

Remembering Dan Augsburger

I was saddened to read of the death of Dr Augsburger and appreciated the Life Story in Focus. In the mid-60's I took several classes from him--(French, a class on the Synoptic Gospels).

He usually wore a blue suit coat with brown suit pants (or vice versa) and we students wondered whether he was color-blind, or whether this was Swiss fashion. He inevitably leaned on the chalk-filled blackboard getting chalk all over his back. His wife must have despaired about the condition of those coats.

He was an excellent teacher and his classes were interesting and worth attending. In class he was obviously brilliant, always energetic, unfailingly cheerful, ever kind. He certainly merited the teaching awards he received.
