

Band & Keyboard Festival Concert

On Saturday, March 2, 2019, at 4 p.m.

Campus News | Posted on February 21, 2019

(Photo by Heidi Ramirez)

By: Byron Graves, assistant professor, Department of Music

On Saturday, March 2, 2019, at 4 p.m., the Andrews University Band & Keyboard Festival Concert will be held in the Howard Performing Arts Center on the campus of Andrews University.

The Andrews University Band & Keyboard Festival will include nearly 100 academy students from four states and Canada. The festival band will be directed by Byron Graves and will perform “Sacred Suite” by Brant Karrick, “Simple Gifts” by Frank Ticheli, “Canterbury Chorale” by Jan van der Roost, “God of our Father” by Claude Smith and “Rejouissance” by James Curnow. The festival keyboard students have been under the direction of associate professor Chi Yong Yun and will also be performing a variety of selections.

Admission is free—no tickets are required. For more information, visit howard.andrews.edu or call the Howard Box Office at 269-471-3560.