

Teaching & Learning Conference

On Thursday, March 28, 2019

Campus News | Posted on March 20, 2019

previousnext

- Download: tlc_poster_20190128_8.5x14.pdf
- Download: tlc_poster_20190128_8\(2\).5x14.pdf

By: AUTLC Team

On Thursday, March 28, 2019, the Department of Teaching, Learning & Curriculum at Andrews University, in partnership with Berrien Springs Public Schools, will host its 17th annual conference.

The AUTLC invites proposals for scholarly work, posters and best practice demonstrations from University faculty, PreK–12 teachers, graduate and undergraduate students, and other education professionals. This year's conference theme is "Creating Communities of Learning: Connecting, Engaging, Belonging."

On-site or online presentations of scholarly work will allow educators to share reports of significant work or integrative reviews in theory, research, development, applications and societal issues related to all aspects of education. Best practices session presenters will discuss and demonstrate strategies, techniques or solutions to common issues in education. Individuals and groups can submit proposals.

All events of the AUTLC are free of charge and will be held in Chan Shun Hall and Bell Hall on the Andrews University campus.

The keynote speakers this year are Gunnar Lovhoiden, recipient of the 2018 Andrews University Daniel Augsburg Excellence in Teaching Award, and Frank Tuit , senior advisor to the chancellor and provost on Diversity and Inclusion, University of Denver.

Learn more on Digital Commons at digitalcommons.andrews.edu/autlc/2019/. Registration is available online at digitalcommons.andrews.edu/autlc/registration-2019.html