The Andrews University Department of Leadership invites all to attend a special workshop on creativity and innovation. This graduate level micro-course runs from Wednesday, June 29, to Friday, July 1. Though the course is open to the public, anyone wishing to attend must register and pay for the course. Cost is $1,139 for one master’s level credit; $1,306 for doctoral level; $600 for non-academic credit.

“Creativity & Innovation” will be facilitated by Jay Brand, professor of leadership and higher education and director of higher education programs at Andrews University; Randy Siebold, associate professor of leadership and higher education; and Karen Tilstra, director of the Florida Hospital Innovation Lab in Orlando.

This dynamic presentation is ideal for professionals, leaders, employees and students interested in increasing their creativity.

Course hours are:

Wednesday, June 29, 2-6 p.m.

Thursday, June 30, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Friday, July 1, 9 a.m.-1 p.m.
All workshop events will take place in the Whirlpool Room of Chan Shun Hall on the campus of Andrews University. For more information or to register, email leader@andrews.edu or call 269-471-6580.
