years before. Along the way to church he passed the place where he spent many years growing up, up against the west side of Magnus Bluff, on what was the Burton Benson place in 1980.

Austin died in 1984 and was buried in the Suldal Cemetery (JC Star-Times, Mar 24, 1980, pp. 1,6; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 678; JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Michaelson, Michael
Michael was born in Norway. He declared his intention to become a citizen on March 9, 1897 in Monroe County, Wisconsin (Juneau Co. Nat. Rec).

Michaelson, Milton O. s of John Michaelson and Mary Anderson.
Milton was born in 1886/7 in Wis. He was married on June 30, 1920 in Juneau County to Grace Gaarder. Grace, the dau of Alfred Gaarder (see) and Mary Hanson, was born in 1888/9 in Wisconsin (ELCR).

Mikkelsen, Anders s of Mikkel Knutson Lono (see) and Marta Andersdtr. Hegerland.
Anders was born in 1825 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway. He came to U.S. from Suldal, Norway on April 18, 1849 with his brother, Ole. They are listed as steerage passengers number 20 and 21 on the schooner, Ebenezer, Captain H. C. Clausen. They left Stavanger and landed in New York (The Solem, Swiggum & Austheim ship index, www.museumsnett.no/mka/ssa/eaben39.htm).

Anders and Ole were joined by their parents and brother Knut and sister Kari in Dane County in 1850. His father and brother, Ole, both died of cholera in 1850 in Dane County. He was thought to have died for a time as well.

Anders was living in Juneau County with his brother Knut in 1850. On May 22, 1854, he signed a letter requesting that Pastor H. A. Preus come to Juneau County and organize a Norwegian Lutheran Church. Anders joined the Lemonweir Church in 1854 and is listed as member number 12.

Anders (Andrew Mikleson) patented 40 acres of government land in section 6 of Lindina Township on June 15, 1855 (NorthWest 1/4 of the SouthEast 1/4 of section 6 in Township 15 North, Range 3 East). His brother, Knut, paid taxes on the property in 1857 and his heirs, Martha Halvorson, his mother, Knut Mikkelson, his brother, Knut’s wife, Kari, and Kari Mikkelson, his sister, sold his property on May 26, 1858. Anders died sometime between 1855 and 1857. The family gave his death as in 1855 in Waseca, Minnesota but the date and place can not be verified (Roldal Bk., p. 434; ELCR; Gen Land Off Records, Wis, www.Rootsweb.com; Memorial Record of the Counties of Faribault, Martin, Waterman, and Jackson, Minnesota, Lewis Pub. Co, Chicago, 1895, p. 684; R. Carl Wolter corr, Nov 3, 2000, personal files, Lawrence Onsager).

Mikkelsen, Kari dau of Mikkel Knutson Lono (see) and Marta Andersdtr. Hegerland
Kari was born in 1830 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway. At that time, Roldal was a subparish of Suldal Parish in Stavanger (now Rogaland) County, Norway. Kari emigrated with her parents and brother, Knut Mikkelson, in 1850.

Kari had a child by Alexander McCoffete (see) in 1857 in Juneau County, Wisconsin. She was mentioned as an heir of Anders Mikkelson on May 26, 1858, when some of Anders property was sold by herself, Martha Halvorson, her mother, and her brother, Knut, and his wife.

On March 4, 1859, Knud Mikkelson filed a petition with the Probate Court in New Lisbon asking that Albert Cowles be appointed as a guardian for Kari. Knud stated that she was insane and incapable of handling her personal property of about $300. Judge D. Shermerhorn was the county judge. The judge agreed to hear the case on March 21, 1859 at 1 pm at his office in New Lisbon. At that time Kari was living with Knut and his family.

Testimony was given by Stillman Davis on March 21st that Kari had lived with him and his family about three weeks the past summer. He stated that she would halloo, act bad and behave and act like an insane person. He further stated that she had to be watched to keep her from running away. Kari had threatened to hold her breath to commit suicide and he had no doubt that she was insane. She had a daughter of two and a half years that she was not capable of caring for and was known to have abused.

Gunder Johnson testified that Kari had lived with him and her brother Knut. He had frequently seen her sing, halloo, and make a great disturbance. He thought her to be insane and that a guardian should be appointed.

Knut, her brother, testified that Kari lived with him the past summer and that her daughter was illegitimate. Kari frequently ran away from his home. She had told him that she was insane and felt very badly. Knut feared that she would do away with her life. Her property consisted of about $300 in bonds and mortgages and she had some debt.

Evidently Joseph Nuttall was made Kari’s guardian instead of Cowles. On January 27, 1860, Knut received $40 from Joseph Nuttall for Kari’s board and care for 12 months. On May 14, 1860, John Halvorson, Kari’s stepfather, agreed to care for her daughter for twelve months. John received $10 from Kari’s guardian, Joseph Nuttall, to pay for her care.

Knut moved to Minnesota in 1864. Kari remained in the county and probably lived with her mother and stepfather or by someone paid by her guardian. On April 29, 1876, the supervisors of Lindina Township petitioned the Juneau County Judge to have Kari committed. Shortly after that, Kari entered the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane at Mendota near Madison, Wisconsin. On January 14, 1885, she was returned from there to the Juneau County Jail. About February 6, 1885, Kari was sent to the Jefferson County Asylum for the Chronic Insane. In about 1894, she was living in Janesville where she probably died.

Kari’s daughter, Martha, was probably raised by her grandparents. At the time of her confirmation in the Fountain Lutheran Church, she used the name Martha A. Vindlos. Vindlos was the farm name of her stepgrandfather, John Halvorson and the "A" probably stood for Alexandersdtr. She was the daughter of Alexander McCoffete (see) (Juneau County Probate records; FCR; Memorial Record of the Counties of Faribault, Martin, Watonwan, and Jackson, Minnesota, Lewis Publishing Co, Chicago, 1895, p. 684; Correspondence, Carl Wolter, Nov 3, 2000, personal files of Lawrence Onsager).

Child by Alexander McCoffete:

Mikkelsen, Knut Lone s of Mikkel Knutson Lono (see) and Marta Andersdtr. Hegerland.

Knut was born in October 1823 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, Norway. He was married on June 30, 1848 to Carry (Kari) Eriksdatter Roalkvam. Kari, the dau of Erik Oddson Roalkvam (see) and Helga Eriksdtr. Roalkvam, was born in 1822/3 in Suldal, Norway. Knut emigrated from the Lone farm in 1844. He and Kari emigrated from Suldal on April 18, 1850 with his parents and sister, Kari. They sailed from Scotland to New York where they arrived after a voyage of 44 days on board the Norwegian vessel, Foretten, a three-mast ship (possibly Favoriten, Capt. Westergaard, which departed Stavanger for Newcastle and arrived in New York on June 26, 1850).

During the trip, they encountered a severe storm, which carried away the middle topmast. On reaching the United States, they continued their journey by way of the Hudson River to Albany, where they boarded a canal boat for Buffalo. They passed through the city of Rochester, New York on the 4th of July, and, knowing nothing of the celebration of independence day, the family was badly frightened by the cannonading and musket fire, thinking that their lives were in danger. Upon reaching Buffalo, they boarded a steamer for Milwaukee, Wisconsin. From Milwaukee, they traveled by team to Dane County.

Only a few days after they arrived, Knut’s father and brother, Ole, died of cholera. Knut made contact with Knut Ormson Mo from Sulsdal Township in Rogaland County, Norway.
Ormson’s family had roots in Roldal (at this time, Roldal was a subparish of the Suldal Parish) and was distantly related to Knut Mikkelsen. The two Knuts in turn became acquainted with three Norwegian emigrants who made land claims in Juneau County in the spring of 1850. As a result, Knut, with his wife and children, mother, brother, Anders, and sister, Kari, accompanied the families of Knut Ormson Mo, Ole Johnson Magnushommen, Nils Bjornson Farastad, and bachelor, Ole Gjermundson Tveit, all from Upper Telemark, to Lemonwer Township in Adams County (later Lindina Township in Juneau County). Their homes that fall were hay stack houses consisting of a log frame with hay for the roof and walls (Mauston Star, June 2, 1887, p. 1; Lawrence Onsager personal files).

Knut and Kari are listed as member nos. 1 and 2 in the Lemonweir Church in 1854. In 1857, Knut paid taxes on 280 acres of land in section 6 of Lindina Township. On May 26, 1858, Knut along with his mother, wife and sister sold property inherited from his brother, Anders. In 1859, Knut paid taxes on 180 acres of land in section 6. The family appeared in the 1860 census. 1860 Census, Lindina Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin.

Knut died on October 30, 1899 in Lura Township after an injury to his hand. Kari died of cold on her lungs and old age on February 13, 1900 in Wells, Faribault County, Minnesota. Moe (Mo), Lars Albertson s of Albert Larson Mo (see) and Ingrid Johannesdtr. Mork. Lars was born in 1807 in Suldal, Norway. He was baptized on June 14, 1807. Lars was married on June 28, 1840 in Suldal, Norway to Kari Tjerandsdtr. Overskeid. Kari, the dau of Tjerand Olson Overskeid (see) and Valborg Oddsdr. Gautun, was born on November 21, 1821 at the Gautun farm in Suldal. Her mother died when she was two years old and she was raised by relatives on the Overskeid farm. Kari was the niece of Lars Osteraa Olson (see) by marriage.

In 1865, they were living on the Mo farm in Suldal. Lars died on March 12, 1867 in Suldal, Norway. After Kari was widowed, the family farm, Mo, was taken over by her brother-in-law, Albert Albertsen Mokleiv-Mo (see Albert Larsson Moe), in 1872. That same year, Kari left Norway on April 3 for the U.S. with her sons, Ole, Tjerand, and Lars; her two daughters, Valborg and Ingrid; and their husbands and settled in Elroy, Juneau County, Wisconsin. They joined the East Lemonweir Church on April 11, 1873. In 1880, Kari was living on a farm in Plymouth Township with her daughter, Valborg and son-in-law, Jacob Jacobson Lunde. Together with her sons, Kari operated a country store and inn in Elroy. They also had an agency for an immigration line, Norge-USA. Many of the Juneau County Norwegians from Suldal bought tickets from Kari's agency and sent them to relatives in Suldal. When these people emigrated, it was natural for them to find lodging in Kari's inn.

The Moe home in Elroy, became, therefore, in the last quarter of the 19th century something of a center for immigrants from Suldal. By the year 1950, about 1500 people of Suldal descent lived in Juneau County. Most were from Orve (or Upper) Suldal. The writer, Knut Hamsun (see), was a clerk in Kari's country store and lived in her home. (Gamle Suldal, pp. 103, 637). She died on December 15, 1902 aged 81 years and was buried in the East Lemonweir Cemetery on December 18, 1902 (Nor Cen, 1865, Digitalarkivet; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 227; ELCR; US Cen, 1880, Plymouth Twp, Vesterheim no. 44109).

Mo, Orm Torson s of Tore Ormsen Hamre, Roldal and Disa Knutsdtr. Rabba, Roldal.

Orm was born on the Haaranes farm in 1780 in Roldal Township, Hordaland County, a district directly north of Suldal. The Røldal stave church was built in the 13th century. The little church is best known for its miraculous crucifix, from which, legend has it, drops of water emerged every Midsummer Night. This fluid was supposed to have a curative effect.

Røldal stave church received generous gifts from many of the pilgrims who visited it, and as a result the little village was quite wealthy during the Middle Ages. In the 17th century the interior was richly decorated with wall paintings.

In the late 19th century, the church was reconstructed, and some of the history of the church was recovered. this led to a large investigation of how the church was built. The results were that Røldal stave church is quite different from other stave churches, there was much controversy about whether it was a stave church or in fact a post church. This is an older type, which is generally assumed to have been replaced (from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia).

Orm moved to Suldal and married Ingeborg Larsdatter on November 8, 1812. Ingeborg, the dau of Lars Pederson Vinje (see) and Mari Hansdatter, was born in 1791. They lived at Haugen on Mo farm in Suldal, then in the amt (county) of Stavanger (now Rogaland fylke). Orm died in 1856 after 44 years of marriage. Ingeborg emigrated to America in the 1860's. She was listed as Isabelle Ormsen in Lindina Township in the 1870 census (Gamle Suldal, pp. 107, 167, 319; Sukka Aetta, pp. 107, 180, 277; R. B., pp. 370, 559).

