

bulldog
FILMS

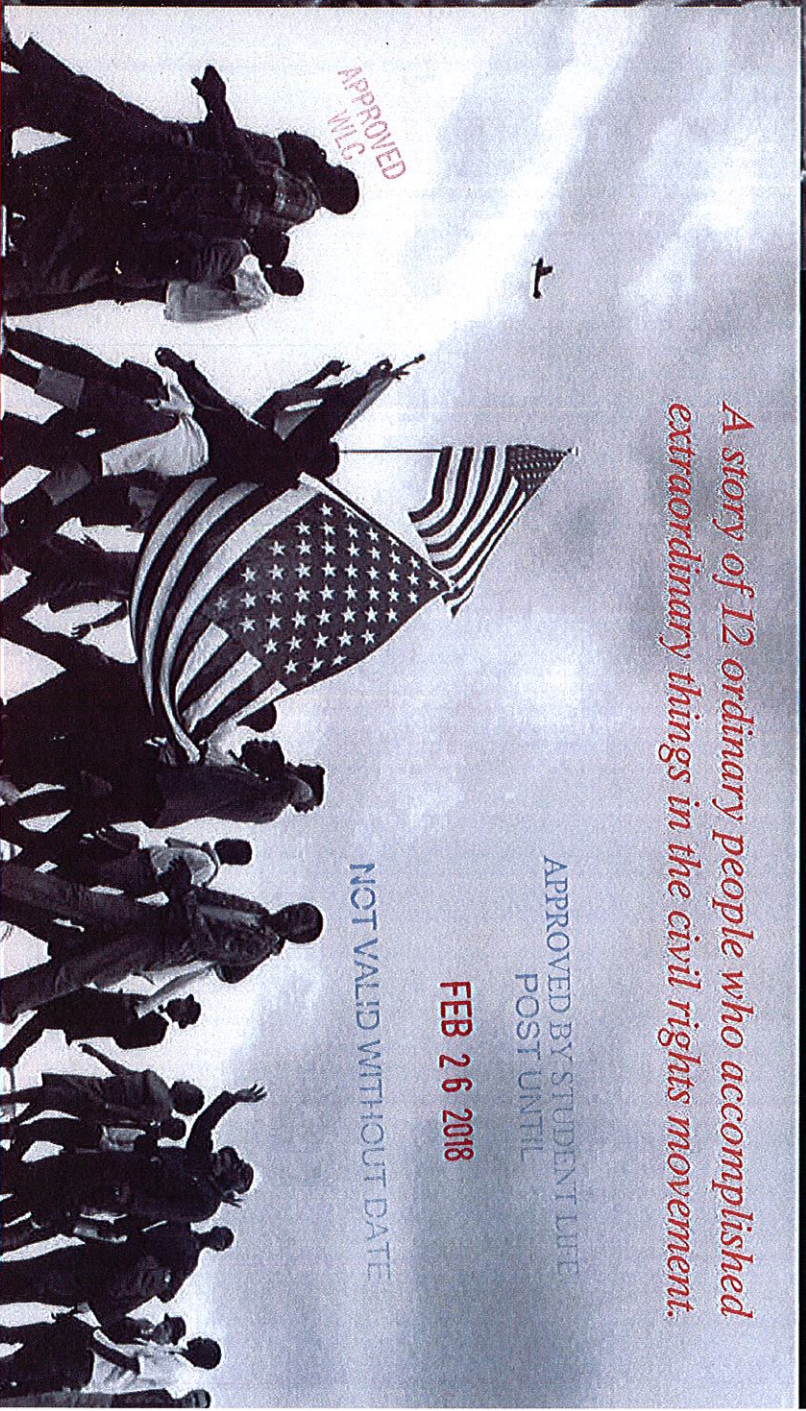

THE LONG WALK TO FREEDOM

A story of 12 ordinary people who accomplished extraordinary things in the civil rights movement.

APPROVED BY STUDENT LIFE
POST UNTIL

FEB 2 6 2018

NOT VALID WITHOUT DATE

CHANGING THE WORLD: THE NEXT STEP

© 1978 MATT HERRON/TAKE STOCK

Andrews University invites you to the viewing of “The Long Walk to Freedom,” followed by a panel discussion.

When: Monday, Feb. 26, 2018, 6 p.m.

Where: Garber Auditorium, Chan Shun Hall
4185 E Campus Circle Drive, Berrien Springs MI 49104

PANELISTS INCLUDE:

Andreo Luxton, president, Andrews University

Mike Ryan, district director for U.S. Congressman Fred Upton

Mike Hildebrand, supervisor, Oronoko Charter Township

Gwendolyn Moffitt, community engagement liaison, Michigan
Department of Civil Rights

Carmelo Mercado, general vice president/multicultural ministries coordinator, Lake Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists

Michael Nixon, vice president for Diversity & Inclusion,
Andrews University

Carole Woolford-Hunt, chair, Department of Graduate

Psychology & Counseling/Counseling Psychology program coordinator, Andrews University

Emanuel Brown, co-director/founder, African American History & Literature Gallery

Jeff Boyd, executive director, Adventist Peace Fellowship
Moderated by Mark Reid, president, Andrews University
Graduate Student Association

*Come join the discussion. Refreshments will be served.
Co-curricular credit available for all Andrews University students.*

Coordinated by the Education Subcommittee of the Andrews University Community Engagement
Council and sponsored by the Andrews University James White Library