Managing Time

Teach us to number our days aright that we may gain a heart of wisdom

Psalm 90:12
The prayer is, that God would enable us to form such an estimate of life, that we shall be truly wise; that we may be able to act “as if” we saw the whole of life, or as we should do if we saw its end.
If anyone knew when, and where, and how he was to die, it might be presumed that this would exert an important influence on him in forming his plans, and on his general manner of life.

The prayer is, that God would enable us to act “as if” we had such a view.

Barnes, “Notes on the Bible”
Hot-climate cultures:

- Asia
- Pacific Islands
- South America (except Argentina)
- Africa
- Mediterranean countries
- Middle East
- Southern United States
Culture and Time

Cold-climate cultures:

- Canada
- Northern United States
- Northern Europe
- Countries settled by Northern Europeans, such as Israel, New Zealand, and Australia
Culture and Time

Cold-climate cultures:

- Influenced by the Industrial Revolution
- Live by the clock
- Time is used to make money
- Efficiency is essential
- It is rude to waste other people’s time
Hot-climate cultures:

Influenced by agriculture
Relationships and human transactions are more important than time
It is rude to cut conversations short
Cold-climate cultures use time to make money, which feeds their own greed and fails to build human relationships.

Hot-climate cultures use time to engage in whatever is happening at the moment, whether or not it is either important or essential to life.
Neither cultural view of time is based on Scripture.

Neither cultural view helps us remember to “Number our days aright that we may gain a heart of wisdom.”

Not Important

(Delgate)

- Interactions, some calls
- Distractions
- Some mails & reports
- Some meetings
Visitors:

Greatest killer of time is other people stealing it.
Take command of the visit:

Identify the purpose of the visit
Don’t get trapped in small talk
Signal the end: “One more thing before you go..”
Telephone Management:

Organize your thoughts before placing the call
Keep phone log and notes if necessary
Use Caller ID/Personal Assistant to screen calls
Urgent But Not Important

Limit phone tag: Leave a message stating what you need to know

To end the conversation: “One last point before we hang up...”
Talk does not cook rice.

Chinese proverb
Urgent But Not Important

The Tyranny of Email:

Very distracting; discipline is required
Be decisive—reply, file, delete
Urgent But Not Important

When sending messages:

- Be brief
- Be simple
- Be clear
- Be prompt
- Be careful
Meetings:

Planning the meeting:
- Is the meeting necessary?
- Who needs to attend?
- Consider routine scheduling; easier to cancel meetings than to call them
Urgent But Not Important

At the time of the meeting:

- Start on schedule
- State the purpose succinctly
- Advance preparation cuts time required
- Get to the point; use a printed agenda
- Focus discussion
Urgent But Not Important

- Have equipment ready in advance of meeting
- In general: Discuss most important item first
- Establish cell phone etiquette
- Make each meeting unique
- Reward truth-telling
- Begin and end on a positive note
- Recap decisions so all know the next steps
Urgent But Not Important

After the meeting:

Create minutes as soon as possible
Counsel from EGW

It is the duty of every Christian to acquire habits of order, thoroughness, and dispatch. There is no excuse for slow bungling at work of any character. When one is always at work and the work is never done, it is because mind and heart are not put into the labor. The one who is slow and who works at a disadvantage should use the time so as to secure the best results.
By tact and method, some will accomplish as much in five hours as others do in ten. . . But all who will, may overcome these fussy, lingering habits. In their work let them have a definite aim. Decide how long a time is required for a given task, and then bend every effort toward accomplishing the work in the given time. The exercise of the will power make the hands move deftly.

Christ’s Object Lessons, page 344
In truth, people can generally make time for what they choose to do; it is not really the time but the will that is lacking.

Energy Management Quiz

For Body Energy:

I don’t regularly get at least 7-8 hours of sleep, and I often wake up feeling tired.

I frequently skip breakfast, or I settle for something that is not nutritious.

I don’t enough physical exercise.

I don’t take regular breaks during the day to truly renew and recharge; I often eat at my desk or skip meals.
For Emotional Energy:

I frequently find myself feeling irritable, impatient, or anxious at work, especially when work is demanding.

I don’t have enough time with my family and loved ones; and when with them I am not always really with them.

I have too little time for the activities that I enjoy most deeply.

I don’t stop frequently enough to express my appreciation to others or savor my blessings.
Energy Management Quiz

For Mind Energy:

I have difficulty focusing on one thing at a time; I am easily distracted during the day.

I spend much of my day reacting to immediate crises and demands rather than on tasks with more value.

I don’t take enough time for reflection, strategizing, and creative thinking.

I work in the evenings or weekends; I never take a vacation.
For Spiritual Energy:

I don’t spend enough time doing what I do best and enjoy most.

My devotional time is often compromised by busyness.

There are significant gaps between what I say is most important to me and how I actually spend my time.
For Spiritual Energy Continued:

My decisions at work are more influenced by external demands than by a strong sense of my own purpose.

I don’t invest enough time and energy in making a positive difference to others or to the world.

Energy Management Quiz

Count the number of checked statements in each category.

Do you need to strengthen your body energy?

Your emotions energy?

Your mind energy?

Your spiritual energy?
Our time belongs to God. Every moment is His, and we are under the most solemn obligation to improve it to His glory. Of no talent He has given will He require a more strict account than of our time.

Christ’s Object Lessons, page 342
Whatever the line of work in which we engage, the word of God teaches us to be ‘not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord.’ ‘Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might,’ ‘knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance; for ye serve the Lord Christ.’ Romans 12:11; Eccl. 9:10; Col. 3:24.