Ingeborg (Emily), the dau of Ole Jacobsen Overboe and Mari Olsdatter, was born in 1818 at Overboe in Siljan (Slemdal), Norway. The East Lemonweir Church records give their emigration date from Gjerpen as April 1846 but the Gjerpen records show that he emigrated from Porsgrunn with his family on April 27, 1848 and arrived in New York on July 6, 1848. In the 1860 census, they are listed as living on a farm in Fountain Township in Juneau County. Peter Moo had $300 in personal property and $100 in real property. In 1880, Thomas L. Moe, a dealer in dry goods and grocery, lived in Elroy with his wife, Julia T., and two brothers, Lewis L. and Ole L. (Vesterheim nos. 44075-8). Ole was listed as a clerk but then the information was lined out on the census record. Lewis was listed as being at school, perhaps the information should be reversed. Tjerand died on October 3, 1883 at the age of 32. He was buried in the East Lemonweir Cemetery on October 5, 1883 (JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 228; ELCR). Upon awakening the following morning they learned that a member of the family occupying the other half of the shack had died of cholera.

They settled first in Dane County, Wisconsin where they lived near Stoughton, Wisconsin for one year. From there they moved to Perry Township where they entered forty acres of land, cleared a farm, and remained until 1864.
In 1864, Einar sold the farm and moved to Greenwood Township, Vernon County, Wisconsin. He bought land in Section 26. In 1866 he sold the land to his son and bought land in section 36. Gunder married Jaren Kjastelffsdatter.
Children:

Nilson, Gunder
Gunder married Anne Kirstine Olsdtr. (Oddsdr.) in Telemark County, Norway. In 1859, they were living in Helle where their son was born. They attended church in Krageroe, a coastal city in Telemark County.

The family emigrated in 1861/2. Gunder enlisted for Civil War service at Milwaukee on April 18, 1864. He served in Company K in the 37th Wisconsin Regiment. His regiment, raised in 1864, was intimately identified with the major actions around Petersburg, Virginia, where it saw all of its combat service. They joined the Army of the Potomac in June and were assigned to the First Brigade, Third Division, IX Corps. In the June 17-18, 1864 assaults on Petersburg, the green regiment was repulsed only after it had sustained 157 casualties. The failure of the assaults resulted in a 10 month seige. Gunder was wounded and taken prisoner at Petersburg on July 3, 1864. He was reported to have died in enemy hands on May 20, 1865. His family settled in Jackson County, Wisconsin. It is not known if they went there before or after Gunder went into the Army.

According to Per Kjendal, people living in Krageroe at that time were very often from the areas to the north. Without any dates, looking for them is very difficult. They have not been located in the 1865 census (obit, Nils Olaus Nelson, New Lisbon, Jul 22, 1937; corr, Per Stian B. Nelson, Nels (Nils) Einarson, the son of Einar Kvame Nelson (see) and Guri Paulsdatter Eggum. Nils was born on January 18, 1841 in Borgund Parish, Laerdal Township, Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway. He emigrated with his parents at age 12. They settled first in Perry Township in Dane County, Wisconsin where Nils readily found employment as a farm laborer.

On November 8, 1861, when he was just 20, Nils enlisted under the name Nils Einarson in Company H, Fifteenth Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry by Captain Ingmundson at Madison, Wisconsin. Nils was 5 feet, 6 1/2 inches tall, and had blue eyes, light hair, and a light complexion. He was unmarried and gave his residence as Perry Township in Dane County. Nils gave his age as 21 although he wouldn’t be 21 until January 1862. He was mustered into service on February 13, 1862 by Captain Lamott at Camp Randall in Madison.

Company H called itself Heg’s Rifles. It was also known as the Voss Company because so many of its members were from the Voss region in Norway. “H” was primarily recruited from Scandinavian communities in the Townships of Cambridge, Christiana, Deerfield, and Primrose in Dane County and some from Decorah, Elgin, and Clessmont in Iowa.

Known as the "Norwegian Regiment," the Fifteenth Regiment was organized by Hans Christian Heg. In December, the regiment was brought together at Camp Randall in Madison and built up to a membership of approximately 900. Each enlistee received a bounty of a hundred dollars, and thirteen dollars a month, free food, and free clothes. On Sunday's there was a break in their training. They were marched into town to the church. The minister there, Pastor Herman A. Preus, preached to them. On March 2, 1862, they marched to the Madison railroad station and left for the south. The vast majority were Norwegians. Olsens, Johnsons, Nelsons, Petersons, and Hansens were numerous, and in the regiment as a whole there were 128 men who bore the first name of "Ole." A tremendous number of Norwegians had met at the railroad station to say good-bye to husbands, sons, brothers, and sweethearts. When the train started, there was a waving of hats and handkerchiefs.

The Fifteenth Regiment participated in the Union movements in Missouri, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia. It fought at Island No. 10, Perryville, Murfreesboro, Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Resaca, New Hope Church, Kennesaw Mountain, and other places.

A private, Nels suffered a gunshot wound on January 1, 1863 in the battle at Stones River (or Murfreesboro) (Dec 31, 1862 - Jan 2, 1863) and lay in the hospital at Nashville, Tennessee for six months. He was in the act of loading his gun when a ball from an enemy gun passed back of his neck, entering his arm below the elbow, fracturing the bone. The regiment lost eighty-five in dead and wounded at Murfreesboro. Nels rejoined the regiment at Murfreesboro, Tennessee in May 1863 and at the battle of Chickamauga, in northern Georgia, September 18-20, 1863, was taken prisoner (he was reported as missing in action on September 20, 1863, according to Wisconsin Archives). On November 18, 1863, he was reported "gained from missing in action". At Chickamauga, the Fifteenth Regiment was torn apart by an over-whelming attack and Colonel Hans C. Heg was among the many who were killed.

Nels and his future brother-in-law, Anders Johnson, were confined in Confederate prisons for seventeen months. Initially, they were at prisons located in Richmond and Danville, Virginia,. While at Danville, he succeeded, with a few companions, in digging with wooden shovels a hole under the prison wall and escaped. He was soon recaptured and taken to the renowned Andersonville Prison, where he spent six months. Forty-three men of his regiment died at Andersonville. Nels suffered from scurvy while at Andersonville. John Heery of Mauston said that Nels told of entertaining himself at Andersonville by collecting fleas in a bottle and watching them fight. He also told John that when a man gave up he simply walked across a line and was shot by the guards (LW Onsager files).

Andersonville, properly named Camp Sumpter, was located 7 miles northeast of Americus, Georgia. The prison consisted of a log stockade of 16 1/2 acres (later expanded to 26 acres) with a stream of water running through it. Rations were the same as those of the Confederate soldier in the field, corn meal, beans, and rarely meat. The disease and death rates were fantastic, with poor sanitation, crowding, exposure, and inadequate diet contributing to the unhealthful conditions. Only enlisted men were confined there, and in the summer of 1864 the number, including Nels, totaled...
There are 12,912 graves in the National Cemetery there, and estimates place the number of deaths at a much higher figure. When Major General William T. Sherman and his command approached in September 1864, all well prisoners were sent to Charleston, South Carolina. Major Henry Wirz became commandant of the prison in January 1864. In November 1865, he was executed by the federal government for his part in permitting Andersonville’s intolerable conditions—the “sole execution because of the war” (source: The Civil War Dictionary by Mark M. Boatner, Ill. 1959). Subsequently Nels was taken to Charleston and Florence, South Carolina, where he again suffered from scurvy and then to Richmond again.

Nels was paroled from Richmond, Virginia. He then became sick with typhoid fever and was sent to the hospital at Annapolis, Maryland. In December 1864, Nels was sent to Harvey Hospital in Madison, Wisconsin where he was treated for scurvy. From there he went on a furlough and was finally mustered out at Madison, Wisconsin on July 6, 1865 (National Archives records give April 20, 1865 as the date he left the service). The Fifteenth Regiment had 49 men killed in action, 33 die of wounds, and 217 die of disease.

When Nels entered the army, he weighed about 185 pounds and when honorably discharged at Madison four years later, he tipped the scales at 95 pounds—the result of sickness, exposure, and prison life. Because of the wound he received, Nels was partially disabled in his work as a farmer. As soon as he regained a portion of his lost strength, Nels engaged in farming and in 1866 purchased his father's 160 acre farm on section 26 in Greenwood for $1,000.

Nels was married on May 3, 1869 in Yuba City, Richland County, Wisconsin to Barbro (Betsey) Johnson. Barbro, the dau of Johannes Thortensen Ovre Kvame (see Johnson, Johannes Torsteinson) and Martha Olsdatter, was born on July 1, 1845 in Laerdal Township, Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway and baptized on July 27, 1845. She was confirmed in Norway. Barbro emigrated with her family from Laerdal in March 1857. Her parents joined the Greenwood Church as charter members on August 26, 1863. Barbro’s father died on September 18, 1879. In 1880, Barbro’s mother, Martha, lived with them on the farm in Greenwood Township. Martha died on December 23, 1881. Johannes and Martha were buried in the Greenwood Cemetery.

Nels applied for a disability pension on June 28, 1898. On April 11, 1905, Nels and Betsy transferred 40 acres to her name (NW 1/4, SW 1/4, Section 34, for inheritance?). After leaving the farm, Betsy and Nels lived in the community of Hillsboro, Vernon County, Wisconsin. Betsy probably died in February or March of 1911. In March, her children each transferred their interest in the 40 acres that was in Betsy’s name to Nels for $1.00 each. On March 10, 1911, Mrs. Gertie Smidt, daughter living in Stoughton; on March 11, 1911, Burt Nilsen and wife Mable Nilsen of Tomahawk; on March 16, 1911, Mrs. Clara Anderson, daughter living in Minneapolis; and on March 27, 1911, Newman Nelson, Anna, his wife; and Martha Nelson, all heirs of Betsy Nelson transferred the land. Nels, a widower, sold his land to Thomas H. Severson for $9,000. In April 1911, Nels moved to 702 Clyde Street in Stoughton, Wisconsin. He died on January 12, 1913 in Stoughton (GCR; Nels Nelson pension records, National Archives; US Cen, 1880, Greenwood Twp, Vesterheim #87521-8).

Carrie, the daughter of N. H. Southworth and Emma, was born on July 17, 1857 in New Lisbon, Wisconsin. Anton and Carrie moved to Tomahawk, Wisconsin in 1879. Carrie died on October 10, 1917 at her home in Tomahawk (Mauston Star, Oct 25, 1917, p. 1). Anton was married, second, in June 1919 to Mrs. Harriet Smith. The Juneau County Chronicle noted on October 30, 1919 that Anton Olson of Tomahawk was in the city the first of the week to visit his aged father, O. T. Olson.
The Mauston Star published a letter from Anton in “News from former Mauston folks” on March 1, 1928. “A. J. Olson of Tomahawk writes: Very few of your locals are known to me. It is a great pleasure to me when mention is made of such grand old friends as J. T. Hanson, Sam Plummer, Dave Allaby, Andrew McIntyre, A. C. Carter, Will Winsor, and others. History tells me that on May 11, 1858 yours truely first opened his peepers in Mauston, I should remember this event as I WAS THERE THAT TIME but the event of such little consequence that it slipped my mind.
“Mr. Olson’s sister, Mrs. J. H. Campbell still lives here. He makes frequent visits here as does his brother, Dr. Olson of Osseo. A. J. retired last year after being in business at Tomahawk over 38 years. Fire destroyed his store and its contents on January 14, 1927.
“During his young manhood, Mr. Olson clerked here in the post office from 1872 to 1880. The late P. R. Briggs, father-in-law of A. C. Carter was the postmaster.”
Another letter appeared in the Mauston Star on April 26, 1928. A. J. wrote to the editor of the Star: As one of the old Mauston boys, it made me rather stick up my ears to see some few words by Ed Winsor and Mr. Boyden, so I want to give you a little of my wanderings.
On my 14th birthday, May 11, 1872, Mr. P. R. Briggs set me to work for him as clerk in the bank and as clerk in the postoffice where I remained for 8 years. Than one year at Wonewoc as bookkeeper for the Case Wagon Company, then at Cumberland for Jeff Heath in the same capacity with lumber company, then engaged in wholesale and retail lumber yards for one year but no country like Wisconsin so I disposed of my interest and residence in Sioux Falls, South Dakota and in 1889 came to Tomahawk, built a building and was in the retail hardware game until January 14, 1927, when fire came along and our store being in the path of the fire, and a very cold night (midnight) our building went with the other. Having fairly good insurance and promptly paid, without any discount whatever, and considering my age and number of years of steady work, decided to retire from active business and enjoy myself.
I have in my possession several dear letters given me on leaving the postoffice at Mauston by P. R. Briggs, banker; B. F. Parker, Grand Secretary, Good Templars; C. F. Cutler, County Clerk; C. A. Holden, court commissioner; M. H. Case, secretary, Case Wagon Company, E. L. Anderson, and many others.

