Editorial ........................................................................................................ v

On Epistemology of Missiological Research ............................................. 1
Petr Činčala

Ethnographic Action Research in Missiological Research Design:
A Pilot Proposal ........................................................................................ 9
EP

An Exploration of the Relationship between Strategy and Structure to the Work of Starting and Supporting Church Planting Movements .............................................21
Laurence Burn

Proposed Research Instrument for Establishing a Baseline Measurement of Buddhist Background Believers .................................39
Gregory Whitsett

An Aging Church in an Aging Society: Averting a Possible Grim
Future for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Russia ................. 59
Yuri Drumi

Family Resilience in Displacement: Defining Validity and Reliability in a Hermeneutic Phenomenology Inquiry ......................85
Regine Rimarzik

The Seventh-day Adventist Church and “Growing in Christ”:
From Ecclesiological Awareness to Missiological Engagement ..........119
Michee Bade

The Concept of Social Justice in the Social Sciences, in the Bible, and in Adventism.................................................................132
Michelet William
Window Shopping and Turf Control ................................................................. 153
W. Milton Adams

Dissertation Abstract
A Study of the Pokot Cultural Worldview: Missiological Implications for Seventh-day Adventist Witness Among the Pastoral Nomads of Kenya ................................................................. 159
Haron Nyamweya Matwetwe