

Call for Papers

Fourteenth Annual Celebration of Research and Creative Scholarship

October 20, 2023, 12:30 - 4:00 p.m.

Buller Hall, Andrews University

The Office of Research and Creative Scholarship at Andrews University is pleased to announce the Call for Papers for the Fourteenth Annual Celebration of Research and Creative Scholarship. The Celebration of Research is an opportunity for faculty and students to showcase their research and for faculty members to connect with students who may be interested in future collaboration.

Faculty are invited to present results from current studies or to share plans for future research. You may choose to give a poster (preferred) or an oral presentation during a breakout session.

Graduate Students are invited to present results of their studies. Presentations are expected from recipients of Graduate Research Assistantships or the Graduate Grant in aid of Research, as well as from students whose work has been accepted for presentation at an off-campus conference.

Undergraduate students who participated in off-campus summer research experiences or internships are expected to present the results of their summer work. Also expected to present are research students who are graduating in December and will not be on campus for the 2023 Honors Scholar and Undergraduate Research Poster Symposium.

Undergraduate students are invited to explore research collaboration opportunities with faculty. Co-curricular credit will be available.

The Celebration of Research will be held in Buller Hall. The schedule will be as follows:

12:30-2:00 Plenary Session. Doctoral students will present their “3-minute thesis.” Plenary addresses to be given by the 2023 recipients of the Siegfried H. Horn Excellence in Research and Creative Scholarship Award.

2:00-3:00 Poster Session. Refreshments will be served.

3:00-4:00 Oral Breakout Sessions.

Abstracts are due Monday, October 2, 2023.

Instructions for Abstract submission:

Please submit your abstract through Digital Commons, using the following steps. For assistance, email research@andrews.edu.

1. Open the Celebration of Research & Creative Scholarship page in Digital Commons:
<https://digitalcommons.andrews.edu/cor/2023/>
2. Click “Submit Abstract” (bottom of sidebar on left-hand side).
3. Log in or create a new account (the account is free).
4. Read the submission instructions and click “Accept.”

5. Enter your information into the form on the screen.
 - a. Presentation Title: Your presentation title is entered here as you wish it to appear in the program.
 - b. Presenter Information: Please also include co-authors (if applicable) and their institutions.
 - c. Presenter Status: This is your title/position and department, along with the title and department of any co-authors.
 - d. Preferred Session: Indicate if you plan to give an oral presentation or a poster presentation.
 - e. Discipline(s): Select categories that best fit your presentation topic.
 - f. Abstract: Format your abstract text in Microsoft Word and enter it in the box.
 - g. Acknowledgments: List any sources of funding (internal or external) or research scholarships/assistantships received by the authors for this work, as well as the IRB approval number (if applicable).
 - h. Full Text of Presentation: This is not required, but you may upload a document (e.g., MS Word or PowerPoint as PDF) if you wish.
6. Submit the event.
7. The Office of Research will review your submission and notify you of your poster number or oral presentation time and location.