How well I remember Chet Lyon, Ben Dockstader, Sam Plummer, Ira Stewart, Judge Winsor, John Turner, J. F. Sprague, I. E. Grimmer, W. G. Spence, M. L. Bunnell, Bill Case, Ike Alsbacher, and the younger lot were Bert Briggs, the Temple boys, Will, Ed and Henry, Will and Fred Grimmer, Chub Dick, Pud Dockstader, John and Jim Tolen, Percy Holden, Dell Carter, Ken Sharp, Will Dana, C. W. Barney and his nice lot of boys, Will Priest, and Oscar Headstream. But there -- that only shows one is getting along in years when he brings to the front so often memories of long ago.

How many remember when we skinned the hen’s nests for Easter eggs? Then, with at least one or two dozen, with little bits of bread or cake, on early Easter Sunday, start for Mile Bluff where we would cook them good and hard and make a day of it often scratching our names in that wonderful cave (none like it in the whole world, especially for us kids). Those were the HAPPY DAYS. A little nonsense is good for the best of men and women also.

I have never for the past 50 years thought my reading matter was complete without the STAR. May it long shine for us giving us due and timely warning when to pay and renew. Very Truly, Anton J. Olson.

Anton died on June 30, 1932 in Tomahawk, Wisconsin (US Cen, 1880).

Ole was born in Sand Township, Rogaland County, Norway. He was married on December 6, 1878 in New Lisbon by Rev. G. A. Lunde to Kjirsti Nilsen. Kjirsti, the dau of Nils Olson and Kjirstine Pedersen, was born in Denmark. The witnesses were Daniel Eriksen and Ingerid Eriksen).

Ole lived on the Helle/Jedlum until he emigrated with his family on April 30, 1878.

They traveled on the Allan Line.

The Allan Line was founded in 1854 as the “Montreal Ocean Steamship Company.” The company was later known as the Allan Line after one of its founders, Hugh Allan. The Allan Line was one of the first transatlantic steamship companies to establish a network of agents in Norway. For many years, it had a leading position in the transportation of emigrants from Norway to America. All of the emigrants traveling on the Allan Line ships had to travel via the UK, the majority via Hull on the Wilson Line ships and from Hull by train to Liverpool. Although most of the emigrants crossing on the Allan Line went from Liverpool to Quebec, there were a number going on the Glasgow-Boston and New York routes. Ole and Kari probably traveled the Liverpool to Quebec route but further checking is needed to verify that (Solem, Swiggum & Austheim, 100 Years of Emigrant Ships from Norway, http://www.norwayheritage.com/ships/).

Ole and his family joined the West Lemonweir Church in 1879. In 1880, Ole and Carrie lived with their family on a farm in Plymouth Township. Ole and Kari Jadlo with 4 of their children, Ole, Metha, Anna, and Johannes joined the Fountain Church in 1886. Ole died on December 8, 1896 in Fountain Township and was buried in the Fountain Lutheran Cemetery on December 11, 1896. In 1900 and 1905, Kari was living with her son, Ole, on a farm in Plymouth Township. Olson, Ole Tingelstad s of Ole Jorgensen Tingelstad (see) and Anne Nielsdtr. Nedre Alm Ole was born on November 28, 1824 in Gran Township, Christians. County (present Oppland County). Another baptism record in 1825 gives his birth date as November 27, 1824. However, his obituary gives his birth date as November 28. According to his obituary, Ole was a shoemaker from the time he was 11 years old. On March 5, 1847, Ole Olsen Tingelstadeiet left Gran for the Norske Jægercorp 1. compagnie. That is the only reference that he might have been a soldier (Migrants from Gran, 1825-1900, and Jevnaker, 1837-1901, Digitalarkivet.no).
Ole was married in Norway in 1849 to Mrs. Siri Peterson. Siri Ingebretsdtr. Allergot, the daughter of tenant Engebrect Jacobsen Eggejet (see Allergodt, Ingebret Jacobsen) and Christine Olsdtr, was born in Gran, Hadeland, Norway, on July 15, 1821. She was baptized on July 22, 1821. Her baptism sponsors were Hans Egge, Peder Egge, Iver Egge, Malene Jacobsdtr. Egge, and Mari Jacobsdtr. Egge (Digitalarkivet, http://digitalarkivet.uib.no/).

Siri was married, first, on November 26, 1845 to Iver (Ever) Pederson Lyjsensejet. Ever was 26 and Siri was 23 1/2. Iver, the son of Peder Iversen Lysenejet and Christiane Nielsdtr., was born on November 20, 1818 in Gran. He was baptized on November 22, 1818 in the Gran Parish. His baptism sponsors were Ole Dæhlenejet, Ingor Dæhlenejet, Lars Lysen, Iver Lysenejet, and Marthe Lysenejet. They had one son: Peter A. Everson (see).

Ole was a farmer and a shoemaker. On April 2, 1853 Ole and his family left Gran for America. The party consisted of Siri’s parents, Ingebret Jacobs. Allergodt, b. 1789, a Selveier (owner or freeholder); Christine Ols. Allergodt, b. 1796, his wife; Ole Ols. Allergodt, b. 11/27/1824, Inderst (renter or tenant), born nedre Tystad; Siri Ingebretsd. Allergodt, b. 7/15/1821; Peder Ivers. Allergodt, b. 9/17/1845 (Ole’s stepson), born brandshagen; Iver Ols. Allergodt, b. 10/10/1850, born juli Ødegaard; and Christine Olsd. Allergodt, b. 1/14/1852 (Migrants from Gran, 1825-1900, and Jevnaker, 1837-1901, records 799-805, Digitalarkivet.no). He was the uncle of Ole Johnson Onsager (see).

The Olsons landed in Quebec, Canada and came into the United States at the port of Buffalo, New York in May 1853. From Buffalo, the Olsons immediately went to Milwaukee, Wisconsin (probably by railroad stopping one night in Chicago). The emigrants waited in Milwaukee until they could get transportation with Norwegian farmers to the Muskego settlement which was located in Racine County. The Muskego settlement was founded in 1839 near Lake Muskego in Waukesha County. The low marshy area was unhealthy and the settlers suffered from malaria. In 1840 many settlers moved south into Racine County. A thriving settlement soon grew up in Norway, Yorkville, Raymond, and Waterford townships. The name "Muskego" was retained for both settlements.

The Olsons located in Racine County where they lived for two years. The land in the Koshkonong Norwegian settlement in Dane County was more attractive then in Racine County and many Norwegians had settled there beginning in 1840. The settlement of Norwegians in Juneau County began in 1850. At that time Juneau was part of Adams County. In 1857, Juneau County was created. The Juneau County settlement was a northward extension of the Koshkonong settlement. Probably hearing of available land as Adams (Juneau) County was opened up, the Olsons moved in June 1856 settling on a farm west of Mauston in Lisbon township. B. C. Dockstader secured Ole to run a shoe making shop which he established in Mauston and in the autumn of that same year Ole took charge of the store. Ole’s obituary gives 1858 as the date the family left the farm and moved to Mauston. However in the 1860 census, they were residing on a farm in Lindina township. Eventually they moved permanently to Mauston where they resided except for two years in La Crosse, Wisconsin from 1867 to 1868. Ole operated a shoe making or repair shop the remainder of his working life.
Mauston was named for Milton M. Maughs who came into possession of the lumber mill there in 1849. Maughs platted Mauston in 1854 which became incorporated as a village in 1860. Ole T. Olson saw much of the early history of Mauston.

Ole and Siri joined the East Lemonweir Church on August 24, 1857. They received communion from Pastor Herman A. Preus that same day. They appear in the 1860 census for Lindina Township. Ole’s occupation was listed as shoemaker but they were living on a farm. The census was taken on June 20, 1860. Siri’s parents do not appear in either record. They probably died prior to August 1857.

On February 25, 1863, Ole's step son, Peter A. Everson enlisted in Company K, 6th Wisconsin Volunteers. At Gettysburg on July 1, 1863, Peter received gunshot wounds to both legs during the charge of the railroad cut. He was discharged for disability on May 11, 1864.

Ole and his family appear in the 1870 census in Mauston. He had $800 in real property and $300 in personal property. His occupation was given as a boot and shoe manufacturer. The business had $200 in capital. Ole had one hand power sewing machine. He was the sole employee and worked twelve months a year. His materials on hand included:

- sole leather, 25 sides, $200
- kep shoes, 25 lbs, $50
- calf shoes, 100 lbs, $150
- Sheep shoes, 3 doz., $30
- repair, $125
- pegs, wax, & thread, $12.

The household included Ole, age 45, his wife, Sarah, age 47, Ever, 19, Christina, 17, Edward O. 12, Anton, 11, and Ole Johnson, 23, a laborer. Ole was his nephew, Ole Johnson Onsager, who emigrated in 1868.

Ole and his son, Ever, appeared on the rolls of Captain John Turner's Mauston Light Guards, Wisconsin State Militia on September 30, 1874. The guards were organized in 1870.

Ole and Sarah Oleson lived in Mauston with their son, Eddy, in 1880. Siri died on August 1, 1895 in Mauston, Wisconsin and was buried in the Mauston Cemetery. Her obituary states that she had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years. She was also a member of the Rebekah Lodge. In 1905, Ole was living with his daughter, Christine Campbell and her husband, James, on a farm in Lindina Township.

Ione Nelson Duranceau, the dau of Mabel (Campbell) Nelson, wrote: Ole Olson (my great-grandfather) was a shoe maker by trade. He made the shoes. My mother said he used to make theirs when they were children. He lived with my grandparents. He died when he was almost 97 yrs. I can remember his sitting in his rocker, reading his Bible (the size of a big dictionary). We were afraid of him as he would thump his cane at us if we got noisy! I never knew my great-grandmother.

Ole died on January 21, 1921 in Mauston, Wisconsin and was buried in the Mauston Cemetery. Gilbert Siebecker purchased the O. T. Olson farm in Lindina Township (US Cen, 1860, Lindina, Vesterheim #18912-9; US Cen, 1880, Mauston, Vesterheim #43856-8; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 544).

Olson, Ole Torbjorns was born on July 5, 1879 in Telemarken, Norway. He emigrated from Skien, Norway and arrived in the port of New York on May 1, 1880 (this information was given when he declared his intention to become a citizen, when he was naturalized, he stated that he emigrated from Christiania on August 15, 1879, arriving at the port of New York on September 15, 1879 on the vessel Reinen).

In 1900, he was a farm laborer living with his mother and step-father in Plymouth Township. A farmer living in Lindina Township, Ole was married, first, on September 1, 1901 in Lindina Township at the Plymouth Church by Rev. N. A. Giere of Black River Falls to Cari (Carrie) Knutson. The witnesses were Charles Knutson and Lewis Larson. Carrie, the dau of Knut Saubbben Knutson (see) and Kari Olsdtr., was born on January 15, 1882 in Lindina Township.

Ole and Carrie moved in July 1903 to Humboldt County, Iowa and returned to Lindina in 1915. Ole declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on March 22, 1918.

Onsager, Iver Johnson, s of John Anderson Onsager (see) and Siri Olsdatter Kamerudsejet. Iver was born on November 16, 1853 on the Onsager farm in Hadeland, Norway. He was baptized on December 4, 1853. His sponsors were Jorgine Hansdatter Onsager, Marthe Christensdatter ibid., Tollef Larsen ibid., An___ Larsen ibid., and Torsten Pedersen ibid.

Iver was married in 1871/72 at Gran in Hadeland, Norway to Martha Petersen. Martha, the daughter of Peder Larson Bjella and Kirsti Gudbrandsdtr., was born on February 21, 1851 in Hadeland, Norway. She was baptized on March 23, 1851. Her sponsors were Martha Gudbrandsdatter Skaara, Randi Hansdatter Bjella, John Hansen Skaarasejet, Ole Hansen Bjella, and Gudbrand Gudbrandsen ibid.

In 1880 Iver, Martha, their three children, Sophia, Caroline, and George, and Iver's parents emigrated to America. They left Christiania (Oslo), Norway September 10, 1880 on the vessel Germanic of the White Star Line and arrived at the port of New York on September 25, 1880. I have no details of their train trip to Wisconsin but the Greenwood Lutheran church records show that they joined the church on November 22, 1880.

Iver purchased an 80 acre farm which was mortgaged in 1900. He declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on October 24, 1884. In January 1886, the Greenwood congregation decided to build a new church out of brick. Iver took an active part in the work. Many of the bricks were made from clay obtained on his farm and baked in kilns erected there.

Martha's health was poor in 1897. Her brother-in-law, Andrew wrote that she had been sick for some time. Martha died on May 23, 1923 in Greenwood. She was buried on May 26, 1923 in the Greenwood Lutheran Church cemetery.

In March 1921, Iver auctioned off the farm for $8,000 because of declining health and moved to Stanley, Wisconsin to live with his daughter, Gina.

Iver died Saturday afternoon March 2, 1940 at Stanley, Wisconsin, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gus Western. Although he had been in declining health for a number years, he had been seriously ill only for a short time.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon on March 5, 1940 at 2:00 in the Greenwood Church. The pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran Church at Stanley officiated at the services. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery (JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Onsager, John Anderson s of Anders Larson Biella and Martha Jonsdatter Schierstad.

John was born on the Biella farm in Hadeland, Norway on September 11, 1818. Siri, the daughter of Ole Jorgenson Tingelstad (see) and Anne Nielssdatter, was born March 3, 1818 in Hadeland, Norway. She was baptized on March 8, 1818. John and Siri emigrated from Christiania (Oslo), Norway September 10, 1880 on the vessel Germanic of the White Star Line and arrived at the port of New York on September 25, 1880. Onsager, Ole (Anderson) Anton, s/o Andrew Johnson Onsager (see) and Thorine Thorkildsdtr.

Ole, was born on December 9, 1880 in Greenwood Township, Vernon County, Wisconsin. He was baptized on January 1, 1881 in the Greenwood Lutheran Church with his first cousin, Mary Onsager. Ole grew up on the farm in Greenwood.

My Aunt Dorothy Anason told me that Grandpa said he could ski jump 70 feet as a young man (Undated interview by LW Onsager).

In his early twenties, Ole moved to Juneau County where he and his cousin George Onsager rented a farm together.

[John Heerey told me that Ole was pretty handy with boxing gloves and while he was staying with George, a man named Chris Martin wanted to box him. Martin asked Ole if he would like to go a round. Ole replied that he hadn't done much boxing but they could spar. Martin got kind of rough so Ole hit him a good one knocking him over the stove. He then hit Martin three or four more times knocking him out. They revived Martin by taking him out on the porch and pouring water on his head (when I was about 13 or 14, Grandma Onsager gave my brothers Grandpa’s old boxing gloves)].

Ole Onsager, 24, b. WI, parents b. Norway, single, farmer, is listed as head of household # 47 in the 1905 state census for Lisbon Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with his partner, Bert Nelson, 31, b. WI, parents b. Ole was married on January 17, 1907 at the farm home of the bride's parents in Lisbon Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin to Helena Bernadine Amanda Reetz.
(witnesses: Otto Reetz and Millie Macomber). The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the East Lemonweir Lutheran Church.

Lena, the daughter of Edward Julius Reetz and Johanna Sophia Kruger, was born at 3 p.m. on April 20, 1887 in Watertown, Dodge County, Wisconsin. In 1891, Edward moved his family to Lisbon Township in Juneau County, Wisconsin. While they were building the house, his daughter, Lena, fell through the floor with an arm load of dishes, landing in the basement. At the time of her marriage, Lena was working as a dressmaker in Mauston, Wisconsin (Dorothy Onsager Anason interview, LW Onager files).

Reetz family: Johann Ferdinand Reetz was born on May 30, 1824 in Warsin, Kreis (County) Pyritz, Pomerania. Johann was married about 1846 in Pomerania to Maria Miehlke. Maria was born in Pomerania in April 1828. Johann and Maria had 10 children in Pomerania. They left Bremen, Germany to join their children in the United States on May 16, 1885.

Maria died on July 29, 1904 in Watertown, Wisconsin. After Maria's death, Johann moved to the home of his daughter, Augusta Bimm, in Savanna, Carroll County, Illinois. He died there on March 26, 1907.

Edward Julius Reetz, son of Johann Ferdinand Reetz and Maria Miehlke, was born on April 26, 1853 in Saatzig, Kreis Schlatikow, Pomerania, Germany. He was christened in infancy and later confirmed in the Lutheran faith. Edward became an apprentice blacksmith in his youth, learning the trade and becoming a master blacksmith.

The family has a copy of Edward’s discharge from the German army dated June 26, 1875. Each young man was supposed to serve three years but Edward was discharged after two years because of curvature of the spine and malformation of the back which rendered him unfit to serve. In the army, he performed blacksmith work.

Edward was married on September 15, 1881 at Doelitz in Pomerania to Johanna Sophia Kruger. Edward was 28 and Sophia was 22. Sophia, the daughter of Julius Ferdinand Kruger and Christina Korth, was born on February 19, 1859 and baptized on February 22, 1859 in Doelitz.

Edward and Sophia left from Hamberg, Germany for the United States on their honeymoon on September 27, 1881. According to family tradition, they took 40 days on a sailing vessel and Sophia was supposed to have been sick the entire way as seas were bad. They arrived in New York on the vessel, Herder, on October 14, 1881 and were in Wisconsin by October 17, 1881. Edward declared his intention to become a citizen on October 28, 1882 at Juneau in Dodge County, Wisconsin. His petition for naturalization was dated August 12, 1913 and he was admitted as a citizen on April 27, 1914.

Children:

Otto Rudolph Albert, b. Aug 5, 1885, Watertown, Dodge Co, WI.

Helena Bernadine Amanda, b. Apr 20, 1887, Watertown, Dodge Co, WI.

Ole and Lena lived first on a farm in Juneau County midway between Mauston and New Lisbon for one year. They lived in Lisbon township with Lena’s parents for the next year where their son Harry was born. They were living in Lindina Township in 1908 and 1909 when they lost two children. [My mother told me that Grandma lost one of the babies while milking cows while Grandpa was out deer hunting. Grandma was between two cows, who leaned on her causing a miscarriage. Grandpa stopped going deer hunting.]

Ole Onsager, 29, married 3 years, a general farm laborer, is listed as head of household # 24/25 in the 1910 census for Hampden Township, Columbia County, Wisconsin with his wife, Lena, 23, 1 pregnancy, 1 living child, and son, Harry, 2. They lived in a rented house. Columbia County touches the southwest corner of Juneau County.
From there they moved to Milwaukee where Ole worked as a carpenter. Ole was uncomfortable in the city (he told Lena that there were too many Germans in Milwaukee). They moved back to Juneau County and rented the Hineman farm by Lone Rock near Ken Ruf's farm in Lindina Township. Here Laura was born in 1911 and Helen in 1913.

In 1914 they lived on the farm later owned by Cliff Peterson in Lindina Township. The Atlas and Farmers' Directory of Juneau County, Wisconsin listed Onsager, O. A., R1, sec 8 ac 35, owns sec 5, ac 40, wf Lena, ch Harry, Laura, Helen (9 years in county) (Mauston Post Office). Their son Andrew was born here in 1914. After two years they moved into the village of New Lisbon. They again moved to Milwaukee where Ole worked as a carpenter.

They must have moved around very quickly because a notice appeared in the Mauston Star on December 2, 1914 that Ole Onsager had bought the Martin Hansen farm in the town of Clearfield. Possession was to take place on March 1, 1915. The deal was made through the agency of C. A. Leicht. Leonard was born on this farm in 1916. They sold this farm to Mr. and Mrs. Christ Kropp on May 29, 1917.

In 1917 they moved to a farm near Centuria, Polk County, Wisconsin. Here Roy was born in 1918 and Raymond was born in 1920.

Ole A. Onsager, 37, b. December 9, 1880, registered for the World War I draft on September 12, 1918 in Balsam Lake, Polk County, Wisconsin. He was a farm owner whose address was Centuria, R. # 1, Wisconsin. His nearest relative was his wife, Lina. Ole was described as tall, medium build with brown eyes and dark hair.

Township Map, note location of Eureka and Centuria
Ole Onsager, 39, b. WI, parents b. Norway, married, a dairy farmer, own account, is listed as head of household # 48/49 in the 1920 census for Eureka Township, Polk County, Wisconsin with his wife, Lena, 33, b. WI, parents b. Germany, married, son, Harry, 12, b. WI, at school, daughters, Laura, 8, b. WI, at school, Helen, 6, b. WI, at school, sons, Andrew, 5, b. WI, Leonard, 3, b. WI, and Roy, 1, b. WI.

They moved to Scandia, in Washington County, Minnesota in 1920. Raymond died on December 17, 1920 in New Scandia, Washington County, Minnesota. Here Dorothy was born in 1922 and Ruby in 1924.

Scandia, located 25 miles northeast of St. Paul, is named because of its strong Scandinavian heritage. Scandia was the site of what is believed to have been the first Swedish immigrant settlement within the State of Minnesota.

Next they lived near the town of Hugo in Washington County about 14 miles northeast of St. Paul where they lost the farm and held an auction. Ole moved the family to Forest Lake, in Washington County, Minnesota where he worked for the city as the street commissioner. Gordon was born in Forest Lake in 1926. My father recalled that they cut the grass along the road sides and used it as hay for their horses.

They moved in 1926 to a farm in Woodmohr Township, Chippewa County, Wisconsin near Bloomer. My Aunt Dorothy told me that Grandpa loaded the household goods on a hay wagon pulled by their team of horses. My father, Leonard, who was about 10 years old at the time was one of those who rode with Grandpa. They stopped at farms along the way where they would sleep in the barns in the hay lofts. Grandma brought the girls and the younger boys by train. Esther was born on the farm near Bloomer in 1928.

Ole A. Onsager, 49, b. WI, parents b. Norway, m. at 26, a farmer, is listed as head of household # 3/3 in the 1930 census for Woodmohr Township, Chippewa County, Wisconsin with his wife, Lena A., 42, b. WI, parents b. Germany, m. at 19, son, Harry E., 18, b. WI, farm laborer, daughters, Laura S., 18, b. WI, single, servant, private family, Helen G., 16, b. WI, single, sons, Andrew O., 15, b. WI. They lived on a rented farm and owned a radio. The census was enumerated on April 2, 1930.

They moved to a farm near Chippewa Falls, Chippewa County, Wisconsin in 1932 and then to the Christianson farm near Dallas and Hillsdale, Barron County, Wisconsin in 1936 where they stayed 3 years.

About 1939, they returned to Juneau County and moved to the farm where Ken Ruf lives in Lindina Township. The last farm they lived on was the old Smith farm in Lindina Township where they lived 5 or 6 years. The farm was located 5 miles south of Mauston, 1 mile west of highway 58 and 1 mile east of highway G on county trunk O.
During the 1940s, Ole’s eye sight deteriorated due to glaucoma. He stopped driving his car after he drove off their driveway into a field one day.

At age 65, Ole decided to retire. Ole and Lena’s auction was held on Wednesday, March 27, 1946 beginning at 10 a.m. “Colonel” George W. Siebecker of Mauston was the auctioneer.

One of my earliest memories involves the move to Mauston. I was a two year old that summer when my Dad went out to the farm to retrieve some car parts that had been left in the garage on the farm. While Dad was talking to the farmer, I was busy pulling burdocks from the tail of the farmer’s farm dog, a collie. In irritation, the dog turned and snapped at me. The dog got no blame for biting me on the cheek. I had a small scar which finally faded when I was a young teenager.

Ole and Lena moved to a house on Main Street in Mauston where they lived until Ole died and Lena was moved to a nursing home. [I remember spending many Sunday’s visiting with cousins while everyone sat or laid on the lawn. Grandpa and Grandma had a white wooden bench with a back where they would sit. Grandpa fed squirrels corn on a wooden shelf nailed to the tree. John and Tillie (Onsager) Heerey lived in half the house. Heerey’s second hand store was next door. Grandpa had a garden space out back which bordered on the railroad tracks. A small railroad car sat behind a small garage located between Grandpa’s house and Heerey’s second hand store. An old man lived there and Grandpa would speak Norwegian to him. Years later my mother’s stepbrother, George Putzler, told me how he and my uncle, Gordon Onsager, made a key to the garage and “borrowed” Grandpa’s car at night after Grandpa and Grandma had gone to sleep.

When I was probably in the second or third grade, I would go to my grandparents home after school. I normally sat on Grandpa’s lap and listened to the radio with him. The programs were Bobby Benson of the B Bar B, the Cisco Kid and Pancho, and Wild Bill Hickok.]

Ole died on May 12, 1954 in Mauston, Wisconsin and was buried in the Oakwood Cemetery in Mauston. Lena died on July 21, 1970 in Mauston, Wisconsin. She was buried on July 24, 1970 in the Oakwood Cemetery.

Onsager, Ole Johnson s of John Onsager (see) and Siri Olsdr.

Ole was born either on December 30, 1846 or January 3, 1847 in Hadeland, Norway. The more probable date is January 3 which appears in the Gran church records.
The December date appears in his obituary and on his tombstone. Perhaps Ole needed to be a year older at some point in his life and changed his birth date.

As a young man, he was a champion ice skater and worked in the Hadeland Glasswerk. Ole became a glassmaker at Jevnaker but left Norway in 1868 for America. He came by way of Liverpool, England where he sailed on 1 Nov 1868. He lived with his uncle, Ole T. Olson of Mauston for the next several years. In the 1870 census, he is listed as Ole Johnsen.

Ole was married on June 9, 1872 in Greenwood Township, Vernon Co., Wis. to Mary Nelson. Mary, the dau of Einar Nelson and Gertrude Paulson, was born on June 25, 1853 in Laerdel, Norway.

Mary’s family emigrated to America when she was a year old, making their home on a farm near Perry in Dane County, Wis. When she was 12, the family moved to Greenwood Township in Vernon County, Wis.

Ole settled in Greenwood Township, Vernon County after he married in 1872 and purchased an 80 acre farm. He became a member of the Greenwood Lutheran Church on June 4, 1872. In 1898 or 1899, they sold their farm and moved to Lindina Township in Juneau County. In the 1914 Atlas and Farmers Directory of Juneau County, Wisconsin, Ole was farming 135 acres in section 4 and 3 acres in section 9. He and Mary had lived in the county for 15 years. They lived there until 1917 when they moved to Mauston and lived with their son Carl. Ole became a naturalized citizen on September 10, 1914.

Ole died on July 22, 1921 in Mauston, Juneau Co., Wisconsin. He was buried on July 25, 1921 in the Suldal Cemetery, Lindina Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. Mary died on April 24, 1939 in Hillsboro, Vernon Co., Wisconsin. She was buried beside Ole in the Suldal Cemetery (JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 680).

Ormson, Disa dau of Orm Torson Mo (see) and Ingeborg Larsdtr. Vinje.

Disa was born on May 28, 1823 in Suldal, Norway. She emigrated to the United States in 1869 with her brother, Johannes and his family, and her mother. Disa is listed as passenger #202 on the Heros (Captain Tønnes Olsen). The Heros, captained by Tønnes Olsen, departed from the city of Stavanger on May 3, 1869 and arrived in Quebec, Canada on June 1, 1869. The British Government repealed the navigation laws in 1849 and from 1850 on, Canada became the port of choice as Norwegian ships carried passengers to Canada and took lumber back to Norway. The Canadian route offered many advantages to the emigrant. “They moved on from Quebec both by rail and by steamer for another thousand or more miles for a steerage fare of slightly less than $9.00. Steamers from Quebec brought them to Toronto, then the immigrants often traveled by rail for 93 miles to Collingwood on Lake Huron, from where steamers transported them across Lake Michigan to Chicago, Milwaukee and Green Bay.” (Loken, Gulbrand, Fjord to Frontier: A History of the Norwegians in Canada, Toronto, 1980, pp. 13-14).

Paul, a lumberman living in Necedah, was married on June 7, 1874 in Necedah in the Methodist Episcopal Church by J. H. Whitney of Necedah to Julia Hanson Larson. The witnesses were James Larson and Dora M. Larson.
Julia, the dau of Torger Larson and Martha Hansen, was born in July 1852 in Kongsberg, Buskerud County, Norway. She emigrated to the U.S. in 1869.
On April 18, 1875, Paul and Julia became charter members of the Scandinavian Lutheran Church in Necedah (members # 49 & 50).

Paul Peterson is listed as head of household in the 1875 state census for Necedah Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with 1 male and 2. Perhaps the second female was his sister Caroline who was living with him in 1880.

Paul Peterson, 35, b. Norway, a farmer, is listed as head of household # 267/277 in the 1880 census for Necedah Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with his wife, Julia, 29, b. Perry Berg is unidentified. It is strange that Paul would be a grandfather when he was only married in 1874.

Paul Peterson is listed as head of household in the 1895 state census for Armenia Township with 8 males and 2 females, 2 born in Scandinavia and 8 born in the United States.

This is a very garbled record. Paul was actually 66 and Julia, 57. They had been married 36 years and Julia had 8 pregnancies.

Paul died before 1920. Otto P. Pederson, 30, b. WI, parents b. Preus, Herman Ambger

Rev. H. A. Preus was born on June 16, 1825 in Kristiansand, Norway. His ancestors were Germans who settled in Norway in 1700. Preus' grandfather was a Lutheran clergyman; his father, a college president; and his mother, a member of the illustrious Keyser family. He received the degree of A.B. from the University of Norway in 1843 and that of can. theol. in 1848. In 1851, he accepted a call as pastor from three churches in the vicinity of Spring Prairie, Dane and Columbia counties, Wisconsin. Being a hard worker, Preus soon extended his field of activity far beyond the original charge. He preached in numerous places within a radius of fifty miles, and often he would preach at places located over one hundred miles from home.

On July 25, 1854, in response to a written call from the Norwegian settlers at Lemonweir, Adams County, Wisconsin, he organized "The Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Congregation in Lemonweir." Preus conducted thirty-four church services during the eleven years that he served the Lemonweir parish. On October 3, 1883, he participated in the dedication of the East Lemonweir Church and on November 2, 1893, he participated at the dedication of the West Lemonweir Church.

Preus was married in 1851 in Norway to Caroline Dorthea Margrethe Keyser, of Kristiania, Norway, who died in 1880. He died on July 2, 1894 in Lee, Illinois. They were both buried at the Spring Prairie Cemetery in Keyser, Wisconsin. Their children included: Rev. C. K. Preus, Rev. J. W. Preus, Mrs. Rev. I. Nordby, and Mrs. Rev. Dan. Kvaase.

Quamme, Jacob Larson s of Lars Knudsen Quamme (see) and Brita Hansdtr. Ovre Kvame.

Jacob was born on January 13, 1846 in Borgund Subparish, Laerdal District Parish, Sogn og Fjordane County, Norway. Following his graduation from Seminary for Teachers at Balestand, he taught in private and public schools in Norway for 7 years. In the 1865 Norwegian Census, he is listed as a school teacher lodging in the Ole Gullickson household on the Lysne øvre farm in the Tønjum Sogn (parish).

Jacob was married, first, in 1869 to Theodora Olafine Selsing. Theodora, the dau of Trond Trondson Selsing (see) and Ingeborg Judkins, was born on September 26, 1845 in Bergen, Norway. They came to the U.S. in 1871 with their infant dau, leaving Liverpool, England on June 5 and landing in Quebec where they proceeded by rail to Detroit. They were in Utica, Crawford County, Wisconsin for 11 years. Here Jacob served as teacher and song leader for the Lutheran congregation and reader when the non-resident pastor could not attend.

Jacob was called as a regular teacher and preceptor for the East and West Lemonweir congregations and began his duties on October 22, 1882. Halvor Johnson provided for Jacob and his family until they were permanently settled in Fountain Township. Jacob and Theodora joined the West Lemonweir Church (ELCR). Jacob taught the Lutheran catechism and the Norwegian language and served for about 22 years (resigning because of age). Jacob served 56 years as teacher of the Lutheran faith.

The Norwegian school was a wooden building about 18 x 30 feet in size. It had one door, which was in front, and three windows on each side. There were two rooms, a cloak room in the front and the school room itself. The teacher's desk was in the front and the wood heater was about 10 feet back, with black stove pipe to the chimney on the back of the building. The desks were behind the stove.

Jacob and Theodora had a farm in sections 31 and 32 (120 acres) in Fountain Township. Theodora died on November 2, 1913 and was buried in the West Lemonweir Cemetery. At the age of 69, Jacob was married, second, on June 30, 1915 in Lindina Township by Pastor Ruh to Anna Eliza Nevestveit. The witnesses were Mr. & Mrs. John E. Johnson and Mr. & Mrs. Jermon Tveit.

Anna, the dau of Ole Gjermundson Tveit and Anna Felland, was born on February 14, 1859 in Juneau County, Wisconsin. She was the widow of Ole B. Nevestveit (see).
Mendus Western (see Gustave Western) recalled that his parents rented Anna's farm about the time she married Jacob. Mendus' dad would tell about Jacob looking over the big house and the smoke from the chimney and saying it looked like a factory. It wasn't long before he found out who ruled the roost there. Jacob was a large man with a full beard and wouldn't hurt anyone. He had false teeth that clicked whenever he talked. Jacob came over every evening to get milk and they always visited with him in Norwegian. Jacob always smelled of peppermint, popular candy of the day.

Anna died on April 30, 1932 at her home in Lindina Township and was buried on May 4, 1932 in the Suldal Cemetery, Rev. C. Hjermstad officiating (ELCR; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 676). Jacob died on October 12, 1935 at the home of his dau, Dora, Mrs. George Jerman, in West Prairie, Trempealeau County, Wisconsin and was buried on October 16, 1935 beside his first wife in the West Lemonweir Cemetery (Wis Cen 1905, Fountain #169; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 304; obit, New Lisbon, May 12, 1932, Oct 24, 1935).

Sandvik, Ola Olson s of Ola Larsson Raudskred, Gautun and Helene Holgersdtr. Tangen, Kjetilstad (see Ola Osmundson Storevik, Lali). Ola was born in 1833 in Suldal, Rogaland County, Norway.

Ola was married on April 11, 1856 in Suldal Parish to Borghild Leivsdtr. Aarhus (Norway Marriages, 1660-1926, FamilySearch.org).

Borghild, the dau of Leiv Albertson Aarhus (see) and Borghild Nilsdtr. Bakka, was born on September 17, 1833. Before her marriage, Borghild had a son Lars, who was born and died in 1852, by Ola Bjornson Sandvik (see) and a son Lars, who was born on May 29, 1853, by Ola Gabrielson Kilen, Haugen. Lars traveled to America in 1878 (see Arhus, Lars Olsen?).

Ola moved his family to a husmannplace, Natskaar, that he cleared on the Sandvik farm about 1865. He died in 1874. Borghild and the younger children emigrated to America. The older children came over later. Borghild probably died on May 15, 1918 in Fountain Township (see Aarhus Bertha) Note discrepancy in birthdates (Gamle Suldal, pp. 404, 569, 591, 616; Sukka Aetta, pp. 210, 304; JDR).

Sather (Saether, Sother, Luther), Halvor (Henry) G. s of Gunder Halvorsen and Johanna

[The parish and county that Halvor emigrated from has not been determined. Two different men are possibilities. Two different dates of immigration have been found. In the Juneau County declarations of intent to become a citizen, Henry Sather, born in 1847 in Norway, wrote that he entered the U. S. at Detroit in June 1869. His declaration to become a citizen was made on November 3, 1869. In the 1900, Henry gave his date of immigration as 1871 and his birth month and year as Nov 1846. The 1871 date could be explained by poor memory, a different family member guessing, or simply census taker error.

When Halvor was married in 1880, he gave his parents as Gunder Halvorson and Johanna. He used the middle initial G. Halvor named his first son, George, which follows the traditional naming pattern but was his father, Georg, Gregor, Gunder, or something else.

A search of a database on the Digitalarkivet web site, Emigrants from Oslo, 1867-1930, identifies Halvor Gregersen, unmarried, a worker, age 27, residence, Sauland, Telemark as sailing for New York on April 9, 1869. There is a discrepancy in the age.
Sauland is part of Hjartdal Parish/Township. Hjartdal consists of three subparishes, Tuddel, Hjartdal and Sauland.

A search of the FamilySearch.org databases identifies another possibility. Halvor Gundersen, the son of Gunder Halvorsen and Johanne Mikkelsdr., was born on Nov 18, 1845 and baptized in the Hof Church, Hedmark County, Norway on Nov 23, 1845. The age is different but the parents names match his marriage record. I recommend either finding some additional family held information or a visit to the Naeseth Library in Madison, Wisconsin to do more research.

Halvor was born in November 1844-7 (1900 census; FamilySearch.org, Juneau County declarations of intent) in Norway. On April 18, 1875, he was a charter member of the Scandinavian Lutheran Church in Necedah (member # 42).

Henry Sather (misread as Luther), a laborer living in Necedah, was married on April 12, 1880 by F. P. Butler in New Lisbon, Juneau County, Wisconsin to Nellie Hanson. The witnesses were August Chaimholm (Charnholm) and Julia Hanson. August was Nellie’s first cousin and Julia was her sister.

Nellie is listed as head of household in the 1895 state census for Fountain Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. Henry and Nellie owned a mortgaged farm. The census was enumerated on June 20, 1895. Their neighbors were Ole H. Johnson and Ole A. Lee.

Henry Sather died from a skull fracture on February 2, 1901 at age 53 (WI deaths, 1820-1907, Ancestry.com). While getting into his wagon at Camp Douglas, he was kicked in the head by one of his horses. Halvor was taken to his home where he died shortly after (Mauston Star, Feb 7, 1901, p. 8).

Nellie Sather is listed as head of household # 74 in the 1905 state census for Fountain Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. Nellie owned a mortgaged farm. The census was enumerated on June 1, 1905. Their neighbors were Ole Lee and Ole H. Johnson.
On July 10, 1907, a devastating cyclone struck Clifton Township in Monroe County and proceeded through the townships of Fountain and Plymouth. Mrs. Sather lost house, windmills, and barns (Elroy Tribune, July 11, 1907).

Nellie Sather, 53, b. WI, parents b. Norway, a widow, 6 pregnancies, 4 living children, a farmer, general farm, is listed as head of household # 111/114 in the 1910 census for Fountain Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with her son, Otto, 16, b. WI, single, a farm laborer, home farm, and daughter, Olga, 13, b. WI. Nellie owned a mortgaged farm. The census was enumerated on April 30, 1910. Their neighbors were Ole H. Johnson and Ole A. Lee.

Nellie (Petronilla) died on October 25, 1913 in Clearfield Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin. Halvor and Nellie were buried in the West Lemonweir Cemetery. Halvor also used the name Sother. The correct Norwegian spelling was Saether/Saetre/Saeter (SLCR; ELCR; Wis Cen, 1905, Fountain #74; US Cen, 1910, Fountain #114; JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 302; obit, New Lisbon, Nov 12, 1913).

Schive, Carl Lauritz (Pastor) s of Christen H. Schive and Petronelle Adelgunde Laerum.
   Carl was born on June 27, 1867 in Holmestrand, a town in Vestfold County, Norway. He attended Aars and Voss' Latin School, graduating in 1885 with an A.B; Christiana University, 1885-91 (Philos., C.T.). Carl was ordained in Christiania by Bishop Essendrop in 1892. He was married and immigrated to the United States that same year. His wife was Anna Holst. Anna was born in October 1867. Carl was a pastor in Hoboken, New Jersey from 1892-95 and in Westby, Wisconsin from 1895-96.
   In April 1896, Carl was called to be the minister for the East Lemonweir Church and the associated churches of West Lemonweir, Greenwood in Vernon County, and Cazenovia in Sauk County. He was installed as pastor on July 5, 1896. In December 1896, East Lemonweir, upon request, gave its consent to the establishment of a congregation in Elroy which gave him a fifth church to minister. In 1900, Carl and Anna lived on the farm in Lisbon Township provided as a parsonage by the East Lemonweir Church. They had not had any children. Ellen O. Severson, age 30, and Gilbert Juve, age 15, lived in the household and were employed by them as servants (1900 U.S cen).
   In a report made in May 1904, Carl described the East Lemonweir Church as a strong congregation of almost 100 families; the entire Lemonweir Parish had about 1,200 souls. The roads in the parish, he described as long and wearisome, since the congregational members lived in five different counties (Juneau, Vernon, Monroe, Sauk, and Jackson or Wood?). Because of these distances, powerful voices called for the division of the parish and several meetings were held in 1902 and 1903 to discuss division. Nothing had been decided and he hoped for a peaceful solution to this important problem!

The West Lemonweir Church was completed in 1898 with the addition of a steeple. In 1899 both Lemonweir churches had been in use for 25 years and Carl held a celebration in the West Church in May and in the East Church in September 1899. In the summer of 1904, Carl presided over the 50th anniversary celebration for East Lemonweir. Later that year, he asked for a year's leave of absence, in order to visit Norway. Carl and Anna left in the spring of 1905. The Rev. John G. Nelson was called as temporary pastor and served until September 1906. Having decided to remain in Norway, Carl sent his resignation as pastor. His resignation was considered and accepted on April 10, 1906. Carl died in Norway on September 4, 1915.

At the time of the 1860 census, Charles (Carl) Peterson, his brother Ole Peterson, and Caroline Hanson (Karen Hansdtr.) were all living in the Benson Peck boarding house in Necedah. Charles and Ole were laborers and Caroline was working as a domestic. The census was enumerated on September 20, 1860.

Carl was married on March 24, 1860 in Necedah to Karen Hansdtr. ( Kareen Howe). Carl was 25 and Karen was 26. This date may be incorrect. Note that they are listed as single residents of the Benson Peck boarding house when the 1860 census was enumerated on September 20, 1860.

Karen, the daughter of Hans Olson Howe (see) and Anna Larsdtr. Dravold, was born on December 7, 1833 in Akershus County, Norway. She was baptized on January 1, 1834 in the Ullensaker Parish, Akershus County, Norway (ext rec, IGL FamilySearch.org). Karen came to America in 1853 with her parents and siblings. They settled, first, in Chicago, later in Milwaukee, and in 1855 in Juneau County.

Carl and Karen located first in Waupun, Wisconsin and then in Necedah. In 1864, they moved to Mauston where Carl engaged in the blacksmith business for about 20 years. They then purchased a farm in Lindina Township (Mauston P.O.). Carl died on September 25, 1900 in Lindina Township. He had a brother at Steen, Minnesota and a sister living in Milwaukee.

In 1905, Carrie (Karen) was living alone in Mauston. Her occupation was given as capitalist. She died on January 25, 1916 at her home in Mauston. They were buried in the Mauston Cemetery (US Cen, 1860, Necedah, WI, Vesterheim #19125-7; US Cen, 1880, Mauston #10; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 592; obits, Mauston Star, Sep 27, 1900, p. 1, Jan 27, 1916; Wis Cen, 1905, Mauston #12; JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Steen, J. P. see Steen, Johan (John) Anthon Pederson

Steen, Johan (John) Anthon s of Peder O. Steen (see) and Inger Trondsdtr.

  Johan was born on November 18, 1841 in Ringerike Township, Buskerud County, Norway. He was baptized on March 6, 1842 in the Hole Parish, Buskerud County, Norway. John’s date of immigration is unknown. Two of his brothers came to the U. S. in 1854. John has not been located in the 1860 census. He probably came to the U. S. between 1860 and 1864.

  John served in the Civil War. A resident of Lindina Township, John enlisted for one year on April 11, 1865 in La Crosse, Wisconsin and was mustered as a private in Company K, 50th Wisconsin on the same day. He was a 23 year old blacksmith born in Norway. John was described as having blue eyes, brown hair, and a fair complexion. He was 5 foot and 6 ¼ inches tall. John received a $100 bounty for enlisting. The record states that he was paid $33.33.

  The regiment was organized at Camp Randall in Madison, Wisconsin and left the state by companies in the latter part of March and the beginning of April, 1865. It was sent first to Benton barracks in St. Louis, Missouri and then to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The regiment fought on September 16, 1865 at the Yankton Reservation in Dakota Territory. The regiment went to Fort Rice in Dakota Territory in October 1865, where it remained until the spring of 1866.

  John’s term of service expired on April 12, 1866 and he was mustered out at that time.
In the 1870 census, John was living at the Louis Rivers hotel in the village of Necedah. His occupation was listed as blacksmith and he was 28 years old. Johan had $600 in personal property but no real estate.

He was married on March 23, 1871 in Lisbon Township by Rev. St. S. Reque, minister of the East Lemonweir Church, to Lena Marie Clemmensen. They were both residents of Necedah, Wisconsin. The witnesses were Carl Clemmensen (Clemmensen) and Peder O. Steen. Lena, the dau of Nils Clemmensen (see) and Rise Dorthea Johnsen, was born in 1849/50 in Kongsberg (a town in Buskerud County), Norway (ELCR).

John and Lena moved to Clinton Township in Rock County, Minnesota in 1871. John’s brother, Ole, had moved to Clinton Township in 1870. They homesteaded on adjoining quarter sections in Section 32 of Clinton Township. John and Lena appear in the 1880 census for Clinton Township. John was 38 and Lena was 30. Ole P. Steen also appears in the 1880 census for Clinton Township, two households away. The village of Steen is located on a portion of John’s land. The village was named in honor of John and his brother, Ole. (US Cen, 1880, Clinton Twp Rock Co, MN, familysearch; Rose, A., An Illustrated History of Rock and Pipestone Counties, Minnesota, c1911, p. 206).

John Steen, 47, b. Norway, is listed as head of household #15 in the 1885 state census for Clinton Township, Rock County, Minnesota with Lena, 33, b. Norway, Peter, 13, b. MN, Richard, 11, b. MN, George, 9, b. MN, Almer, 7, b. MN, Ida, 5, b. MN, Eddie, 3, b. MN, William, 2, b. MN, Gilbert, 0, b. MN, and Christ Berg, 35, b. MN. Their post office was in La Verne, Minnesota. The census was enumerated on May 1, 1885.

In September 1887, the owners of the Illinois Central Rail Road began laying rails on an extension from Rock Rapids, Iowa to Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Early in the year 1888, the Illinois Central managers announced their intention to plat and develop a station in Clinton Township. It was the offer of John P. Steen to donate 20 acres of his homestead for townsite purposes that influenced the railroad company officials to locate the proposed station on his land.

The first passenger train operated on the railroad line on June 2, 1888. The townsite was originally called Virginia and the farm house of John P. Steen was the only building on the site when it was recorded on September 3, 1888. Virginia had already been used in northern Minnesota, so the post office was named Steen in honor of John and his brother, Oley, who lived on the neighboring farm. The name of the village was changed from Virginia to Steen in the summer of 1893 (An Illustrated History of the Counties of Rock and Pipestone, Minnesota by Arthur P. Rose, 1911, pp. 206-7).

John P. Steen, private, Co K, 50th WI, Inf, enl 11 Apr 1865, M. O. 12 Apr 1866, served 1 yr, is listed as head of household # 47/47 in the 1890 veterans schedule for Clinton Township, Rock County, Minnesota. No disease or disability listed.

John Steen, 54, b. Norway, resident of MN & Clinton Twp, 23 yrs, postmaster, soldier in Civil War, is listed as head of household in the 1895 state for Clinton Township, Rock County, Minnesota with Lena, 45, b. John died in 1897 at about age 55 or 56. His oldest son, Peter, became the administrator of his father’s estate (An Illustrated History of the Counties of Rock and Pipestone, Minnesota, 1911, p. 447). Lena’s death date is unknown but she does not appear in the 1900 census.

Taroldson, Svend (Big Swen) Haukaas (Houkass) s of Tarold Bjorgufsen Haukaas (see) and Tone Svendsdatter. Svend was born on February 28, 1812 in Mo Township, Telemark County, Norway. His daus, Tone Karine and Gunhild, both used the farm name Haukaas when they were confirmed.

Svend was married, first, on December 23, 1840 to Karen Olsdatter Svendskjend [Kari Taroldsen]. Karen was baptized on the 16th Sunday after Trinity, 1814. She was from Solum. Her guardian was Jens Tharaldsen Svendskjend, Sr.

Svend and Karen emigrated with two daus, a babe in arms and a 2 year old, in 1843. Svend’s mother, Tone, accompanied them. Their ship, the Winterflid, arrived in New York from Skien on July 29, 1843. Oluf Ellegirs was the captain. There were 132 immigrants aboard. Sometime between 1843 and 1852, Svend settled in Newport Township in Columbia County, Wisconsin. The Norwegian settlement there was called the Mo Settlement. Karen died between 1843 and 1852 (Mo Parish records; Mo Bygdebok, vol 1, p. 13; Naeseth, vol 1, p. 256, 264).

Svend was married, second, about 1852 to Tone Gundersdtr. Tone was born in 1817/8 in Norway. They were the first couple from Newport (village or township?) in Columbia County to be married. They had to cross the Wisconsin River and go to the village of Delton to find a minister to marry them. Elder Topping married them. Big Sven agreed to pay Topping in hay. Topping had to remind him before he paid up. Big Sven was killed in 1860 by a train while returning from Newport on foot (Curry, Ross, "Dells, Town of Newport's history," n.p., Ross' Reminiscences, tales from early Dell's area history, 1991).

Svend and Tone belonged to the Newport Church which was located 5 miles southeast of Kilbourn (Wisconsin Dells) and were part of the Mo Settlement. H. A. Preus was the minister from 1851-1865 and St. S. Reque from 1865-1871. The church was organized about 1852 as part of the Norwegian synod.

Tone appears in the 1860 census in Newport Township, Columbia County (Vesterheim # 3263-7.

In 1902, Ole sold his farm and bought a larger farm on old highway 29, now county X, between Thorp and Stanley, Wisconsin. It was in Thorp Township, Clark County on the North Fork of the Eau Claire River. Ole called it the Eidsvold farm. Nearby was the now defunct community of Eidsvold, probably named for Eidsvoll, Norway, where the Norwegian constitution was signed on May 17, 1814. A very clever craftsman, Ole cleared the land and built the buildings on it. The barn, built in 1914, was put together with hand hewn beams and wooden dowels.

Ole remarried in 1904/5 to a widow, Mrs. Anna (Isaacson) Peterson, who had five children. Anna was born on November 25, 1860 in Norway and came to the United States at the age of 16. She made her home near Thorp with her first husband, Mathias Peterson. Mathias was born in Horton (Horton is a city in Vestfold County), Norway and died in 1895. The children were Caroline (Mary), Ella, Mathilda, Elmer, and Olaf. They found much in common and two of Ole's sons married two of Anna's daughters.

Ole and Anna sold the farm to Andrew Sax in 1919 and retired in Stanley, Wisconsin. Ole died in Stanley on August 16, 1922 at the age of 72. Anna died in 1930 (JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Winterhus (Vetrhus), Bjedne Osmundson s of Osmund Osmundson Vetrhus (see) and Angjer Bjednesdatter. Bjedne was born on Vetrhus farm, Suldal, Norway on May 4, 1817. On June 4, 1840, he married Eldri Jonsdatter Steinbru. Eldri, the dau of Jon Aslakson Steinbru (see) and Siri Torjusdatter Borkjenes, was born on Steinbru farm, Suldal, Norway on March 23, 1819. On Vetrhus, Bjedne and Eldri’s eight children were born.

In April 1864, Bjedne, his family, his brother, Osmund and his family, and probably, his brother-in-law, Knut Ormson's widowed mother and unmarried sister, emigrated to Juneau County, Wisconsin. They entered the US at Chicago in June 1864 and joined the East Lemonweir Church in August 1864. After his arrival in the United States, Bjedne went by several different names. Some records show his Christian name as Bjarne, and at times he was called Bjorne and Barney. The farm name that he sometimes used appeared as both Vetrhus and Winterhus. His brother Osmund used Vinorhus and several of his children used Benson. Ben Osmundson declared his intent to become a naturalized citizen on November 5, 1867 in Juneau County.

Bjedne and Eldri lived for many years on a farm in Lindina Township. Bjedne died on November 14, 1894 in Lindina Township at age 77. The name on his headstone is "Bjarne Winterhus." Eldri lived to 93 and died on July 20, 1912. They were buried in the Suldal Cemetery (Gamle Suldal, pp. 389, 584; Sukka Aetta, pp. 178, 275; JCGS Cem Bk 5, p. 679; JDR, 3-49; JC Dec Int, JC Hist Soc).

Wood, Martin Christianson Skonen (Skoven) s of Christian Larsen Skogen (see) and Marthe Hansdtr. Skoven. Martin was born on July 17, 1820 in Rygge Township, Oestfold County, Norway. Oestfold is located on the eastside of Oslofjord. Skonen, Skoven or Skogen is a farm name meaning “wood”. Martin and his mother, Marthe, emigrated from Drammen in 1843. Marthe’s brother, Even Hansen Heg (see), had emigrated in 1840 and no doubt this was the reason that Martin and Marthe were emigrating. The story of the voyage was recorded by Soeren Bache in his diary which was translated by Clarence A. Clausen and Andreas Elviken and published in 1951 by the Norwegian-American Historical Association as a book entitled, A Chronicle of Old Muskego; The Diary of Soren Bache, 1839-1847, pages 74-87.

Martin and Marthe boarded the bark, Johanna, on the evening of May 22nd and about four o’clock in the morning the captain weighed anchor and they began their journey. The captain was Lyder Mensing. Both the ship and the captain were from Bremen, Germany. There were 5 cabin passengers, 34 steerage passengers with board, and 84 steerage passengers without board for a total of 123. Martin and Marthe each paid the 28 specie dollars each for steerage with board. Steerage without board cost 20 specie dollars for each adult.
Since there was no wind, by eight a.m., the ship had sailed no further than Svelvik, a town along the Drammenfjord. There the captain cast anchor, being unable to make any headway in the channel. Many of the passengers spent their time on deck with telescopes trying to get a good view of the countryside and the mountains along the fjord. Although there was no wind, Casper Krogh, a gunsmith, managed to lose his hat.

The Johanna got underway on May 24 about 4:30 am. The ship passed Roedtangen and entered the Christianiafjord (Oslofjord) about noon, making very slow progress because of poor wind conditions. At Holmstrand in Vestfold County, the passengers saw the Prince Carl touching at the pier. The weather was fine and the ship’s speed so leisurely, the passengers had ample opportunity to watch the beautiful scenery along the fjord. Martin and his mother were probably aware that Rygge Township and their many friends and relatives lay just to the east of them as the Johanna sailed south through the Oslofjord. The fjord narrows to about 5 miles wide at this point. On May 25th, Ascension Day, the ship passed the Faerder lighthouse between 9 and 10 a.m. and the captain dropped off their pilot. At this the point, they began to sail west along the southern coast of Norway. The weather started out with a clear sky except for a few pale clouds on the southern horizon, but by late afternoon most of the sky was overcast. On May 26th, they had a favorable wind enabling them to pass Kristiansand at 9 a.m. and Mandal some two hours later. About 3 p.m., they passed Lindesnes lighthouse, the southernmost point of Norway and the real voyage began.

The ship started sailing in a northwesterly direction since Captain Mensing intended to go north of Scotland. However, by Sunday, May 28th, the captain decided to change course and pass through the English Channel because of a heavy storm with rain and hail. In the afternoon the weather improved, and the wind was favorable for the new course. Late in the afternoon of June 1st land was sighted at Yarmouth, England. Through their telescopes the passengers saw several towers, one being particularly prominent because of its great height. Soon a pilot from Yarmouth came aboard, and in reply to their questions informed them that what they took to be a tower was Admiral Nelson’s monument. The captain gave the pilot a brief note to be inserted in the local newspaper to let their friends and relatives in Norway know how they were faring. June 4th was Whitsunday, and they enjoyed the finest weather imaginable. But in spite of the fact that there was little wind and the ship glided smoothly across the surface of the water, there was some seasickness aboard, though not as much as in the case of rough weather. No doubt Martin and his mother, farmer folk, suffered along with the rest. Steamboats were plowing their way toward the mainland, creating a lively scene. The sailors put on neat clothes for the day. Even though they were afloat on this holiday, Bache observed that the day was pleasant and here and there on the deck individuals were sitting with their books, absorbed in devotional reading. Whitsunday is the seventh Sunday and fiftieth day after Easter, observed as festival in commemoration of the descent of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentacost.

On June 5th as they approached the Strait of Dover, the weather was less beautiful and there were contrary winds. They saw the city of Deal, England, located on a plain with high hills in the background. Because of the head wind, the captain had to change course in order to enter the Channel. Sailing southwest awhile brought them in sight of Calais, France. Again they changed direction and they drew close to Dover, England. That night and in the forenoon of June 6th, the ship was forced back by the wind and the current. In the afternoon, however, the wind became more favorable and they finally entered the Channel.
after several days of trying. During the night of June 6th, the ship made considerable headway and on the afternoon of June 7th they passed Beachy Head. Bache observed that Beachy Head is about sixteen and a half leagues beyond South Foreland, located at the entrance of the Channel. Beachy Head lies about 285 feet above the surface of the water. Later in the afternoon, the ship passed the towns of Newhaven, Brighton, and New Shoreham, making good progress westward; and this continued through the night. Beginning on Thursday, June 8th, they lost headway because of the strong wind and current. By the afternoon of June 10th, having lost most of the progress made on June 7th, Captain Mensing decided to put into port at Dungeness about 20 miles west of Dover. Bache described the town as situated on a low, level plain, close by was a high, round lighthouse painted in order to serve as a landmark during the daytime. Behind the town was an edifice that appeared to be a fortress. There were a great number of ships in the harbor and Bache reported the arrival of another emigrant ship, presumably on its way to America. After the captain cast anchor, the wind changed and the Johanna lay quietly throughout the night.

On Sunday, June 11th, Captain Mensing sailed at 10 a.m. because the wind was now from the north. A great many ships were setting off in the same direction and Bache reported that it was thrilling to watch them racing with each other, using every bit of sail they had. The Johanna passed almost all of them, only a few being able to keep pace. On Monday morning, June 12th, the ship passed the high cliffs of the Isle of Wight and in the afternoon, Start Point, seven miles southwest of Dartmouth, England. At 3:30 a.m. on the morning of June 13th, the Johanna passed Lizard Head southwest of Falmouth, the last land that Martin and his mother would see before reaching America. The wind had been very favorable the last few days.

Probably the most memorable part of this portion of the voyage for Martin and his mother occurred on Thursday evening, June 29th. Between 9 and 10 p.m. after most of the steerage passengers had gone to bed, Bache reported that suddenly Christopher Jagsland’s wife, 37-year old Gunhild Torgersdatter, came running to the steps of the captain’s cabin yelling that the passenger’s galley was on fire. The captain and Bache rushed to the door as Mrs. Jagsland came tumbling down the stairs still yelling. After Bache translated for Munsing what the woman was saying, the captain cleared the stairs in a few jumps. Fortunately, the fire was insignificant but it caused a great deal of excitement. Mrs. Jagsland had bolted out of bed too excited to put on any additional clothing, while another passenger, Ole Larsen Gomperud, a 50-year old carpenter from Drammen, had jumped right out of bed and made for the ship’s pump. During that night the weather was rough.

At 5 a.m, the morning of July 20th almost two months since sailing from Norway, the passengers caught their first glimpse of America. The weather was good with just enough wind for fair sailing. About noon the ship passed Sandy Hook with its many lighthouses and soon reached the quarantine station at Staten Island, but it was almost 5 p.m. before the captain cast anchor. A doctor and two customs officials came aboard to examine the passengers and inspect the cargo. Fortunately all the passengers were found to be in good health.

The official arrival date in New York is given as July 22, 1843. Bache arranged for the first part of the trip west. An adult ticket to Buffalo was to cost $1.75. A hundred pounds of luggage could be carried free up the Hudson River but only fifty pounds on the Erie Canal. There would be an extra charge of sixty cents per hundred pounds overweight.
Children under twelve years of age were to travel for half fare while those under three could travel free. Martin and his mother arrived in Buffalo with the main group of emigrants on August 2nd. Several of the men had gone ahead by train to arrange for the cheapest passage possible across the lakes to Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Contrary to Bache’s advice to them to take a steamboat at $5.50 per adult with luggage free, the group opted to pay $2.00 per adult with luggage free and go on a sailing ship. Bache knew that if they were extremely lucky the sailing ship would make Milwaukee in two weeks, but if it was stormy, as it frequently is on the lakes, they would not get to Milwaukee in less than three or four weeks. Bache arrived in Milwaukee on August 6th after four days on the lakes. The rest of the party that came by sailing vessel arrived in Milwaukee on August 19th. Most of the group had become very tired of the extra thirteen days that they had taken and wished they had taken the steamer instead. As Bache stated in his diary, But so it goes when people ignorant even of the language of a country are too opinionated to listen to advice.

At this time I have no information on how Martin spent his next 7 years. Many of the new immigrants died in the next two years. His mother probably died within this seven year period. In 1850, Martin and his brother, Hans, were living with their uncle, Even Hansen Heg, in Norway Township, Racine County, Wisconsin. I have been unable to locate Marthe in the 1850 census.

Martin was married in 1853 in Muskego, Racine County, Wisconsin to Hage Saavesdtr. Hage (Hannah), the dau of Saave Gunderson (see) Epestoel and Aasne (Esther) Olsdatter, was born on August 16, 1825 in Vinje Parish, Telemark County, Norway. She emigrated with her parents in 1843 on the Lorena. Naeseth gives a date of 1841 in the record of Martin and Marthe’s emigration. However, the only record of her emigration appears in 1843. Unfortunately, only her father’s name is given, followed by 5 blank spaces (Naeseth, Norwegian Immigrants to the United States, a Biographical Directory, 1825-1850, vol. 1, 1825-1843, pp. 206, 219).

In about 1856, they settled on a 150 acre farm in Plymouth Township. Hage's parents and brother, Henry, lived in a second house on the farm. In 1860, Martin had $200 in real property and $100 in personal property. He owned a team of oxen, four cows, and some hogs. The previous year he had raised 167 bushels of wheat, corn, and oats. The family had produced about 300 pounds of butter. Martin died between 1867-69 while taking a load of apples to Necedah. Another family story claims that Martin had killed an Indian and that he disappeared after the Indians had inquired about him.

Hannah Wood, 45, b Norway, keeping house, $600 in real estate and $300 in personal property, is listed as head of household # 919 in the 1870 census for Plymouth Township, Juneau County, Wisconsin with Martha, 16, b. WI, attended school, Sophia, 14, b. WI, attended school, Sarah, 11, b. WI, attended school, Mary, 11, b. WI, attended school, Martin, 7, b. WI, Hans, 7, b. WI, James, 3, b. WI, and Ester Gunderson, 65, b. Norway. Their post office was in Elroy, WI. The were two sets of twins. The census was enumerated on July 8, 1870.

Their daughters, Anna and Siri used the farm name, Skonen, when they were confirmed in 1874. Hage appears in the 1875, 1880, 1900, and 1910 censuses for Plymouth Township. In 1880, Hannah Wood’s occupation is listed as farmer and keeping house. She was living with 2 daus, 3 sons, and her mother, Esther Gunderson.
Hannah died on March 9, 1912 in Juneau County and was buried in the East Lemonweir Cemetery on March 13, 1912 (JCGS Cem Bk 3, p. 241; obit, New Lisbon, Mar 1912; Naeseth, Nor Immigrants to the US, v. 1, pp. 223, 229; Ancestry.com; US Cen, 1880, Plymouth, Vesterheim nos. 44246-53).

Wood, Martin Christianson Skonen (Skoven) s of Christian Larsen Skogen (see) and Marthe

Hansdtr. Skoven. Martin was born on July 17, 1820 in Rygge Township, Oestfold County, Norway. Oestfold is located on the eastside of Oslofjord. Skonen, Skoven or Skogen is a farm name meaning “wood”. Martin and his mother, Marthe, emigrated from Drammen in 1843. Marthe’s brother, Even Hansen Heg (see), had emigrated in 1840 and no doubt this was the reason that Martin and Marthe were emigrating. The story of the voyage was recorded by Soeren Bache in his diary which was translated by Clarence A. Clausen and Andreas Elviken and published in 1951 by the Norwegian-American Historical Association as a book entitled, A Chronicle of Old Muskego: The Diary of Soren Bache, 1839-1847, pages 74-87.

Martin and Marthe boarded the bark, Johanna, on the evening of May 22nd and about four o’clock in the morning the captain weighed anchor and they began their journey. The captain was Lyder Mensing. Both the ship and the captain were from Bremen, Germany. There were 5 cabin passengers, 34 steerage passengers with board, and 84 steerage passengers without board for a total of 123. Martin and Marthe each paid the 28 specie dollars each for steerage with board. Steerage without board cost 20 specie dollars for each adult.
Since there was no wind, by eight a.m., the ship had sailed no further than Svelvik, a town along the Drammenfjord. There the captain cast anchor, being unable to make any headway in the channel. Many of the passengers spent their time on deck with telescopes trying to get a good view of the countryside and the mountains along the fjord. Although there was no wind, Casper Krogh, a gunsmith, managed to lose his hat.

The Johanna got underway on May 24 about 4:30 am. The ship passed Roedtangen and entered the Christianiafjord (Oslofjord) about noon, making very slow progress because of poor wind conditions. At Holmstrand in Vestfold County, the passengers saw the Prince Carl touching at the pier. The weather was fine and the ship’s speed so leisurely, the passengers had ample opportunity to watch the beautiful scenery along the fjord. Martin and his mother were probably aware that Rygge Township and their many friends and relatives lay just to the east of them as the Johanna sailed south through the Oslofjord. The fjord narrows to about 5 miles wide at this point. On May 25th, Ascension Day, the ship passed the Faerder lighthouse between 9 and 10 a.m. and the captain dropped off their pilot. At this the point, they began to sail west along the southern coast of Norway. The weather started out with a clear sky except for a few pale clouds on the southern horizon, but by late afternoon most of the sky was overcast. On May 26th, they had a favorable wind enabling them to pass Kristiansand at 9 a.m. and Mandal some two hours later. About 3 p.m., they passed Lindesnes lighthouse, the southernmost point of Norway and the real voyage began.

The ship started sailing in a northwesterly direction since Captain Mensing intended to go north of Scotland. However, by Sunday, May 28th, the captain decided to change course and pass through the English Channel because of a heavy storm with rain and hail. In the afternoon the weather improved, and the wind was favorable for the new course. Late in the afternoon of June 1st land was sighted at Yarmouth, England. Through their telescopes the passengers saw several towers, one being particularly prominent because of its great height. Soon a pilot from Yarmouth came aboard, and in reply to their questions informed them that what they took to be a tower was Admiral Nelson’s monument. The captain gave the pilot a brief note to be inserted in the local newspaper to let their friends and relatives in Norway know how they were faring. June 4th was Whitsunday, and they enjoyed the finest weather imaginable. But in spite of the fact that there was little wind and the ship glided smoothly across the surface of the water, there was some seasickness aboard, though not as much as in the case of rough weather. No doubt Martin and his mother, farmer folk, suffered along with the rest. Steamboats were plowing their way toward the mainland, creating a lively scene. The sailors put on neat clothes for the day. Even though they were afloat on this holiday, Bache observed that the day was pleasant and here and there on the deck individuals were sitting with their books, absorbed in devotional reading. Whitsunday is the seventh Sunday and fiftieth day after Easter, observed as festival in commemoration of the descent of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentacost.

On June 5th as they approached the Strait of Dover, the weather was less beautiful and there were contrary winds. They saw the city of Deal, Englan, located on a plain with high hills in the background. Because of the head wind, the captain had to change course in order to enter the Channel. Sailing southwest awhile brought them in sight of Calais, France. Again they changed direction and they drew close to Dover, England. That night and in the forenoon of June 6th, the ship was forced back by the wind and the current. In the afternoon, however, the wind became more favorable and they finally entered the Channel.
after several days of trying. During the night of June 6th, the ship made considerable headway and on the afternoon of June 7th they passed Beachy Head. Bache observed that Beachy Head is about sixteen and a half leagues beyond South Foreland, located at the entrance of the Channel. Beachy Head lies about 285 feet above the surface of the water. Later in the afternoon, the ship passed the towns of Newhaven, Brighton, and New Shoreham, making good progress westward; and this continued through the night. Beginning on Thursday, June 8th, they lost headway because of the strong wind and current. By the afternoon of June 10th, having lost most of the progress made on June 7th, Captain Mensing decided to put into port at Dungeness about 20 miles west of Dover. Bache described the town as situated on a low, level plain, close by was a high, round lighthouse painted in order to serve as a landmark during the daytime. Behind the town was an edifice that appeared to be a fortress. There were a great number of ships in the harbor and Bache reported the arrival of another emigrant ship, presumably on its way to America. After the captain cast anchor, the wind changed and the Johanna lay quietly throughout the night.

On Sunday, June 11th, Captain Mensing sailed at 10 a.m. because the wind was now from the north. A great many ships were setting off in the same direction and Bache reported that it was thrilling to watch them racing with each other, using every bit of sail they had. The Johanna passed almost all of them, only a few being able to keep pace. On Monday morning, June 12th, the ship passed the high cliffs of the Isle of Wight and in the afternoon, Start Point, seven miles southwest of Dartmouth, England. At 3:30 a.m. on the morning of June 13th, the Johanna passed Lizard Head southwest of Falmouth, the last land that Martin and his mother would see before reaching America. The wind had been very favorable the last few days.

Probably the most memorable part of this portion of the voyage for Martin and his mother occurred on Thursday evening, June 29th. Between 9 and 10 p.m. after most of the steerage passengers had gone to bed, Bache reported that suddenly Christopher Jagsland’s wife, 37-year old Gunhild Torgersdatter, came running to the steps of the captain’s cabin yelling that the passenger’s galley was on fire. The captain and Bache rushed to the door as Mrs. Jagsland came tumbling down the stairs still yelling. After Bache translated for Munsing what the woman was saying, the captain cleared the stairs in a few jumps. Fortunately, the fire was insignificant but it caused a great deal of excitement. Mrs. Jagsland had bolted out of bed too excited to put on any additional clothing, while another passenger, Ole Larsen Gomperud, a 50-year old carpenter from Drammen, had jumped right out of bed and made for the ship’s pump. During that night the weather was rough.

At 5 a.m, the morning of July 20th almost two months since sailing from Norway, the passengers caught their first glimpse of America. The weather was good with just enough wind for fair sailing. About noon the ship passed Sandy Hook with its many lighthouses and soon reached the quarantine station at Staten Island, but it was almost 5 p.m. before the captain cast anchor. A doctor and two customs officials came aboard to examine the passengers and inspect the cargo. Fortunately all the passengers were found to be in good health.

The official arrival date in New York is given as July 22, 1843. Bache arranged for the first part of the trip west. An adult ticket to Buffalo was to cost $1.75. A hundred pounds of luggage could be carried free up the Hudson Rive but only fifty pounds on the Erie Canal. There would be an extra charge of sixty cents per hundred pounds overweight.
Children under twelve years of age were to travel for half fare while those under three could travel free. Martin and his mother arrived in Buffalo with the main group of emigrants on August 2nd. Several of the men had gone ahead by train to arrange for the cheapest passage possible across the lakes to Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Contrary to Bache’s advice to them to take a steamboat at $5.50 per adult with luggage free, the group opted to pay $2.00 per adult with luggage free and go on a sailing ship. Bache knew that if they were extremely lucky the sailing ship would make Milwaukee in two weeks, but if it was stormy, as it frequently is on the lakes, they would not get to Milwaukee in less than three or four weeks. Bache arrived in Milwaukee on August 6th after four days on the lakes. The rest of the party that came by sailing vessel arrived in Milwaukee on August 19th. Most of the group had become very tired of the extra thirteen days that they had taken and wished they had taken the steamer instead. As Bache stated in his diary, But so it goes when people ignorant even of the language of a country are too opinionated to listen to advice.
